Myrtle Beach named top golf destination worldwide

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. — The International Association of Golf Tour Operators (IAGTO) has named Myrtle Beach as the "established" golf destination of the year. Other nominees included the Algarve, Hilton Head, S.C., Ireland, Normandy (France), northeast Florida, Palm Springs, Calif., and Scotland.

IAGTO's 95 tour operators from 21 countries were asked to give a satisfaction rating of between one and 100 to each of the golf destinations. Criteria included customer satisfaction, support from suppliers, support from tourist boards, support from airlines, quality of golf courses and accommodations and accessibility to tee times.

"Myrtle Beach has stepped up to the plate by offering great customer service and southern hospitality," said Shane Sharp, editor of MyrtlebeachTravel.com and MyrtlebeachGolf.com. "We're happy to see the Grand Strand get this kind of recognition. We publish tourism sites and publications in 18 destinations and have always known that Myrtle Beach is a special place."

The award was accepted by Debra Hesla of Myrtle Beach Golf Holiday at the IAGTO annual conference on December 11 at the Times-Union Theater, in Jacksonville, Fla.

"We've been working really hard internationally to get new golfers," Hesla said. "Everyone needs new golfers with the golf industry being kind of flat. Globally, more money is spent on golf than any other sport. We have been working the market for the last 10 years, having booths at the British Open and also going to the trade shows for the tour operators. It was a big courses went on the block; it also pulled back. And Arnold Palmer Golf Management, with about 35 courses, also was put up for sale.

Acquisition market

Continued from previous page

"The two Oklahoma guys who won the bid for Palmer couldn't close it," Rhodes said. "They couldn't get the money together on the debt or equity side. It took them nine months and the deal finally fell apart.

Now Golf Trust of America (GTA), with 47 courses, is liquidating, and Rhodes said "I'm not sure they'll find buyers for everything. We've looked at some of the GTA properties, and so have other companies that still have some equity backing them for acquisitions. I know Eagle could buy if they wanted to, and so could Kemper. But everybody is waiting because prices are going down, so why not wait?"

The waiting game is on for Honours Golf, too. "We are well capitalized and are under no pressure to go out and invest the money in a certain time period," Barrett said. "We can sit back and wait for the best opportunities to come along. They will continue to come and may be even better over the next 18 months."

GOLF COURSE AS TROPHY WIFE

Below the large golf course management companies come the individual operators, where the action is unpredictable. "There are people who sell one course and buy another one," Rhodes said. "A lot of families have been in the business for years, buying and selling. When they go to build, they sign personally, and they are often conservative. They range from outstanding operators to your little pro in rural Georgia who's got a course.

"Your individual buyer is still out there," Rhodes added. "It might be the rich guy who has always loved the game and wants his own course. It's like the next Ferrari or trophy wife for him. But now, that guy is probably not as much there, either, because he's lost a lot of money over the last year in his stock portfolio. But to the extent he is there, he can buy."

GOLF COURSE NEWS

Rain Bird understands that renovation is a major commitment, and we want to be your complete renovation partner. Whether your goals include modernization, improved playability or the need to meet strict watering regulations, we can help you justify and implement a cost-efficient renovation package that's right for you.

Rain Bird products and services offer the unique ability to combine innovation with versatility. We know that your irrigation requirements change with time, so we ensure that our latest innovations will always be compatible with your existing Rain Bird system.

After the installation is complete, we'll be there to help you maintain the quality of your entire system—from central controls to sprinkler heads. Rain Bird knows that a successful renovation includes quality products, excellent service, and a complete commitment to our customers.

So choose Rain Bird, relax, and renovate with confidence. and Wekiva GC, a 6,640-yard track here in Longwood, DPC's headquarters.

According to Stottlemyre, the new division will operate nation-wide, seeking acquisition and management targets and providing services ranging from design and construction of new layouts to managing all golf and clubhouse operations at existing private or daily-fee facilities.

BURDETTE AND MARTEL

Burdette and Martell both have deep experience in the course management arena. Certified in golf operations and course maintenance, Burdette has directed land acquisition and development projects. He is a member of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America (GCSAA) and a retired Class A member of the PGA of America. A former vice president of agronomy and new construction for Granite Golf, he served as assistant superintendent at Grand Cypress Resort and as golf professional at Pinchurst. Martell, formerly director of marketing for Granite Golf, specializes in the development and execution of comprehensive golf course business plans and marketing strategies.

STRATEGIC GROWTH

According to White, the company plans to develop top-caliber golf properties in major league sports cities throughout the country. "We are a branded, sports-minded group," said White. "Tampa and Orlando are our anchors, and we will grow from there."

Any city with a franchise from the National Football League, the National Basketball Association, the National Hockey League or Major League Baseball appears to be fair game. The primary focus is to get to 30 or 35 courses, and 50 at the outside," White said. "Strategically, that might take five to 10 years, but our overall goal is to have a golf presence in every major league city."

White added that DPC's preference is to build courses rather than buy existing clubs. He hopes to forge partnerships with developers to help fund the projects. "The financial partnership will vary by relationship," he said. "Certainly there are some big builders doing creative arrangements. If they buy into the concept, there could be joint ventures under negotiable terms. It would allow us an entry into that market and develop a form of collateral for us."

SPORTS ATMOSPHERE

Accentuating the company's sports theme, it has trademarked its Box Seat Sports Bar and Grille. "We'll have one of these at each of our properties," White said. "They have sports memorabilia, including World Series trophies. Seven satellite feeds and 20 television monitors will show golf tournaments live around the world as well as any other sports you might want to watch."

White sees an opportunity for the company in tournament play. "A lot of athletes have charitable causes," he said. "One of our niches is charity tournaments, where we'll bring celebrity players out and hold auctions."

"The whole company has been well thought out," White added. "Right now it's just a matter of growing the concept."

DPC was formed four years ago by Stottlemyer and Florida PGA professional Gregg Gagliardi, the company's CEO. A number of current and former pro athletes are partners in DPC, including pitching greats Mel Stottlemyer Sr. and "Sudden Sam" McDowell. Steve Jones, a former U.S. Open winner now on the PGA Tour, is also on board.

Myrtle Beach top golf resort worldwide

Continued from page 47

thrill to come out on top, against Scotland and Ireland, the Algarve, and so on."

Since its inception in 1998, IAGTO has attracted nearly 300 operators and suppliers from 50 different countries. It is now recognized as the global trade association for the golf tourism industry.

"Every day, people from all over the world rave about how pleasant the merchants and the golf pros treat visitors," said Sharp. "Myrtle Beach is not just a golf destination but a family destination that offers something for everyone.""}

"Myrtle Beach is not just a golf destination but a family destination that offers something for everyone."

Score a HOLE IN ONE with a Classified Display Ad like this one in GOLF COURSE MARKETPLACE

Call for details... (207) 925-1099