the same thing. Tomorrow in this part of the country is always going to be a better day. That's one reason why the folks around here are such patient people.

Develops “Weather” Swing

I have developed a new “lean-to” and “lean-against” type golf swing for the unusual windy weather we have been having. I am not going to disclose it until I happen to need $10,000, which is right now. So here is my secret; with the lean-to swing for winds that are blowing your nose backwards, you bend forward until the club head has just enough room to get under your nose. You must grip down on the club of course.

On the lean-against swing where the wind is whipping your billfold around something awful, you lean over backward until you can just barely see the ball. Use a longer club, of course, and in some cases a pretty high tee.

If I seem a little bitter I am a little bitter. I haven’t given up yet. I’m keeping my old chin up and getting a face full of dust but I’m not giving up.

The wind is now steadying down a little as the sun goes down in the west. We can’t see it go down here I haven’t heard of it going down in any other direction. It’s a funny thing, the wind never blows at night or on Mondays.

Foundation Distributes Chart on Golf Rules

A new 23 in. by 35 in. wall chart on the Rules of Golf is being distributed by the National Golf Foundation at 50 cents a copy, according to an announcement by Rex McMorris, executive vp of the Foundation.

Designed as an aid to promoting smoother, more enjoyable play and greater respect for golf courses through the painless education of players in the basic rules and courtesies of the game, the new chart is attractively printed in two colors, on heavy paper, and is illustrated with 58 humorous cartoons taken from the Foundation’s popular pocket-size booklet, “The Easy Way To Learn Golf Rules.”

Don’t Know Rules

According to McMorris, the popularity of golf has grown so fast in recent years that many players annually explode onto golf courses without first being exposed to traditional rules and courtesies of the game.

The new “Easy Way To Learn Golf Rules” Wall Chart may be obtained at 50 cents a copy (postpaid) from the National Golf Foundation, 407 South Dearborn st., Chicago 5, Ill. All orders should be accompanied by check or money order.

The Babe Wants You To Help Her Help Others

During June there’s a drive on to raise money for the cancer detection and treatment program that was started right after Babe Zaharias was told she had cancer.

Golf wants to make a good showing in this fund raising. So many of us in golf know Babe. We know how this valiant girl is driving herself to put over this campaign.

There is no use kidding ourselves; action has got to be quick on this deal and men golfers usually are not much good at this sort of a project.

It takes women’s golf committees to put across this fund raising drive. They know how to get men and women to contribute.

If the professional will bring this matter to the attention of the head of the women’s golf committee at each club plans can be made and put into action quickly to raise money for the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc.

Headquarters for the fund is at University Station, Galveston, Tex.
