Clippings

News

Landscaping the green
In part I of this series, French and Korbobo illustrate how landscaping can make a hole memorable

Converting poa with a pythium twist
Denver Superintendent Jim Young used an aerator in his battle and found that young ryegrass survived pythium

GOLF BUSINESS South
USGA report: The Southeast
Agronomist Charles White gives an overview of the problems Southeastern superintendents face daily

Controlling goosegrass with herbicides
B. J. Johnson relates what he has found during his research and what problems and successes can be expected

Classified

Viewpoint

FRONT COVER: Seen through the trees in late fall, this green on the Purdue University courses in Lafayette, Indiana, will have a lovely seclusion as the leaves come out in Spring.