There’s enough in that lineup to prevent Satan finding mischief for the hands of the versatile Remple.

Think the dope we’re preaching about more attention to pro shop displays is the bunk? Carl Haecher, a hardware man at Waukegan, Ill., studied and monkeyed around with his displays and found that he sold more hammers, hatchets, screwdrivers, etc., when they were displayed with the handles toward the prospect. Mysterious and important, this display business. Wonder if putting the grip or the head toward the prospect in club display would have any effect on sales?

Manufacturers say this spring’s business for left-handed clubs is away ahead of anything they have hitherto experienced.

HICKORY—We have engaged in the manufacture of hickory products for the past twenty-six years, and can furnish pro-finished hickory golf shafts of the very finest quality.
