Arizona management company poised for changes

By PETER BLAIS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — A new name and a new mission. The Masters Group, a Scottsdale-based course management firm, has changed its name to MorningStar Golf International. MorningStar currently operates Great Eagle Golf Club in Surprise and Prescott Golf & Country Club in Prescott. The company hopes to add five courses to its portfolio in the next 12 months, according to Vice President Robert Berkman.

“We’re positioning the company to expand and acquire new properties, and we’re in the process of doing an equity raise,” said MGI President Doug Remy, who predicted rapid and strong growth for the 5-year-old firm.

The new equity will allow MorningStar to focus its expansion efforts on underperforming, mid-tier courses, i.e. green fees between $25 to $60.

“We want to provide good, consistent service at the mid-tier,” Berkman said. “Figuring out how to do it with the right economics is where we think there is some opportunity. You need to buy the courses at the right price with the right demographics around it. The service component, if done correctly, can really change and maximize the economics of the golf course.”

In addition to Great Eagle and Prescott, MGI also managed the Mountain View Golf Club for Arthur Anderson & Co. as court-appointed trustee, and provided consulting services for the San Marcos Golf & Country Club.

Continued on page 28

Private club launched in Mich. resort area

By PETER BLAIS

OSCOMPOM, Mich. — Developers of a private country club community centered around a Tom Weiskopf-designed 18-hole course opening this summer are hoping to attract Detroit-area executives and professionals interested in purchasing second homes at the gateway to Northern Michigan’s recreational playground.

Tom Barrett, Jerry Petersen and Payne Palmer have developed second-home, master-planned communities in Scottsdale, Ariz. (Desert Highlands and Troon Golf & Country Club), Payson, Ariz. (Chaparral Pines and The Rim), Seattle (McCormick Woods) and Scotland (Loch Lomond).

Forest Dunes represents their first effort in a Snow Belt area.

“You really have to think about developing amenities like ice skating, and being able to change over the pro shop to cross-country skiing and snowshoeing,” Barrett said of the new venue. “We’ll have buses bringing kids skiing at Boyne Mountain on Saturdays and Sundays. We need to promote other forms of recreation at a four-season resort.

“Golf runs from May through mid-October. We’re so far north and west in the time zone that most of the summer you can tee off at 5:30 p.m. and still get in 18 holes.”

The lot sale program, which is similar to ones the developers have used else-

Continued on page 28

Kemper Sports to operate California’s Black Gold course

NORTH BROOK, Ill. — Kemper Sports Management has signed a long-term agreement with the city of Yorba Linda, Calif., to manage Black Gold Golf Club, an 18-hole daily-fee course scheduled to open in November 2000. Kemper will act as development consultant during the construction phase and assume management upon opening.

Located 10 miles northwest of Disneyland in Orange County, Black Gold Golf Club will feature a lighted driving range, putting green and 12,000-square-foot clubhouse.

Architect Arthur Hills designed Black Gold on 225 acres of a former oil field that has been in production for Shell Oil Company since the 1930s. Hills paid special attention to the environment in his design as has planned to restore and integrate more than 60 acres of habitat for the native threatened bird, the gnatcatcher. Several active oil pumps will remain on the property.

Black Gold Golf Club is part of the city of Yorba Linda’s Vista del Verde, a master-planned community that will convert 1,100 acres of the former oil field into a high-end residential development that will include 1,100 single-family homes, an elementary school, 10 miles of pedestrian and equestrian trails and two five-acre parks.

Continued on page 29

Nonco adds Calif. chapter

MONTEREY, Calif. — A new chapter of the National Golf Course Owners Association has been formed in California. Based in Monterey, the California Golf Course Owners Association (CGCOA) will be headed by President Paul Porter, president and chief executive officer of Poppy Hills Golf Course and Poppy Ridge Golf Course.

Linkscorp acquires two

NORTHFIELD, Ill. — Linkscorp has purchased a pair of courses, Harbor View Golf Club in Suffolk, Va., and Willow Creek Golf Club in Greer, S.C. Tom Doak-designed Harbor View is scheduled to open this summer. Willow Creek is a Tom Jackson design that opened in 1995.

Environmental golf adds one, promotes another

CALABASAS, Calif. — Environmental Golf has added Paula Meeker to its business development team and named Dan Harper operations manager for course construction. In her new position, Meeker will seek to increase Environmental Golf’s overall golf maintenance and management business. She formerly worked as dig golf maintenance and management project manager overseeing purchasing and estimating for several projects. His new duties make him responsible for overall management of all golf course development and construction.

Forbes re-elected NCA president

WASHINGTON — Charles Forbes was re-elected president of the National Club Association at the organization’s recent annual meeting. Forbes is a former partner with the Los Angeles law firm Musick, Peeler & Garrett; a past president of the California Club; and president of the California State Club Association. Also re-elected as officers were J. Bryan Williams, vice president; Frank Stover, treasurer; and Robert James, secretary.

NGCOA adds Calif. chapter

MONTEREY, Calif. — A new chapter of the National Golf Course Owners Association has been formed in California. Based in Monterey, the California Golf Course Owners Association (CGCOA) will be headed by President Paul Porter, president and chief executive officer of Poppy Hills Golf Course and Poppy Ridge Golf Course.

LinksCorp acquires two

NORTHFIELD, Ill. — Linkscorp has purchased a pair of courses, Harbor View Golf Club in Suffolk, Va., and Willow Creek Golf Club in Greer, S.C. Tom Doak-designed Harbor View is scheduled to open this summer. Willow Creek is a Tom Jackson design that opened in 1995.

Environmental golf adds one, promotes another

CALABASAS, Calif. — Environmental Golf has added Paula Meeker to its business development team and named Dan Harper operations manager for course construction. In her new position, Meeker will seek to increase Environmental Golf’s overall golf maintenance and management business. She formerly worked as dig golf maintenance and management project manager overseeing purchasing and estimating for several projects. His new duties make him responsible for overall management of all golf course development and construction.

Forbes re-elected NCA president

WASHINGTON — Charles Forbes was re-elected president of the National Club Association at the organization’s recent annual meeting. Forbes is a former partner with the Los Angeles law firm Musick, Peeler & Garrett; a past president of the California Club; and president of the California State Club Association. Also re-elected as officers were J. Bryan Williams, vice president; Frank Stover, treasurer; and Robert James, secretary.

NGCOA adds Calif. chapter

MONTEREY, Calif. — A new chapter of the National Golf Course Owners Association has been formed in California. Based in Monterey, the California Golf Course Owners Association (CGCOA) will be headed by President Paul Porter, president and chief executive officer of Poppy Hills Golf Course and Poppy Ridge Golf Course.

LinksCorp acquires two

NORTHFIELD, Ill. — Linkscorp has purchased a pair of courses, Harbor View Golf Club in Suffolk, Va., and Willow Creek Golf Club in Greer, S.C. Tom Doak-designed Harbor View is scheduled to open this summer. Willow Creek is a Tom Jackson design that opened in 1995.
scheduled to open late this summer. Tom Fazio is the likely architect for the second 18-hole course, which could be..Continued on next page

New Standards for Turfgrass Excellence
P.O. Box 900
Alpharetta, Georgia 30239
(800) 621-5208
CIRCLE #124

These Are Not Your Run-of-the-mill Chelated Iron Sources.

Glucoheptonates—natural organic chelates—set MultiGreen II® and MaxiGreen II® apart from all the less effective micro-nutrient sources.

These natural sugars prevent the micro-nutrients such as iron, zinc, copper and manganese from reacting with the soil, and keep them available to the plant for maximum root uptake.

Additionally, these sugars affix to the feeder roots. Being negatively charged, they act as additional CEC (Cation Exchange Capacities) and attract the positively charged nutrient cations, including Potassium, Phosphate, Calcium and Magnesium. Then, these nutrients are held for root absorption.

At the same time, the glucoheptonates are consumed by soil microbes as feedstuffs, multiplying the microbe population with added benefits.

Some of our advantages are hidden, but the superior results aren't.

Continued on next page
CALIF. FIRM BROKERS SEVERAL DEALS
SAN DIEGO — The Golf & Resort Properties Group division of CB Richard Ellis recently brokered several transactions totaling more than $30 million. The division, headed by Jeffrey Woolson, represented State Street Bank & Trust Co. of California in selling Sycamore Canyon Golf Course in Arvin for $1.6 million to Golf Course Management Representing U.S. Golf Inc. (ClubCorp).
Woolson also brokered the sale of six municipal courses and one sports center in Philadelphia to Meadowbrook Golf. Woolson also arranged the sale of The International Golf Club in Boston for $25 million and land at PGA West in La Quinta, Calif.

MorningStar
Continued from previous page
According to Golf Course News figures, there are at least 71 Arizona courses operated by management companies and other multi-course operators. "There are still courses to be acquired," Berkman said. "There is a lot of competition, but this is still a great market."
Berkman described Great Eagle and Prescott as "fixer-uppers" when the firm bought them five years ago. "If you have a good business sense, you can turn projects like that around and get a cash flow to cover operational expenses," he said. "They really were neglected assets without short- or long-term capital plans in place. We've done all that and been able to turn around the economics of those two assets."
MorningStar is looking beyond Phoenix at expansion plans that include acquisitions, leases and third-party management contracts.
"We're going to be a lot more opportunistic and less strategic with where we are going initially," Berkman said. "We're looking at deals across the country and even outside the country... We're putting together an equity raise, sort of a real-estate fund. The success of that will help."
"As you look at historical perspectives, we're due for a bit of a real-estate downturn and we want to be in a position to capitalize on that."
Two of MorningStar's principals, Remy (Wyndham Hotels & Resorts) and Berkman (Marriott and Carefree Resorts) come from hospitality backgrounds.
"Much of the golf business is 40 years behind the hospitality industry in terms of customer service," Berkman said.
The other two principals are

Forest Dunes
Continued from previous page
Crawford County made the project attractive to county residents and officials. The developers also affiliated themselves with Audubon International. Audubon has made several presentations on Forest Dunes' behalf.
The only environmental red flag was the development's location, a quarter mile from the south branch of the Au Sable River, home to some of the best trout fishing in the country. Trout Unlimited and The Sierra Club had some concerns about what effect a 1,000-home community with two golf courses might have on the aquifer, Barrett said.
Extensive hydrology studies helped ease those fears. Lakes are manmade and filled with well water.

'!Tis The Seasons For BlueChip.

Blue Chip isn't just the perfect bluegrass variety for spring, summer or fall. It's ideal for every season. Expect to see BlueChip as one of the first signs of spring and last colors of fall. But no matter what the season, you will spend less time, labor and money on BlueChip because of its excellent performance under low maintenance. A Five Steps Above™ variety, BlueChip 'tis a proven performer year round.