THE WHITEBOARD

A new tradition

GCI columnist and industry legend Dennis Lyon has been on the mend in recent months after suffering serious injuries as, while taking his faithful pooch Putter for a walk during the last holiday season, he was hit by a truck.

We’re thrilled that Dennis is expected to make a full recovery, even with the significant medical expenses that have built up. Fortunately, one of the perks of the golf industry is that a helping hand is never too far away.

As involved as Dennis has been with the Colorado Golf Association (as a past president, for starters), it’s no wonder they wanted to help him out. He, along with colleagues Ed Mate, director of the Colorado Golf Association; Gail Godbey, secretary and Bill Jewell, golf manager for the city of Lakewood, Colo., have run a “Tradition” tournament since 2004, in which some players wear turn-of-the-century golf attire and use a limited selection of clubs.

This year, the Tradition made a slight change, renamed in honor of Dennis Lyon, raising money to help him with medical expenses with a round at the Meadow Hills Golf Course in Aurora.

“We had 60 people participate,” says Anne Bley, director of finance for the CGA. “There were architects, superintendents – Dennis had touched us all in some way. He’s helped us so much over the years. He’s just the kind of guy you want to do something nice for.”

Besides just the players, his whole family showed up for the occasion, including his children and grandchildren. Dennis himself only played a few holes, since much of his time was spent catching up with people who had been cheering him on in his recovery.

“It was just wonderful to me,” he says. “There were so many colleagues and friends and family members that played.”

The tournament itself raised $5,000 in net proceeds, with an additional $5,000 provided by The Wee One Foundation. After the round, the players had lunch, including several of Dennis’s favorites like hamburgers and cole slaw, and visited.

“During lunch, some kind words were spoken by several people,” he says. “That just meant a lot to me.”

With this kind of backup, Dennis will be back to form in no time at all, we hope.

“I was so seriously injured, and people have just been so kind to me,” he says. “I know I’ll keep getting better.”

SAND SWAP AT MUIRFIELD

For the first time in its 121-year history, the Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers at Muirfield has sourced its bunker sand from outside the East Lothian grounds. In an historic move brought about by dwindling home-grown supplies, the club opted for a new, free-draining sand supplied by Hugh King & Co.

The venue began the significant sand-exchange program in March swapping materials in all 148 of its on-course bunkers and three practice bunkers.

“We have always used native sand,” said Colin Irvine, course manager at Muirfield. “Before we moved over to Hugh King’s sand, we quarried sand off the course but the supply was running out and we were beginning to get inconsistencies. It meant sand in some of the bunkers was blowing away while others weren’t draining as well as we liked, so we decided to do an exchange.”

The landmark swap was made 16 months ahead of the 16th running of the Open Championship at Muirfield. More importantly, the sand had to win over the support of the members of the renowned club.

“It had to be free-draining and it had to be the right colour,” Irvine explained. “We tried quite a few types of sand and worked with Hugh King to come up with a sand type that we liked and the members would like. In fact, a lot of people haven’t even noticed the change, which is great. As far as I am concerned, no news is good news.”
The Lighter Side of Turf is an online Twitter gathering of golf course superintendents who both talk turf and have fun. Greg Shaffer, superintendent at Elcona Country Club, took home an Innovative Use of Twitter award from GCI's 2012 Social Media Awards – but Andrew Hardy of Pheasant Run Golf Course is curious who all should get a piece of that prize.

Andrew Hardy @pheasantturft
Hey @gtshaffer you better rip that @GCIMagazine award and send it to @TWRyanHoward. He's a co-founder.

MAO @spartygrad95
Umm, I may not have FOUNDED it but let's all be honest... I AM THE AWARD.

Greg Shaffer @gtshaffer
Award was created to simply build your self esteem. Looks like it worked. #champ

Join the conversation on Twitter @GCIMagazine!