Just before the opening of the 1974 Professional Golfers' Assn. Merchandise Show in Port St. Lucie, Fla., GOLFDOM made a random sampling of manufacturers around the country and asked them to comment about the show; how the professional might better use his time there, to predict merchandise trends for the coming year and to discuss rumors of delivery problems, which we keep hearing.

Without exception, everyone we talked to agreed that the merchandise show concept is a great asset to the golf industry and serves a definite need.

One manufacturer added a thought, though, which might have merit. He feels that the month of January is too late to hold a major show. By that time of year fashion merchandise has been committed; lines are sold out, resulting in unfilled or partially filled orders. A regional show, he feels, would be more aligned with the manufacturing cycle. A regional show in the Northeast, for example, could be held during November, a time when most club professionals have not started South and would be able to attend. A regional show would be especially attractive to professionals who do not go South during the winter months. A mid-November show would also allow the professional to make late purchases for his Christmas program.

John Cantwell of the AMF/Ben Hogan Company strongly advocates the show concept as it now exists, because, he feels, its unique atmosphere, not unlike a large outdoor bazaar, is impossible to duplicate with an indoor coliseum-type show. He would like to see the show in a permanent location, perhaps at its former West Palm Beach site. He added, however, that AMF would support the show regardless of the location. All other manufacturers contacted also favored a permanent show location, although some were reluctant to state a site preference.

Ken Boyce of PGA-Victor is enthusiastic about the show. "We think enough of the total concept that we sponsor the match-play tournament that goes on concurrently with the merchandise show. For us the show has been a tremendous success. We have increased our participation in the past two years and will do so again in 1974. We personally write a tremendous amount of business at the show."

The apparel trend for spring and summer 1974, according to Jack Lust of DiFini Originals, Ltd., will be toward lighter weight fabrics with smaller patterns, the look of classic elegance. The tailored collar is strong in men's shirts, but the fashion collar is making somewhat of a comeback. There is a tendency away from the all-polyester look, with blends developing strongly—polyester/silk and polyester/cotton. The linen look in shirts, slacks and jackets is important for the coming year. Lust predicts that the "Put Together Look" will be very much the new trend. The method of "coordinating" is now old hat. The "Put Together Look" depends on good blending, which will be demonstrated by DiFini in a new type of display presentation at their show booth this year. The exhibit is intended to teach the professional how to improve his display techniques for use at his club in addition to helping him buy better.

Another slack manufacturer felt that, although belt loops now dominate the pants market, most golfers still prefer the self-belt or beltless style because of its comfort and flexibility. He added that, although, there is interest in straight legs, the golfer has gotten used to the modified flair, which he will continue to prefer.

Some thoughts were expressed on how the professional should make the most of his time at the golf show.

All agreed that the single, important imperative for the professional was to, "Come to the show totally prepared." This means making up a plan before he gets there. The professional must know how much money he has to spend and in which areas he will spend it. Such a plan requires a review of past sales along with a breakdown of present inventory and those items already ordered in the fall for spring delivery. Armed with this information, the professional is ready to shop the show, making notes of the best items. Then and only then is he ready to place his orders.

The manufacturers pointed out that too many professionals come to the show with the purpose of buying, but are completely unprepared, without any plan. The results are sporadic: overbuying in some areas and underbuying in others, and almost always, an unbalanced inventory and a disappointing sales year. If the professional hasn't purchased enough of the hot items in the spring, he can be sure they will be unavailable from the manufacturers in May, June or July.

Don Drotman of Izod offered some unique thoughts. He felt that the professional must not attempt to do all of his buying at the January show, for two basic reasons. First, by late January most good lines are either completely sold out or badly depleted. Second, the professional doesn’t have time, during the three short days he has, to sit down at the show with each manufacturer and buy intelligently. Drotman suggests that the professional place his basic orders in the fall to be assured of spring delivery. Then the professional can go to the show with his remaining funds to purchase special items.

Izod will be featuring at the show what they call their “third line.” Completely different from their spring line, it features summer merchandise, emphasizing lightweight fabrics. The trade name they have chosen for this third line is “Dozi.” (Izod spelled backwards.) These items will be available for early summer delivery.

Izod decided to develop “Dozi” as a result of experience gained at the show. They simply were not in a position to fill spring orders taken late in January. The professional is helped if he can pick up a fresh new line for June and July, to complement the merchandise already in his shop.

Drotman feels that fabric weight is very important, especially for spring and summer. It must be light. Double-knits are still selling well in slacks and shirts. But a trend toward textured fabrics, which give a more natural look than the typical double-knit, appears strong.

He agrees that polyester blends will again be big, along with 100 per cent polyester. An advantage of polyester over cotton, Drotman points out, is that much better and more vibrant colors are possible.

Concerning deliveries, most manufacturers contacted agreed that if orders are received early most items will be delivered on time.

They point out, however, that because of shortages of some yams, especially natural fibers, such as cotton and wool, the professional must plan earlier to be assured of delivery. In some instances, even very early orders may not be delivered. Fine count cotton, for example, is in extremely short supply.

Most golf club manufacturers we talked with were noncommittal on the future of graphite shafts, although all admitted that they were selling well. Among the major equipment producers, Wilson has recently entered the graphite market. One comment made was that the graphite shaft has given the pro his greatest revenue potential since the introduction of the electric golf car. With all the talk about graphite, investment casting should not be overlooked. Once again, investment cast clubs are big news, with impressive gains over last year.

A golf bag manufacturer contacted pointed out that synthetic fibers will be used wherever possible, because the increases in the price of leather have virtually eliminated its use on a bag, except where leather is needed for strength. The trend here is toward the traditional, richer, more elegant appearance.

The big question with which all manufacturers are vitally concerned is the shrinking supply of raw materials. What this portends for the future, no one is willing to speculate.

BEN HOGAN ENTERS APPAREL FIELD WITH NEW SHIRT LINE

FORT WORTH, TEX.—A new offering for the golfer’s wardrobe is the Gentleman’s Shirt by Ben Hogan, which features a fabric that combines the drip dry characteristics of 65 per cent Du Pont Dacron polyester with the moisture absorbency of 35 per cent long-staple Pima cotton.

The shirts signal a product diversification for the AMF/Ben Hogan Company, which supplements the company’s well established line of fine golf equipment with quality golfwear.

Currently being supplied in 15 color and pattern knit varieties, the new merchandise includes solid color models in white, burgundy, light blue, maize, toast and navy, plus a choice of horizontal wide or narrow stripes or geometric prints.
Once again, it’s that time of the year when the Professional Golfers’ Assn. of America holds its annual Merchandise Show and January tournaments. This year the PGA is staging the events at the St. Lucie CC in the beautiful resort area along the North Fork of the St. Lucie River, between Fort Pierce and Stuart, Fla.

Golf Director LeRoy Phillips of the General Development Corp., a Miami-based area developer, reports that the annual PGA show will be held January 26 to 29 during the PGA Match Play Championships.

For the show, Phillips explained, there will be two large 150- by 300-foot tents and a smaller tent for the food concessionaire. All will be located on Morningside Blvd., adjacent to the 18th hole of the Sinners course, close to the river.

The show is expected to attract about 300 or so exhibitors of just about anything in the way of playing equipment or apparel that a golfer could want.

The show returns to the St. Lucie CC for the first time since 1963, Phillips noted.

Chuck Johnson is the host professional for the resort.

The St. Lucie Hilton Inn has 168 rooms and there are 52 villas. Two 56-room additions are under construction, with occupancy of one expected in time for the trade show.

The St. Lucie Hilton CC resort area of 1,000 acres has a Great Hall dining room, two snack bars, a 19th Hole bar and a Saints and Sinners Lounge where entertainment is nightly, except on Sunday.

It also offers boat rentals, marine facilities, fishing guides and charter boats and a nearby shopping center.

Because of the club’s proximity to Stuart, six miles to the south and Fort Pierce, 15 miles to the north, both of which are on U.S. 1, there is a wide variety of alternative places of lodging and meals and entertainment. Included in this area would have to be West Palm Beach, about 50 miles south, either by the Florida Sunshine Parkway or down U.S. 1. In this luxury resort area, there is entertainment galore (Jai Alai and dog racing are two examples) and many fine restaurants.

For those professionals who are unable to get reservations at the plush new Hilton Inn with its well-appointed rooms and beautiful terrace view of the scenic North Fork of the St. Lucie River, or who prefer to just stay in the town, there are any number of motels and hotels to accommodate them.

Some of the better known nearby places to stay include a Holiday Inn and a Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Fort Pierce, about 20 miles away, the Starlite Motel in Fort Pierce, about 15 miles distant, a Holiday Inn and Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Stuart, about 10 miles away, and a Sheraton Resort Inn on Hutchinson Island, some 12 miles distant.

For those with recreational vehicles, there is the Badger Court Mobile Home Park, about 10 miles away, Bryn Mawr Compresorts on Fort Pierce’s North Beach, some 22 miles north, and Venture Out at St. Lucie Outdoor Resorts of America at Nettles Island and Holiday Out at St. Lucie, all near Jensen Beach, about 12 to 15 miles distant.

Air travelers, coming into the St. Lucie CC by private plane will probably land at the Stuart airport, about 10 miles south of the club. It has facilities for nearly any type of private airplane.

Those arriving by commercial air will come in at the Palm Beach International Airport, 50 miles to the south. There are two ways to go from the airport. Either take I-95 north to PGA Boulevard in North Palm Beach, and branch east to U.S. 1 or west to the turnpike.

Food is always uppermost in the minds of travelers, and golfers are no exception. Let’s take a broad look at what is available for those who don’t want to partake exclusively of the cuisine at the Hilton Inn.

Looking south and staying close by, there is the renowned Frances Langford’s Outrigger restaurant in Jensen Beach, the Crow’s Nest in Rio, La Fonda and the Holiday Inn in Stuart, the Manatee Yacht Club restaurant in Port Salerno and the Sheraton Resort Inn on Hutchinson Island, to name some of the more popular ones.

To the north, in the Fort Pierce area, are Al DiVagno’s restaurant, Tony Marco’s Inn and the Hilltop restaurant, all north of town; the New England Oyster House, Frankie and Johnny’s restaurant, the Rialto restaurant and the Sun and Moon Chinese restaurant in Fort Pierce and Chambers’ Steak House west of Fort Pierce.

For those who don’t mind going a few extra miles, Vero Beach, 15 miles north of Fort Pierce, has the Ramada Inn, the Ocean Grill, the Driftwood Inn, the Menu and the Patio.

Golfers who like to fish will find countless opportunities to gratify their desires in the immediate area, beginning with snook in the St. Lucie River.

There is excellent surf fishing for bluefish and Spanish mackerel. Hutchinson Island, the Jensen and Stuart bridges have good bottom fishing. Charter boat captains at Port Salerno and in Fort Pierce will take fishermen off shore for a day’s fishing for sailfish, bonito, dolphin, wahoo, kingfish or grouper and snapper.

In January here, there is little chance of rain, although the weather can be a little chilly at times and quite windy. It’s good sweater and jacket weather in South Florida, so come prepared. If lucky, professionals may find shirt-sleeve weather the whole time.

ROYAL DAISY OFFERS FULL LINE FOR WOMEN
NEW YORK—Royal Golf Company has introduced the Daisy line of golf equipment to fill women’s need for a full line of professional quality golf equipment designed just for them.

For years women have complained that golf equipment offered them was merely the cut-down version of the men’s and that their golf bags never seemed to look feminine.

This equipment line, from golf balls to jackets, is designed to improve a woman’s golf game both physically and aesthetically.

The equipment was designed with investment cast stainless steel clubheads. Weight, length, and loft have been tailored to women’s requirements.

The Daisy items are colorfully coordinated to please the woman’s fashion sense. Up to now, women golfers have had to pick and choose golf equipment, clothes, and golf bags and bags from an assortment of brands. Now, with the Royal Daisy line, ladies can enjoy golf with colorful irons, shoes that are fashionable as well as waterproof, comfortable coats and jackets, and of course, attractive golf bags.
