Fine weather in early part of April in most of the country got 1958 golf business away to a great start in play and sales. Although Masters' attendance figures are not released, guesses of competent observers were that total of galleries at Augusta never was larger any previous year. Bill Kaiser, Hillerich and Bradbys sales mgr., says his company's pro sales to date this year are at record level. Top officials of all major ball and club manufacturing companies reporting their pro business is well ahead of 1957 when weather in about half of the country was miserable until the closing days of May.

Maxwell Stiles, veteran golf writer and sports columnist of Los Angeles Mirror-News says Los Angeles Open sponsors should follow George S. May's example and call off tournament instead of yielding to "Carter's ultimatum that sponsors henceforth must turn over to him and his tournament bureau all entry fees."

The informed and influential Stiles rips into J. Edwin Carter, PGA Tournament bureau boss, for insisting on turning over entry fees to be added to "Carter's growing nest egg" instead of adding them to the purses. Says that now that May has cancelled out "about one-fifth of entire years' take," I wonder whether the players may not begin to do a little thinking and a little less being led around by the nose. I find it a bit ironic that the only truly big tournament sponsor who has had the guts to stand up on his hind feet and throw Carter and his tournament bureau out of the joint is a man who does not even belong to the International Golf Sponsors Assn. Instead of being a member of the IGSA, May is a member of the PGA Advisory Board."

Stiles goes on to say that he polled players at a Tournament of Champions on what tournament they'd like most to win and Mays' World championship was first choice.

Illinois PGA at its spring meeting had Sam Snead giving a clinic before 450 pros and guests. At the Illinois PGA dinner, Pres. Harry Pezzullo in making awards on behalf of the section presented one for outstanding service to pro golf in Illinois to George S. May. George was in Europe so the award was accepted for him by Mat Niesen of Tam O'Shanter.

Not at all sorry when Carter's bureau made the booh play of shoving an "or else" deal at May were Tam O' Shanter's members. The Tam O' Shanter tournaments took the course out of play by members for about three weeks or practically an eighth of the playing season. This percentage of dues, taxes and lockers alone meant about $90 to each member.

In running out on George S. May, Elmer Ward of the Palm Beach and Bill McDonald, as golf tournament sponsors, the Carter bureau chased away three men who spent over $2,000,000 on pro golf prize money and publicity...Quite a record for a year...But not one that will attract canny businessmen into sponsorship of pro tournaments.

Ralph H. White, Jr., who graduated from University of Florida in 1954 receiving his bachelor's degree majoring in agronomy and worked in turf management on his master's degree, now is on the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station staff as an extension specialist in turf and ornamental horticulture...Harold L. Broffier and George O. Palmer to have golf course on 547-acre community development on their property southwest of Pompano Beach, Fla.

Gus C. Wofford, Huntington, W. Va., landscape architect, building 9-hole course south of Huntington...George Hoffer, pro at Spring Valley CC, Huntington, is collaborating with Wofford on design and Frank Gooch, supt., Guyan CC, Huntington, is assisting with construction...Course to be in play spring, 1959...Chet Mendenhall, supt., Mission Hills CC, Kansas City, Mo., extensively modernizing course...U-3 fairways and tees being planted by Lynde and Rowsey.

Heart of America GCS Assn. annual
4-men team tournament with pres., green chmn., supt. and pro comprising team from each club will be played at Hickory Hills CC, Springfield, Mo., May 12.

Horton Smith's performance in playing 80-86 at the Masters, then going to devote himself earnestly to his job at Detroit CC, shows as much real high quality guts as I've seen in golf . . . Last October Horton had a lung removed at the Mayo clinic and in March he was operated on for ruptured appendix . . . He is suffering from a serious disease that nearly exhausts energy . . . His chin is high and he's not bellyaching.

Jimmy Powers, New York News sports columnist and noted telecaster says there's "advance warning of disaster" in sports as "around the country rich men are indicating they are fed up with what they consider scurvy treatment. Take golf for example. A fat tourney earlier this winter was quietly dropped in Arizona . . . In Miami Beach a week later, an amiable trailer tycoon, Bill MacDonald, decided he had enough when the PGA demanded he boost the ante $5000 for an open tournament there." . . . "Time is Money"
George Clark, Superintendent of lovely Uniontown Country Club, Uniontown, Penna., says:

"For the past six years I have been using Agrico Country Club and Agrinite on our course and the results have been excellent. We have developed a deeper root system and a fine firm turf on our greens that stands up well under all types of playing conditions throughout the trying summer months. Our greens, fairways and tees maintain a nice deep color that speaks well for the Agrico Fertilizers we use. After six years of using Agrico and Agrinite, which give me a well balanced fertilizer program, I am convinced that I have the right combination to grow and maintain fine turf."

ORDER NOW — be sure your fertilization program is balanced, too. Use AGRICO Country Club and AGRINITE, the 100% Natural Organic Nitrogen Fertilizer. See your Agrico Dealer or write to THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL CO., 50 Church Street, New York 7, N. Y.

Mexican golf officials were perplexed by PGA Tournament Bureau boss J. Ed- win Carter, rushing to cut in on International Golf Assn. pro matches in Mexico City next November, an invitation affair smoothly and successfully handled by Frank Pace, IGA pres., Fred Corcoran, its tournament director and officials of golf associations of countries participating in the world-wide pro competition... Golf officials south of the border quickly learned that J. Edwin had absolutely no connection with the IGA operations.
