The busiest men in Ohio in the past several months have been those seen up front who have been getting ready for the 46th PGA Championship, to be played at Columbus CC, July 16-19. They have been so busy, in fact, that the governor of the state was drafted to give them a hand. In the photo are (from left): Don Shock, host professional, Don Boyd, club manager, Governor James A. Rhodes, honorary chairman, Frederick W. LeVeque, general chairman, H. E. Eschenbrenner, club president, and Robert Mueller, Supt.

Bob Curley in Paterson (N.J.) Evening News pointed out that three of the neighborhood's pros have 123 years of "tee time" among them: George Jacobus at Ridgewood (51 years); Danny Williams, Sr., 46 years, 18 of them at the Knoll; and Andy La Pola at Preakness Hills, 26 years as pro. Joe Phillips in his 44th year as pro at the Links Club, Roslyn, N.Y. . . . Wayne (Red) Davis now pro-manager at Reliez Valley CC, Lafayette, Calif.

Leo O'Grady to Stockbridge (Mass.) CC as pro after four years at De Soto Lakes (Fla.) GC & Lodge . . . Joe Mann, a left-hander who was O'Grady's assistant at De Soto Lakes, has left for two years in the Army . . . A. P. (Pete) Serra, the club's manager, the rest of the staff and the members gave Leo and Joe a farewell party . . . Bob Simmons has designed a golf layout labeled the "Miniature Masters," comprising a nine-hole Par-3, an 18-hole putting course, a 30-tee range and a 36-hole miniature course being built for E. S. Brantner and to be operated by William Loehr in Richmond, Ind.

Quite a few of the swimming clubs that have sprung up in the past few years are installing Par-3 courses . . . Aquamarine Swim Club, Avon Lake, O., to build an 18-hole Par-3 . . . John Lambert opens his "Skyline" Par-3 nine in Greenfield, O. . . . Mobile home "parks" also are going strong for Par-3 courses as popular recreation in compact space . . . Arroyo Fairways Mobile Home Park near Hemet, Calif., to have Par-3 nine . . . Ralph and Patrick Herrera open their "Famous Links" Par-3 nine with holes patterned after holes on great courses . . . Maryland, with one course for every 41,113 persons, ranks second from the bottom in scarcity of golf courses . . . Alaska holds bottom spot with only one course for every 56,541 persons . . . The national average is one course for every 23,995 . . . The Baltimore Sun quoted these figures as it announced that a dozen new courses will open in the state this summer . . . Most will be within driving distance of Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Sugarbush GC in Garrettsville, O., will have 18-hole course completed by next spring . . . The layout was designed by Harold Paddock, Sr., manager of Aurora (O.) CC, and is built on land owned by a Garrettsville High School mathematics teacher Rudy Kelker . . . Co-partners with Kelker are Mike Koval, golf coach at Hiram College, and Bob Mishler, a Garrettsville attorney . . . In addition to the course, land has been set aside for 35 to 40 homesites.

Jerry Ball is the pro at the new Caledonia (N.Y.) CC and Glenn Sliker is the supt. . . . Caledonia was built by Bob Weitzel whose previous connection with golf was through two brothers who were head pros at the Hershey, Pa., course and another brother who held a Pa. state title . . . Huntington, N.Y., has approved issuance of $2,200,000 worth of bonds for development of courses and other recreational facilities . . . Two courses, one 9-hole layout and an 18, are in the building plans.

Small Business Administration has approved a $75,000 loan for Golfshares, Inc., for construction of course in Dunbarton, N.H., and a $70,000 loan to Colebrook (N.H.) CC for construction of motel, dining room and course improvement . . . Nine-hole course will be built in Huron, O. . . . Melvin Brannon farm just north of Arab, Ala., is site for new 9-hole course.

Forty teams of four — three amateurs and one pro — from country clubs throughout the world will compete.

Big jump this year in number of clubs increasing from 9 to 18 holes . . . The 9-hole course founders were wise in getting enough extra land for expansion . . . Builders of new conventional and short courses usually are getting enough land bordering the courses to cash in on the increased land value . . . But don't always count on an increase in value or salability being rapid . . . The golf boom hasn't been able to supply a substitute for cash to some people who got into the business without adequate capital.

Harold Mizer in his 15th year as pro at Jaycee course, Zanesville, O . . . This was one of the first courses started by Junior Chambers of Commerce . . . It was started in 1949 . . . Jaycees have become chief sponsors and builders of public courses in many communities . . . American Legion and Amvets also are leaders in campaigning for public courses . . . What we like to see is the pro boosting the supt. when the pro gets into the papers . . . For instance — Mal McMullen, pro at Kokomo (Ind.) CC, telling sports columnist Bob Ford of Kokomo Tribune: “Our Wayne Bennett is one of the best course supt. in the state. And he doesn't have as much to work with as some of the others.”

George Sullivan doesn't look it or act it but he's the dean of the Jersey Shore pros, having been at Old Orchard CC, Eatontown for 34 years . . . Bruce Frusher now pro at Brainerd (Minn.) CC . . . Convert to RAIN BIRD’S completely automatic sprinkling system. MAKE THE FINAL MOVE THAT MAKES THE DIFFERENCE!

Here’s why more and more clubs are making the big change to Rain Bird’s completely automatic system:

DIRECT CONTROL — Rain Bird Rain-Clox does the sprinkling where, when and how you want it. Has the most flexible of all 14-day cycles . . . sprinkle as briefly as a minute, as long as an hour. Set the cycle that’s best for each area . . . then forget it. All settings are easily made with dependable switches and dials. No loose pins or pegs to get lost or broken.

PROPER SPRINKLING — Rain Bird sprinklers are scientifically engineered to provide the precise amount of sprinkling needed. No “missed” spots . . . no run-off. And no trouble!

THE WORLD’S MOST COMPLETE LINE OF TIME-PROVEN TURF SPRINKLING EQUIPMENT.

Charles C. Walsh now general manager, Riverside Inn and CC, Cambridge Springs, Pa. . . . Dick Neuman, formerly pro at Kirtland (O.) CC, has bought Midway Par-3 course, at South Amherst, O. . . . Talk about diversification: Penn Machine Co., maker of mining equipment, owns Lakeview CC, Morgantown, W.Va., a meat packinghouse and operates a garage. . . . William Marino and Bob Thrush have bought Atwood Lake GC 18 near Ulrichsville, O., from Otto Oyler.

Another surge of swimming pool construction at golf clubs, especially in the south . . . A number of clubs are constructing teenage clubhouses for members’ youngsters . . . Buildings range from handsome structure of Houston (Tex.) CC to simple recreation shelters with record-players, hotdog and hamburger cooking facilities and soft-drink vending machines . . . Surprising amount of changing from sand to grass greens at small summer resort courses and in small town Midwestern courses . . . We thought about all the sand green courses had been switched but new sand green courses always are being built as nurseries.

Bobby Bryant, son of the veteran, Tommy, who has been pro at Dayton, O., Moraine CC for many years, has resigned his army commission and is back after 3 1/2 years in Germany . . . Bob has leased the 741 Golf Center, in suburban Dayton . . . Last year Jim Baker operated the Center . . . He and his brother Jerry now are conducting a similar golf enterprise in Salt Lake City . . . Ridgeway CC, Oshkosh, Wis., opens its new $150,000 clubhouse . . . Alexander Dul, who bought Romulus (Mich.) CC from Ed Mathe- son, has changed course name to Shady Hollow GC and has added a second nine built by Vern Stewart, supt. at Birch Hill (one of Matheson’s courses.)

Wilmer Goecke now pro at Walnut Grove GC, Dayton, O., succeeding Eddie Hetzel who switched after many years to Kitty Hawk, Dayton municipal course . . . The late Tom Blackburn’s contract as pro at Kitty Hawk was turned over by the Dayton department of recreation to Tom’s widow, Libby, and she hired Hetzel . . . Breckenridge (Minn.) CC
POWERED TOP DRESSER

The only machine of its kind with exclusive revolving brush that drives top dressing down to the base of the turf... where it belongs! One man can do the complete top dressing job alone because raking, pole whipping, and mat dragging is practically eliminated. Mechanically positive dispensing mechanism does not depend on agitation or vibration for spreading.

Fincastle will open its first nine about Aug. 1 and the second a month later... It was designed by Dick Wilson... Greens run between 8,000 and 9,000 sq. ft... Greens and tees are seeded to Penncross and fairways to Astoria bent, bluegrass and fescue... Fincastle members are confident that in golfing merits and scenic setting they'll have one of the east's best six courses.

Shell's Wonderful World of Golf films have been getting a big play on early season programs of men's and women's committees and general affairs at golf clubs... This TV show gets better every year and was a top job at the start... It certainly is the sports TV show most clearly and attractively identified with the sponsor's product and has sold Shell petroleum products to golfers for their personal, company and club use... In getting Ben Hogan vs. Sam Snead at Houston CC for a Wonderful World of Golf Show, to be on the air next winter, Fred Corcoran staged a great "conversation piece" for golfers.

TV authorities believe that pay television is not far away as the usual thing for sports programs... Big costs and limited time available for sports programs on TV are making the pay television arrangement inevitable, some advertising men believe... They doubt that pay TV will bring much added income to tourney...
pros . . . Alton (Toby) Lyons from Conewango Valley CC, Warren, Pa. to pro post at Burning Tree GC, Greenwich, Conn. . . . Andy Lentine in his 26th year as supt. of Tumble Brook CC, Hartford, Conn. . . . Andy Bieszad, in his 37th year as teaching pro at Hartford, Conn., Keney Park course, says kids are taking to golf now as naturally as boys used to take to baseball . . . Last winter, at the third of his annual school classes for the city’s recreation department program, Bieszad taught 300 boys and girls.

Saratoga GC, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., enlarging from nine to 18, with Francis J. Duane architect for the new layout . . . The club was organized in 1896 as the Saratoga Golf and Polo Club . . . John Plumbley expects to have his Forest Cove CC private 18 in north suburban Houston, Tex., in play in November . . . Paul Falls now pro at Kirtland CC, Willoughby, O. . . . Falls came from Dedham (Mass.) Country & Polo Club.

Charles Nichols now pro at Bethlehem (N.H.) CC . . . Norman Worthley now manager San Juan CC, Farmington, N. Mex. . . . Thomaston (Ga.) CC revamping its course with Southern Turf Nurseries renovating greens and fairways . . . Concord CC, Concordville, Pa., building $500,000 clubhouse . . . Open first nine of Sunny Crest CC, in suburban Rochester, N.Y. . . . Bob Hill is president, co-owner and pro . . . Will have 18 more holes at Sunny Crest in 1965.

There’ll be many park officials and golf businessmen watching developments at the two new 9-hole courses of Long Island state park commission at Sunken Meadow, about 45 miles from Broadway . . . It is believed there will be more people wanting to play nine holes than to wait seven or eight hours to play 18 . . . Green course is 3,125 yds., par 36 . . . Red course is 3,040, par 36 . . . Daily fee is $1.25 . . . Sundays and holidays, $1.75 . . . Each player must have a bag with at least five clubs.

Tom Nieporte, pro at Piping Rock Club (NY Met district), has a bowl of pennies (2,000 of them) on his ball counter . . . When members ask for ball markers he points to the pennies and says, "Help" (Continued on page 74)
If your fairways, greens and tees bear any indication of Brown Patch or other grass diseases, act now! We offer a complete line of excellent fungicides. Don't wait until your turf troubles increase — write and give us your problem. We can help you!

yourself.” They usually take only one . . . Tom, who was a circuit regular for four or five years, is becoming one of the top teachers . . . One of his recommendations to a pupil who is having trouble with a particular club is to take that club and a putter and play nine holes . . . He says the suggestion works well at a club where traffic is not heavy.

When all returns are in on the 1964 National Open, Congressional CC may take bows for breaking records . . . Ticket sales exceeded attendance due to heat reducing galleries . . . The program compiled and edited by Frank J. Murphy, Jr. and Nancy Jupp, ran to 276 pages and was packed with advertising.

Murphy, general chairman, had been working on the Open for two years and there never was a better organized tournament operation . . . From President Charles E. Phillips down to the newest caddie, the team was well trained and performed perfectly . . . The smart red and blue outfits of Congressional’s men and women tournament officials gave the show a gala appearance . . . Some of the women said that the red coats were a little too warm for the weather but the girls looked fresh and smart.

It’s a sure thing that Wiffy Cox in his new shop did a bigger volume of business than ever before was done at a National Open . . . The veteran Wiffy and his staff of Charlie Easton, Warner Gray, Al Price and Larry Wise, with Mrs. Cox helping to ease the heavy load, showed what an attraction and service to tournament visitors a well stocked pro shop can be . . . Jocko Miller, the club’s caddie-master, did a fine job in getting his youngsters prepared for the big one.

The press room, built especially for the Open, was convenient and comfortable for getting the work out fast . . . Jimmy Johnson, chairman of the press committee, has been at about as many tournaments as most of the writers covering the Open and has been a companion of many writers for years, so everything went smoothly in that department . . .
The USGA publicity staff again made wise and valuable use of the PGA's tournament publicity staff.

A. E. (Lon) Martin, Congressional manager and his associate, Paul Burley, conducted an impressive demonstration of how to handle a tremendous overload of house business with remarkably fast service in most cases . . . Crowds in some sections of the clubhouse were too great for the air-cooling capacity but not much discomfort was experienced.

Supt. John W. Henley and the Congressional course committee of Messrs. Gallagher, Reed, Danischefsky, Jacobsen and others, and every man on Henley's staff won a sort of a championship for teamwork and competence . . . The course was in excellent condition and kept that way throughout the tourney . . . Greens were sprayed lightly during the fiery days . . . Henley kept bottles of fresh water (not iced) on the tees for players and caddies and that was a life-saving idea . . . Officials and department heads of Bellerive CC in suburban St. Louis were at Congressional getting ideas on how to run things at the 1965 National Open.

Prestwick CC, Frankfort, Ill., which opened about a year ago, recently fell heir to a putter and gutta percha ball which were used by Andrew Strath in winning the 1865 British Open, which was played at Prestwick in Scotland . . . The memorabilia was obtained through Clyde Clark, a member of the Frankfort Prestwick . . . He has a number of relatives living near the original Prestwick, which is 113 years old . . . Strath, incidentally, knocked the gutta percha around the 1865 Open site in 162 for 36 holes.

Fellows who think they have trouble when they three-putt from three feet should be writing this column and making embarrassing mistakes when they know better . . . For instance, in June Golfdom we had Bill Moran going to Wildwood CC, Allison Park, Pa., when we knew that George Underwood holds that post and has a top aide in Ronnie Daughenbach . . . The Wildwood where Bill Moran is located is Wildwood G&CC,
YOU HAVE ANY OF THESE SPRINKLER SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS . . .

IF you want an economical, permanent system . . .

IF reduced water pressure in your area is causing decreased coverage...

IF you want mechanical sprinkling in areas where low water pressure previously ruled this out . . .

IF you want a trouble-free, no labor system . . .

then-the new field-proven Thompson Commander is for you. Forty p.s.i. discharges 15 g.p.m. to a 100 ft. dia. with only 4 1/2 lbs. pressure loss. This is the lowest pressure drop in the field. Engineering and craftsmanship of the Commander, backed by Thompson's 55-year reputation for quality, assure you of top performance and economy.

Gene Sarazen was the go-between when Ben Hogan met Sam Snead in a recent Shell “Wonderful World of Golf” episode that you'll see early in 1965 on TV. Hogan, playing perfectly from tee to green, won, 69 to 72. It was the first time he had defeated Sam in four head-to-head matches. The Shell series will be renewed next Jan. 17. As in the past, the matches will originate from courses around the world.

Cape May Court House, N. J. . . . We sorta got lost in the wildwood.

Malcom Taylor, supt. at the Moose Run Golf Course in Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska, has joined the GCSA, giving the organization representation in 49 of the 50 states . . . Idaho is the lone holdout . . . The final two rounds of the Western Open at Tam O'Shanter in Chicago, Ill., will be televised via Sports Network, Inc., on August 8-9.

PGA members got a four page letter from John MacArthur, with enclosure of sheet, newspaper page size and printed on both sides, with press items re the PGA-Palm Beach Gardens . . . MacArthur's letter, “To All Members of the PGA,” is dated May 28 and begins: “Yesterday I was given Mr. Cantrell's letter to you, dated May 6. I was shocked by some of the inaccuracies.” Then it goes on in the “you’re another” vein until the conclusion “Please don’t talk about the content of my letter to anyone not a member of the association. Remember, everything the PGA does is news. Publicity would further damage the PGA’s image as well as mine.”

MacArthur doesn't indicate how any “image” would be damaged further by Buck Turnbull, Des Moines Register and Tribune golf writer, is spending his weekends digging out or maybe digging out from Iowa's toughest 18 holes. The first three he ran into — at Wakonda, Davenport CC and Fort Dodge CC — proved to be quite disastrous. He was nine over par on them. At the rate he's going, he figures that he is going to end up with something around 125.

the facts of the PGA-Palm Beach Gardens agreement or its status . . . That is, if anybody could learn the facts . . . The present confusion is the result of lack of information and publicity when the PGA-Palm Beach Gardens deal was made . . . Reference is made in the MacArthur letter to PGA "Executive Committee" approval of actions of the Cantrell and Strong administrations . . . There has been a question whether the executive committee turned over the list of PGA members to MacArthur for his letter . . . Or how was the membership list secured?

MacArthur brought out a primary point in his letter . . . He has PGA members wondering why and how their association should be in the real estate business . . . At Palm Beach Gardens or Dunedin! . . . At this point cool heads are thinking that Warren Cantrell is the best luck that has happened lately to the PGA . . . And John MacArthur, in calling attention to how far the PGA members can be taken without knowing what the score is, may prove to be second only to Cantrell in value to the association.

This is more than just a victory smile. It reflects the excitement a woman feels immediately after she has shot a 64. The young lady is Ruth Jessen and her score, which came in the Dallas Civitan Open at Glen Lakes, tied the all-time Ladies PGA 18-hole record set in 1952 by Patty Berg. But in spite of that great one-round effort, Ruth was able to claim no better than third place.

City Park, New Orleans, opens its third 18-hole course . . . This is an outstanding achievement in municipal course construction — three championship courses at moderate price . . . President of the board is Ernest A. Carrere, Jr. . . . The golf chairman is Dr. Fred Ketchum and the general manager of the park is Ellis P. Laborde . . . Henry Thomas serves as pro.

Darrell J. Singleton now general manager of Talledega (Ala.) CC . . . Phil Martignetti now pro at Pinewood GC, Lucerne, Me. . . . Ken Tuckey, golf reporter of Reading (Pa.) Times, writes: "We honestly believe Berks County has just about attained its saturation point so far as public golf courses are concerned . . . In the past couple of years bowling alley and swimming pool business has leveled off to the point where one must think hard before embarking on a career of becoming a proprietor of a new bowling establishment or the owner of a swimming pool club in Berks County.”

Another warning to be heeded came indirectly from the annual meeting of the American Machine & Foundry Co. . . . Its 1963 net income was reported as being reduced to $9,510,102 after $9.5 million had been set aside for potential losses on the bowling business . . . And, Brunswick Corp., at its annual meeting, reported a $15,000,000 “special provision on accounts receivable.” . . . Both companies had operating profits in 1963 but writing off losses on the bowling “boom” hurt . . . And Brunswick and AMF are run by shrewd businessmen who got pushed toward the brink by a boom stampede . . . From their experiences in the bowling boom, the golf business ought to learn a lesson.

Golf course damage done when roads are relocated seems to be one of the toughest evaluation jobs . . . Club owners, private and public course officials, architects, real estate men, highway engineers and lawyers have widely varying opinions in almost every case . . . In very few cases is the price adequate to compensate owners for their investment in time, land and money . . . Highway departments often have powerful political, legal and lobby connections that make money on highway deals . . . Ordinary independent American citizens and even park departments can’t beat those odds.

Some expression of the factors involved in these deals, as observed by members of the American Society of Golf Course Architects, might be useful in judging these cases . . . A golf architect’s testimony in condemnation suits often seems
