Percentage of kitchen to dining room area of the 11 representative clubs listed runs from 90 per cent at the Glen Echo C. C., St. Louis, to 34.2 per cent at Olympia Fields C. C., Chicago.

Factors that determine the kitchen design are given in helpful fashion, and there also is first-class concise coverage of the operating factors so a check-up can be made in advance of construction or alteration. Much is being said these days about the element of finality in golf course construction, and some progress is being made in this direction. However, on the food service end of a golf club's operations there has been very little general effort made toward determining layouts that will stand as installations that do not call for violent revision when a change of management is made. In this section of golf club work the preventable annual cost to golf clubs must run into a staggering total, according to our observation. The Pick-Barth field men probably are as conversant with this situation and methods of correcting it as any group in the country. Consequently their book shows an effort to determine kitchen plans that do not call for radical changes to line up with a new manager's ideas.

Joe Caro of Albert Pick-Barth Co., 1200 West 35th Street, Chicago, is the gentleman to whom requests for copies of this practical, free book should be addressed. The striving youths who are GOLFDOM'S publishers would appreciate it if inquirers for this book would mention this publication as a close second to the holy writ in influence and interest in the golf club field. Pick's and Canada Dry are the only two companies doing big business in the golf field that we haven't in the fold. They're great fellows, personally, and all that. BUT...

N. E. Toro Has New Catalog

NEW ENGLAND Toro Co., 247 Newtonville ave., Newton, Mass., has issued its annual catalog and as usual has made the book a first-class piece of reference and buying literature for the greenkeeper and green-chairman. The book describes and illustrates the complete Toro line of mowing machinery, tractors and other greenkeeping equipment and gives purchasing data on the fertilizers, fungicides, course accessories and other material which the company carries in its stock. A copy of the book will be sent free on request.
