N. W. 'Cookie' Cook, for 15 years manager of The Burke Golf Company's midwest sales office, located in Chicago, has resigned from the company to accept a position with the Brown Paper Co., Chicago. Cook has been with Burke 22 years, starting out at the main office in Newark, Ohio. He took over as manager of the Chicago office in 1927, replacing W. C. Sherwood. 'Cookie', and his teammate, Mrs. (Lib) Cook, who assisted him, will be missed aplenty by the 'boys'.

North & Pfeiffer Mfg. Co., Providence, R. I., has issued a card for pro-shop display which describes the company's Grip-Rite removable Sho-Spikes, and tells that these spikes will be inserted by the pro, with space for the pro to sign his name. There is also a plug, "Lessons Will Improve Your Golf Game", printed at the bottom of these cards, which may be obtained upon request to the company.

Kaddie Kart Mfg. Co., anticipating a greatly increased caddie shortage this coming season, advises golf club operators to get their orders in promptly for the Karts they will need during 1942. The company points out that even though present stock of Karts is considerable, shortage of certain material later on during the season may force curtailment in delivery allotments. The '42 model Kaddie Kart has been further strengthened and reinforced over last year's model and has been receiving praise from course operators and players wherever used, company officials say.

A new method for re-processing used golf balls, developed to meet the war-time emergency, has been announced by United States Rubber Company. Golfers are therefore urged to save their used balls.

According to J. W. Sproul, manager of golf ball sales, the re-processed balls will look like new, except that they will be branded to indicate that they have been re-processed. They will have good playing qualities and will give service almost equal to new balls. The re-processing will be accomplished without using any materials on the restricted list.

When balls are received for re-processing, they will be inspected and those balls which are out of shape, too old or too badly cut, will be discarded. The balls will be classified according to construction, the old covers removed and new covers will be moulded on the balls.

The cover will be of tijpetir, a special form of balata, and the new cover will be identical to the covers of new balls. The re-processed ball will then be finished, painted, and marked with its proper brand name, depending on its construction. Also, the word "Re-Processed" will be branded on the cover to distinguish it from a new ball of the same brand.

Only the company's own brands will be re-processed by this method, according to Sproul. Individuals are asked not to send balls to the company direct, because no provision will be made for this service direct to consumer.

When the plan is put into effect, players will be asked to turn in their used balls to their golf professionals. They will receive a merchandise credit which they may apply either to the purchase of new balls, as long as new balls are available, or the purchase of "Re-Processed" balls. The pros will return the used balls to the company as sizeable lots are accumulated.
