Simplot Turf and Horticulture set to expand nationwide

Golf Course News recently sat down with Wayne Burk, senior vice president and general manager of fertilizer products for Simplot Turf and Horticulture, to talk about how the rapid changes in the fertilizer industry are affecting Simplot’s business plan. Burk, who has been with Simplot for 18 years, lent perspective on how deals with Eco Soil Systems, Inc. and Parussell Technologies, Inc. (PTT) (see GCN March 2000) relate to the company’s aggressive growth strategy.

GCN: What is driving Simplot’s nationwide expansion?

Burk: The Simplot family and the top corporate management folks made this decision at the time they acquired Jacklin Seed Co. They saw an industry that a company the size of Simplot could play in. The turf and ornamental industry is attractive to us. We are basic in most of the raw materials, we have a pretty good foothold in the Western United States and the Pacific Rim. We see it as a business where we could leverage our brands and strengths and be a pretty sizable player.

GCN: What does PTT bring to the table?

Burk: They have the best controlled-release fertilizer technology in the world right now. Even though we are a major fertilizer manufacturer, we have never had a position in a controlled-release technology, so we came together to leverage their technological position with our marketing and manufacturing position.

GCN: So this is a way to fill gaps in your product line?

Burk: Absolutely. There are certain fertilizer market segments in which you just simply have to have this type of performance product to play in.

GCN: What do Eco Soil and Turf Partners offer?

Burk: Distribution, particularly in the East and Midwest. We had more or less announced our plans to expand to the east and we talked to the players in those markets. Eco Soil came to us and said they were interested in taking our products into those markets. They have 20 locations with 75 sales people so we started pursuing [an agreement].

GCN: Will you be making any other moves to fill holes in distribution?

Burk: Turf Partners is a core that we will be looking to add onto in those areas where we don’t have distributors to date. Recognizing that they don’t have branches and distribution in the Southeast and Southwest, we would have to add onto Turf Partners depending upon how the business is structured. Having said that, the Pursell agreement does not include the Southeast.

GCN: Are there plans to ramp up supply capabilities?

Lesco profits surge

CLEVELAND — LESCO, Inc. has reported that its net income for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1999 increased 98 percent to a record $11.6 million compared with $5.9 million in the same period last year.

Sales of fertilizers, turf-protection products and turfgrass seed combined for $385.4 million in sales accounting for 83.7 percent of total sales.

Commercial lawn care equipment and parts sales were $75 million, an increase of 14.6 percent compared with a year ago.

For the 12 months, comparable store sales increased about 8 percent over the same period a year ago.

“Throughout the year we focused our energies toward improving our profitability. We are particularly encouraged by the 190-basis-point increase in our operating margin to 4.9 percent in 1999 and believe our unique business model has begun to demonstrate its underlying profitability potential,” said William A. Foley, Lesco chairman, president and chief executive officer. “We are encouraged by our progress and remain focused on improving our return on capital. We look for continued improvement in our 2000 results.”

Lesco noted that positive factors for year-over-year profitability included improved sales mix, cost controls and improved performance at Commercial Turf Products, Ltd., its commercial equipment joint venture with MTD Products Inc.

ABT continues to sell as asset sale begins

By ANDREW OVERBECK

HENDERSON, Nev. — AgriBioTech (ABT) has secured an interim debtor-in-possession (DIP) credit facility with Bank of America, N.A. that should help the floundering seed company stay afloat as its assets are liquidated.

“The company is experiencing a cash-flow crisis, and needs the proposed DIP financing in order to make payroll and support its business operations,” said Bradley Sharp, a principal of Development Specialists, Inc. (DSI) the company’s court-appointed reorganization consultant.

Despite the fact that the company is in the process of selling its assets, Richard Hurley, director of ABT’s professional turf business unit, confirmed that the company is functioning, its brands are available and its employees are working and being paid.

“Everyone is being paid and the sales folks are obtaining orders,” said Bruce Jasurda, Tyler’s chief operating officer. “The opening of this facility represents our commitment to service specialty turf customers in the state. From this base of operation, we will be able to ensure on-time delivery and efficient local distribution of our custom-blended fertilizer products and services.”

Lesco’s financial results included the following:

Sales: $385.4 million in sales (83.7% of total sales)

Gross profit: $142.8 million (37% of sales)

Operating income: $75.4 million (19.5% of sales)
