GRASSELLI ISSUES FOLDER ON GRUB CONTROL

Cleveland, Ohio—A new folder entitled "How It Kills the Grubs" and just prepared for distribution by Grasselli Chemical Co., treats extensively the use of Grasselli arsenate of lead powder to control grubs, sod webworms, and earthworms. It contains thorough information on the use of lead arsenate.

It discusses the habits of beetle larvae, when they can be expected to appear, and the damage they do to greens, tees and fairways. It also contains correct formulas of lead arsenate mixed either with screened sand or soil or with fertilizer or water, and how these mixtures should be spread to be most effective.
