dicated a 1934 season that will be many steps toward sound prosperity.

First day of the meeting was spent at the factory where salesmen had ample opportunity to become reacquainted with the manufacturing methods used to produce Hagen clubs. At the same time they were able to inspect many new precision devices that have recently been installed to maintain Hagen standards.

Second and third days of the meeting were convened at L. A. Young's summer home at Wing Lake, near Birmingham. A golf tournament was held on Saturday afternoon at the Tam O'Shanter C. C. The final gathering was a banquet in the evening at the Detroit Polo club.

The 1934 Hagen line of golf clubs and balls was shown for the first time at the sales meeting, and while little information has been made public about it, we understand it is considered to be the finest and most complete line the L. A. Young Golf Co. has ever produced. The 1933 season, they report, has been most encouraging, with total sales comfortably surpassing last year. The entire organization looks forward to 1934 with expectations of considerably increased business for the entire industry.
