Bill Downing, asst. to Lew Worsham on Lew's winter job at Coral Ridge CC, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., succeeds Paul Erath as pro at Fox Chapel CC (Pittsburgh dist.) . . . Erath now is pro-supt. at Laurel Valley GC, Ligonier, Pa., which is due to be put into play this summer . . . Dick Wilson designed the course . . . Arnold Palmer will register from Laurel Valley.

Bob Keller, formerly asst. at Pittsburgh Field Club, now pro at Sunnehanna CC, Johnstown, Pa., succeeding Eddie Thompson . . . Russell W. Kerns, for past seven years, supt at Green Hill Yacht & CC, Salisbury, Md., new supt., Miami Shores (Fla.) CC.

Detroit GC dinner, April 18, for its pro, Horton Smith, was the club's celebration of Horton's election to the PGA Hall of Fame . . . There was a Who's Who of golf notables and Detroit's business, society and civic leaders attending a banquet that exhibited the talent of Horton's pal, the club's noted manager, Bob Thompson . . . Bob and Mary Jones and Harold and Mary Sargent flew up from Atlanta . . . USGA Pres. John Ames came from Chicago as did Horton's brother, Ren and his wife . . . Neil Crose, mgr. and pro at Mill Creek Park GC, Youngstown, O., attended with Mrs. Crose.

When pro at Springfield, Mo., Neil gave Horton his first job in golf . . . Joe Belfore, Al Watrous, Detroit's mayor, Louis C. Miriana, and others also talked earnestly and affectionately about Horton and his golfing career . . . James B. Wagstaff, Detroit GC pres., presided and kept the party moving swiftly and merrily.

Paul Rivard, pro at Glencoe (Ill.) GC now has Jim Michaels as teaching pro . . . Club is municipal operation in swanky Chicago North Shore suburb and is establishing caddie service for first year . . . Prospero (Army) Gianvito is new pro at Mohawk GC, Tiffin, O. . . . Mrs. Gianvito (Edith) is managing the clubhouse.

Robert B. Peebles, 76, who came to US from Elie, Scotland, in 1900 died recently at his home near Greenville, O. . . . He had worked as teaching pro for L. E. Beavins at White Springs GC, Greenville, in 1951 and 1952, then went to the Bardstown (Ky.) CC for a brief period after which he retired . . . He was an excellent player and teacher and had an engaging personality . . . Mr. Peebles undoubtedly was in more good pro jobs than any other pro in the game . . . The USGA championship record book lists some of Bob's connections: South Orange, Fairview, Sound Beach, St. Joseph Valley, Dallas, Wichita, Topeka, Shawnee Heights, Louisville . . . He also served as pro at the Mexico City CC . . . He is survived by his widow, two daughters and a son.

PGA officials looking into offers from real estate dealers to move from Dunedin (Fla.) National course which is municipal... course used on nominal rental basis... Deal isn't proving mutually satisfactory... Proposals call for PGA building course on gift ground and real estate men making their profit out of sale of building sites adjoining course... Lot of problems involved... Some successful pro businessmen maintain PGA needs to concentrate on pro business problems rather than spread itself into complications of club operation... Figures of PGA National course operation and such data as recent survey of Metropolitan Golf Assn. on pro dept. operations are cited by a number of PGA members as emphasizing the need for PGA specialization on business of serving golfers... Another consideration is far-western pros' complaint that a PGA course in Florida is "taxation without representation."

Harry Kaseburg, for 12 years pro-mgr., University of Michigan course at Ann Arbor, has moved to Eastern G&CC, Kalamazoo, Mich., as mgr. . . . Jack Blott, U of M former football line coach, becomes mgr. of the university course . . . Don Wilkey now pro at Mount Adams GC, Wapato, Wash. . . . Rainbow Lodge CC, Greenville, N.Y., to be operated this year by Walter Birman, jr.
George W. Page, owner of Colonial CC, Lynnfield, Mass., says he may sell course for subdividing as result of Lynnfield vote refusing rezoning permission allowing enlargement of course from 9 to 18 holes and construction of motel along re-routed highway which made necessary remodeling of course . . . Spokesman for Lynnfield selectmen says "organized minority" which refused rezoning to Page will have to share problem of converting golf course into building lots which will cost the town "$100,000 over and above any tax revenues a housing development could provide." . . . Lynnfield Selectman Mason Condon notes, as a point to consider in retaining the Colonial course, that it costs Lynnfield $500 a year to provide schooling for a child and that the average family has three children.

sand trap rakes golfers will use!

They're so light and easy to use with one hand that only a confirmed course-wrecker can resist the challenge to smooth out the trap! Of rugged all-aluminum construction (with splinter-free aluminum handle) 'Mister' Featherweight rakes last twice as long as the ordinary kind. "Accidental" loss is less, too, because they're designed for sand traps—not gardens.

Mike Roth, 22-year old captain of last year's NYU team, has succeeded Renzetti. Gus Pulos has been named golf director at Green Farms golf center, now being built in Westport, Conn. Joe Gillardi starting 13th year as supt. at Rockrimmon CC, Stamford, Conn. Joe is a very capable turfnman who thinks his greatest reward came last fall when the Metropolitan PGA gave him a plaque in recognition of the wonderful shape Rockrimmon was in for the important president tournament. Louise Suggs led Ladies PGA with winter tour scoring average of 74.70. Mickey Wright was second with 75 and Betsy Rawls third with 75.07. The same trio led the money winners with Betsy's $4,679, tops.

Don White, Rutgers University golf coach, giving series of clinics for members of Women's Golf Group at the University. About 50 women are in the organization. In its excellent booklet, just published, Western Golf Assn., points out that 1958 was its greatest year. Some of the reasons: Caddie scholarship income hit new high of $276,000. Evans Scholars enrollment in colleges was up to 373 ex-caddies in 23 schools.
Evans chapter house was established, this one at the University of Minnesota.

Perenially young Art Snyder, Superintendent at Paradise Valley and his assistant Harold Stodola are proving that sound maintenance practices work as well in the hot desert regions of Phoenix as they do in Pittsburgh or St. Paul. Art was formerly at Longue Vue Country Club while Harold got his start at the Keller Golf Course. Both retired to "follow the sun" and landed at the beautiful Paradise Valley Country Club. Incidentally, the humorous pose doesn't do justice to the fine golfing prowess of either Harold or Art. Longtime believers in MILORGANITE, and carload users at their former clubs, they find it produces exceptional turf under hot desert conditions also. Paradise Valley MILORGANIZES its greens in the spring, summer, fall and winter.

Des Sullivan and Len Elliott of Newark
It was a bleak Winter day when we visited White Beeches Country Club, and considering the season, the condition of fairways and greens was really impressive. Knowing that White Beeches had only recently begun to water fairways, we asked Superintendent Richard W. Jordan how this affected his feeding program. He replied:

"Now that we have watered fairways, it is more important than ever to use fertilizer that has a long lasting effect.

"You can't beat AGRICO for TURF and AGRINITE for the long, dependable pull. In addition to producing a colorful, dense turf, AGRICO and AGRINITE have lasting growth power."

We think Mr. Jordan has put his finger on a mighty important point — long-lasting effect is what golf course men want most of all from a fertilizer. And AGRICO used with AGRINITE for follow-through gives them just that!

ton, April 11, honoring veteran golf writers Maury Fitzgerald of the Washington Post and Times-Herald and Merrell Whittlesey of the Star . . . Martin F. McCarthy headed the organizing committee . . . Joe Dey was toastmaster and a fine one . . . Bob Drum, Golf Writers’ Assn. president, Jimmy Thomson, Peggy Kirk Bell, Lew Worsham, Freddie McLeod and Woodie Plat were among those who hailed our two heroes . . . Maury and Merrell were given trips to Scotland and silver tea services to use when company comes.

Another swell clambake for a golf writer was that at Dayton for Ben Garlikov of the Dayton News . . . Lots of pros, amateurs and assorted VIPs told in public what a nice guy Ben is (and didn’t have to commit perjury) and gave him a car.

History of the Jacobsen Mfg. Co., Racine, Wis., especially its pioneering work in power mower building and marketing, made a feature in the Business Section of a recent issue of the Chicago Tribune . . . Wm. F. Mitchell, North Sutton, N. H., retained as architect for the new 9 of the Framingham (Mass.) CC . . . Jimmy Smoot from Dellwood CC (NY Met. dist.) to pro job at Peekskill, N. Y.

which most of the shop merchandising revolved. One of the best features about it is that it is mobile. If sales are lagging in one department or sector of a shop, the cart only has to be moved to another to not only stir up interest in the merchandise it features but in surrounding displays. It seems to have a kind of magnetism about it that the two Crystal River pro operators exploited to the fullest.
