bage cans, garbage sheds, awnings, screens, etc.

Not only the proper insecticide but also the proper formulation must be used. Application is filled with pitfalls for the amateur. Some surfaces cannot be safely sprayed with insecticides. Asphalt tile floors can be ruined if they are not protected while applying oil-base insecticides. Walls can be streaked and spotted and plants and valuable shrubbery can be destroyed if they are sprayed with improper formulations. These are but a few of the problems to which the pest control operator has ready answers.

The new residual insecticides are a boon to mankind and have opened up new possibilities in insect control. Observance of the fundamentals of screening, sanitation and insecticide treatment will insure successful fly control.

WILSON ISSUES PRESS BOOK

Wilson Sporting Goods Co. has issued the 1951 edition of its annual information book for press, radio and TV sports reporters. The book gives biographical data on Wilson advisory staff golfers, 1950 tournament summary and records of major championships. It’s the handiest reference work in golf and is extensively used by those who cover golf news. Mark Cox, Wilson’s public relations director, and his staff, did their usual fine job on it.

WEST POINT DEVELOPS A NEW HEAVY-DUTY AERIFIER

The newest edition of the Aerifier —
the "Grasslan" model is in limited production for the year 1951, West Point Lawn Products, West Point, Pa., announces. Developed last year, this large, heavy-duty Aerifier has undergone trials on pastures and airfields in both north and south.

The new model has 1½ inch diameter spoons which penetrate to a maximum depth of six inches. The cultivating reel is made in two parts, the halves of the reel revolving independently on a fixed shaft to facilitate turning. There are eight rows of spoons staggered to make three holes per sq. ft. as it cultivates a swath 5½ feet wide or with three of the Aerifiers

(signed by witnesses and the course pro)
stating that a MacGregor ball or club was used should be sent to MacGregor's Cincinnati office and the certificate will be mailed promptly.

SPALDING CLUB SUPPORTS JEEP

A Spalding iron club was used to lift a Jeep into the air recently at the A. G. Spalding & Bros. plant in Chicopee, Massachusetts. Having determined the number of pounds required to pull the head from the shaft of an iron club, in one of their precision testing machines, the Spalding Research Laboratory raised a Jeep from the floor and held it suspended in mid-air from the head of a club, in the manner shown above.

PARK CHALLENGER MOWER EQUIPMENT WITH LIGHTWEIGHT ROLLERS

The Roseman Mower Corporation of Evanston, Illinois, manufacturers of gang mowers, announces the adoption of their new improved lightweight hollow roller mower units as standard equipment on their Park Challenger model for Ford, Ford-Ferguson, and Ferguson Tractors.

The elimination of heavy cast iron rollers formerly used, is another step forward in the development of a non-breakable mower unit, according to Mr. J. A. Roseman, Jr. Vice-President.

"With the threatened shortages of parts..."
and materials, equipment requiring little or no replacement of parts, due to breakage, should prove invaluable to users who are responsible for the maintenance of parks, schools, institutions and industrial lawn areas during the uncertain years ahead,” Roseman said. Detailed information by writing the manufacturer.

GOODYEAR AD FEATURES GOODWIN GRIPS

Goodwin Flange-Wrap Grips manufactured by CSI Sales Co., Cleveland, O., are featured in a two-page, four color advertisement of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., scheduled to appear during May in News Week, Business Week and Time magazines. The Goodwin golf grips are given prominent pictorial and descriptive treatment with other Goodyear developments under the ad heading of “Visioneering” — unlimited.

WILSON ADDS FOUR NEW MEMBERS TO GOLF ADVISORY STAFF

Two promising golfers, Jimmy Clark and Harry Dee, and a pair of outstanding women stars, Betty MacKinnon and Betsy Rawls, have been added to the golf advisory staff of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co., reports L. G. (Plug) Osborne, director of the professional golf division.

Clark’s addition comes in the midst of his most successful year. Early in 1951, Jimmy had posted earnings of $2,560 and an 18-hole tourney ave. of 70.38 strokes.

L. G. (Plug) Osborne, director of the professional golf division of the Wilson Sporting Goods Co., welcomes Betty MacKinnon (second from right) and Betsy Rawls (second from left) into the Wilson family as members of the Wilson golf advisory staff. Patty Berg (left) and Babe Zaharias are on hand to help spread the welcome mat.}
