Dan Sikes, U. of Florida law graduate, who won Doral Open, looked good again when he played in his first Masters. He came out with $1,100. He made expenses and then some at Houston, picking up $625 for the pool that is split with the 50 Jacksonville, Fla., businessmen who finance his golf career.

Julius Goffo now pro at Vernon Hills CC (Chicago dist.) . . . Frank Acquino now pro at Juniper CC, Redmond, Ore. . . . Stuart Sirbaugh signed as pro at River Bend CC, Virginia, Minn. . . . Ernie Fortner, formerly field rep of National Golf Foundation, is Ogdensburg (N. Y.) CC pro . . . Dick Wolthers goes from Juniper CC, Redmond, Ore., to pro job at The Dalles (Ore.) CC succeeding Henry Kaiser who retired . . . Jim Porterfield now has pro assignment at Oak Knoll CC, Ashland, Ore.

The instant a guy pokes an arm into a sleeve of a Masters green coat and writers begin talking about his chances of a Grand Slam . . . That puts added pressure on the Masters champion in the US and British Opens and the PGA . . . Jack Nicklaus, though, doesn’t seem to be too sensitive to pressure . . . The lad is lucky and knows it and that may offset some pressure . . . Luck such as the free lifts out of casual water he got following poor shots on the Augusta National course, is the kind that only a champion has . . . Wasn’t it Napoleon or his publicity guy who said: “Luck? I make my luck!” . . . With a little bit of luck Sam Snead could have won the Masters . . . Snead, in spite of his winning more tournaments than any other golfer, is the unluckiest of all at absolutely the worst time . . . Or, could it be that he starts to think when instinct would do better?

That steady, heavy April shower, falling in bucketsful all Saturday at Augusta, showed that Nicklaus has the champion’s shots under unfavorable conditions . . . In his fling at the National Open, Big Jack will find the Country Club of Brook-

The ninth green and the clubhouse of the Williams College GC, Williamstown, Mass., are seen in the photo. This historic course was built in 1896 by the Taconic Golf Club. It plays to about 6,500 yards. Dick Baxter, who is both pro and superintendent here, recently started his 40th year with the Club. The Taconic, as the course is known, was the site of the 1956 USGA Junior Championship and in 1958, the NCAA held its annual tournament here.

Jones had a 291 . . . Next was Al Wattrous with 293 . . . Hagen and the late George Von Elm tied for third at 295 . . . The course has a lot of sandhills and slanting lies that are not too much different from the lies at Scioto, Nicklaus' home course . . . The rough and the bushes off the fairways are something you won't see in the U.S. . . . The wind can play hell but usually dies down in late afternoon.

Roland Wingate, for 12 years pro at Fort Myers (Fla.) CC has resigned at his physician's suggestion . . . Wingate probably will be pro for three summer months at the Dublin (N. H.) Golf, Tennis and Racquet Club . . . Prior to his Ft. Myers location, Wingate was at Asheville (N. C.) CC for 10 years and before that at CC of Brookline, Mass. . . . The Wingates will winter at their home at Ft. Myers which Wingate has promoted into quite a golf community . . . Wingate has recommended to Ft. Myers mayor and recreation committee that his assistant, Al Patterson, be appointed his successor . . . Patterson has been very active in developing Junior golf in Fort Myers . . . Frank Sparks, formerly an aide to Claydon Attridge at Pensacola (Fla.) CC, now pro at Cypress Lake CC, Ft. Myers, Fla.

Carling beer's $200,000 tournament wasn't first $200,000 deal offered the PGA . . . A $200,000 tournament was offered last year but was refused because sponsor wanted to give $100,000 first money . . .
The PGA said there was too much of a gap between proposed first and second place money. Golf tournament gamblers' story line that has been running in the Mac Divot "comic" strip is getting equal space on sports pages with pro football gambling expose. Mac Divot strip is fiction based on some facts. The USGA's persistent campaign against Calcuttas and hustlers, who pretend to be amateurs, undoubtedly has saved golf from gambling scandals. Younger pros now are smart and cautious about association with unsavory characters.

Bradford, Pa., area to have 18 at Maricopa near Kinzua dam project on Allegheny river. Jack Gallagher's story on "phenomenal" boost of golf by TV in Houston Post says River Oaks CC had 14,000 (25 per cent) more rounds of golf in 1962 than in 1961. Piney Point (par 3) membership has increased from 150 to 360 in past six months. Ten years ago only two of Harris County high schools sponsored golf teams. Now 40 have them. Golf range business is up about 25 per cent. In comment on TV boost of golf, Joe Finger, golf architect, says Jimmy Demaret's show (All Star Golf) "has one more for golf than Eisenhower".

Eddie Golen, former assistant to Ralph Haas at Transit Valley CC in Elmhurst, N. Y., has succeeded Toby Lyons as head pro at Moonbrook CC, Jamestown, N. Y. . . . Al Burns now pro at Lancaster (N. Y.) CC, succeeding Joe Savodny.

Bob Charles, in winning Houston Open and $10,000 with a 12-under-par 268, gave left-handed golfers the biggest boost they've had . . . The handsome New Zealander is righthanded in everything but golf . . . He won the U.S. Left-handed National Open at DeSoto Lakes G & CC, Bradenton, Fla., last fall by 21 strokes . . . He represented New Zealand in Eisenhower Trophy competition, then turned pro and played for New Zealand in the Canada cup event . . . Another performance at Houston that got the customers talking was the third place finish of amateur Homero Blancas, Jr., with 270, a stroke back of the veteran, Fred Hawkins . . . Blancas, 25-year-old University of Houston graduate, is the son of one of Supt. Bill Leonard's staff at River Oaks CC . . . Homero poured in a fourth round 64 . . . He got $000 for finishing a stroke
Labron Harris, Jr., son of the professional at Lakeside CC, Stillwater, Okla., who coaches the Oklahoma State University golf team, was the top amateur in the Masters . . . Harris, Jr., National Amateur champion, had a stage-fright start with a 79, then went on to 71, 73, 75 to finish 12 strokes back of Nicklaus . . . Last year at the South Central PGA meeting in Tulsa, Harris, Sr. had lads from his varsity squad demonstrating his putting instruction device . . . Harris, Jr., gave an impressive demonstration of putting at Augusta . . . There may be something to that putting instruction gimmick.

Nothing exciting came out of the press session of John M. Winters, USCA president, and Lou Strong, PGA prexy, during the Masters . . . John and Lou agreed there should be only one set of rules . . . But whose? . . . After USGA and R&A meeting on rules this month you can be reasonably certain the present rule permitting the flagpole to stay in the hole will be tossed out of the book in 1964.

Horton Smith played in his 27th Masters using a golf car, the first player in Masters history to be allowed to use a car. He got a 91 with a lot of pars and wasn't shy about turning in his scorecard. Horton's high-hearted, uncomplaining battle against illness and the handicap of major surgery have the MDs thinking they may be learning something from his case. He is regarded as one of golf's top teachers and other pros consulted him often at Augusta.

Craig Wood, winner of the 1941 Masters and 1941 National Open, a pretty good Junior Slam, was paired with Smith. Craig has been ailing painfully with something like gout in his fingers and toes. Now it looks like he's got it whipped. Craig is spending considerable time at Freeport, Grand Bahama Island, where Dick Wilson is putting in a 18 hole course as a feature of the Lucayan Beach hotel development, a Canadian capitalist's enterprise. Charles T. Craddock, formerly at Boca Raton, will be in charge of hotel operations.

All surplus income from the Thunderbird Classic, June 13-16, at Westchester CC in Rye, N.Y., goes to the United Hospital building fund... Last year, the Classic produced $70,000 for charity... Seven clubs will participate in the Combined Jewish Appeal interclub tourney in Chicago in mid-June... They are Briarwood, Bryn Mawr, Green Acres, Idlewild, Ravisloe, Twin Orchard and Brookwood... Last year the interclub players raised $2,300 for CJA... Pebble Beach (Calif.) golf links won't be operated on an open basis after July 1... It's been getting too much play... Women's West Texas golf tournament to be played June 10-14 at Wichita Falls (Tex.) CC for the 28th time.

PGA tournament bureau isn't happy with sponsors that hold invitational tournaments... The Colonial, staged annually in Ft. Worth, is on the pan because it is alleged it slights some of the leading players when it sends out bids... Don January originally wasn't invited to this year's Colonial because of an incident that happened in 1962... Prize money and Ryder Cup points that would normally accrue to players' credit in the Colonial, aren't being honored by PGA this year... Tournament bureau also doesn't feel kindly toward the Tournament of Champions officials... Only 27 players started in this year's Las Vegas affair... The PGA wants a minimum of 65 and prefers to have 85 of its regulars in all tournaments... One thing that has eased the pressure on the Tournament of Champions is that a counter attraction is held in Burneyville, Okla., the same week it is played.

Six hour wait still in order at the new Douglaston Park muny course in New York... It's the first addition to N.Y. municipal layouts in more than 25 years... Skinner Graham is pro at Douglaston... how things are going at America's favorite hole-in-one club . . . In the April issue of the "Willowick Golfer", Allen Wells, club president, advised the members to insure themselves against perpetrating a hole-in-one . . . It's about time! . . . Three St. Paul, Minn., businessmen have purchased the Southview CC in West St. Paul . . . Paul Kelly goes from Merion, where he was an assistant, to Sleepy Hollow, Scarborough-on-Hudson, N. Y. as head pro.

New Jersey PGA section has amended its eligibility rules to permit circuit pros who play out of or work at N. J. clubs to take part in its weekly pro-am tournaments . . . New Jersey pros also are seeking permission to play in the Metropolitan Open . . . Heretofore, it has been open only to pros at clubs belonging to the MGA . . . Jim Warga of Forsgate CC has asked the N. J. PGA to allow pros over 50 use of golf cars in section tournaments . . . According to Will Grimsley, Arnold Palmer made more money in 1962 than the president of General Motors . . . If anyone starts clicking his teeth over that one, it should be considered that Arnold probably worked harder than the G.M. prexy and certainly was under more pressure . . . If you have any doubts as to whether Palmer has fully arrived — he has hired a girl full time to do nothing but answer his fan mail.

Charles Martel to build 150-room hotel and standard 18 and 9-hole Par-3, both designed by Mark Mahannah, in West Palm Beach, Fla. . . Olaf Bergwall named pro at Callier Springs CC, Rome, Ga. . . Formerly he was pro at Cedar Valley CC, Cedartown, Ga.

George Buxton, jr. is pres. of organization planning to build nine at Wartburg, Tenn. . . Pomona (Calif.) CC changes name to Pomona Meadows CC . . . Bob Glover is pro . . . Doc Silva, sports editor, Reading (Pa.) Times, wrote fine column on Ralph Ebling, pro at Daytona Beach (Fla.) municipal course . . . Henry Williams, Sr., is supt. at Daytona Beach . . . Course operation and condition now is a credit to the city . . . It was a step-child of politics when Ebling came there six years ago . . . Williams, Sr., came later to join Ebling . . . When Ebling was a kid aspiring to be a pro, Williams, then Reading CC pro, helped him along . . . Ralph needed help . . . He lost his left arm in an accident on his father's farm.
Betsy Rows, who had been in something of a slump in the last year or so, bounced back to win the Women's Sunshine Open at the LaJeune course in Miami in April. She received 1,200 Sunshine dollars for doing so from Sidney Aronovitz, Miami city commissioner.

... A year after the accident Ralph was taking lessons from Henry, Sr. ... Ebling has had numerous scores in the 60s and is an effective teacher.

Loeffler’s operation of Washington’s five municipal courses . . . In 1921, when Loeffler got into the operation, the government was running the courses in the red . . . With low green fees, Loeffler’s operation has been so sound that in 21 years he has paid the U.S. Treasury nearly $1,000,000 and has spent more than $400,000 for expansion and improvements in Washington public golf facilities.

Tom Mahan, sr., pro at United Shoe CC and president of New England PGA, is convalescing from a stroke suffered in his home at Beverly, Mass., March 23, shortly after his return from Florida . . . Tom had a remarkable recovery from a heart attack four years ago . . . He is very popular and helpful fellow whose energy and sound judgment have been valuable to pro and amateur golf in New England . . . His heavy work on the PGA Senior tournament and on the PGA tent show certainly assured the success of those affairs.

Patty Berg has staged thousands of clinics in her day, but none quite like this until she appeared recently at Gallaudet College, near Washington, D.C. It was for deaf and dumb students and nearly 200 of them braved frigid weather to learn about swing fundamentals from Patty.

Pros are plenty sore about cut-price advertising of clubs and balls in some golf magazines... Say the price-slashing ads are competing against sales of new clubs sometimes advertised in the same magazines... Price-cutting ads are knocking down trade-in allowances and doing pro quality new club sales no good as about 75 per cent of these pro shop sales involve trade-ins... Bales of the cut-price club and ball advertising are offered to magazines... Golfing Magazine, with its pro quality market protection policy, refuses a lot of this copy every year.

Passing of the veteran pro, Lew Waldron, last month reminded some old timers of the help Lew gave Bob Harlow when Bob was trying to get a PGA tournament circuit established after the effort had beaten Hal Sharkey . . . Lew never was a brilliant player but he'd pick up a few dollars in tournament prize money . . . What he'd saved at his club pro job in the summer financed him and his wife Mitzi to the fall and winter tournaments . . . Bob and Lillian Harlow and the Waldrons would travel in upper berths and otherwise stretch a dollar 7,200 yards and thoroughly enjoyed the pioneering . . . Several times the PGA tournament circuit might have stopped dead if Harlow, an ever hopeful horse player, hadn't scored with a long shot . . . Waldron got out of pro golf and became rich in the chemical business.

Clarence G. Yarn, owner and operator of 27-hole Woodside semi-private in suburban Des Moines, is to build another 18 (Woodside Heights) with surrounding residential sites . . . Yarn probably has done more than any other man to get golfers repairing their ball marks on greens . . . He devised the widely used repair tool that looks like a small shoehorn with a somewhat sharpened end . . . Hundreds of thousands of them are carried and used by educated and considerate golfers at private and public courses . . . Yarn's Woodside course, according to Des Moines' noted golf writer, Bert McGrane, is having a boom in high school boy and girl golfers . . . Yarn and his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Hall Yarn, have made quite a point of teaching and encouraging the teenagers to acquire correct golf manners . . . McGrane is a roving press agent for these kids . . . With his extensive acquaintance among golf writers, McGrane has given the Woodside high school golfers nation-wide fame that has been in bright contrast to publicity about teenage vandalism on golf courses.
Here are two guys with a good combination: Arthur Allen and Ike Young of McArthur, O., have a golf range, pay fishing lakes and a drive-in restaurant near Dundas, O. . . . You pretty nearly always get a slow backswing on fish . . . Frank Jones and Maj. Luther Scott line up an arrangement with Oak Ridge, Tenn., to build a course on a 25-year lease basis . . . It is said that 30,000 rounds of golf a year are played by Oak Ridgers . . . Their town has 29,000 population . . . Henry Trepsas succeeds Harry Gaston as pro at Long Meadow GC, Lowell, Mass.
