A new superintendent facilitates a new irrigation system at the oldest 18-hole private golf course west of the Mississippi.

Effluent water is becoming a more common irrigation source.

Amendments contribute to water efficiency when they fit course conditions.

Superintendents downsize water consumption by upgrading efficiency.

Making History

It's Not a Dirty Word

Water Precisely

Photo: Toro