Golf Rounds Played

The percentages below represent the difference in number of rounds played in September 2004 compared to the number of rounds played in September 2003.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>REGION</th>
<th>SEPT.</th>
<th>Y.T.D.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New England ME, VT, NH, MA, RI, CT</td>
<td>7.2%</td>
<td>3.1%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Middle Atlantic NY, PA, NJ</td>
<td>7.9%</td>
<td>2.6%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>East North Central MI, OH, IN, IL, WI</td>
<td>-10.1%</td>
<td>-2%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West North Central ND, MN, SD, NE, KS, IA, MO</td>
<td>6.9%</td>
<td>0%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South Atlantic WV, DE, MD, VA, NC, SC, GA</td>
<td>-12.1%</td>
<td>1.7%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida</td>
<td>-32.8%</td>
<td>-9%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>East South Central KY, TN, AL, MS</td>
<td>1.3%</td>
<td>2.8%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West South Central OK, AR, LA</td>
<td>2.8%</td>
<td>-3.3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>-4%</td>
<td>-2.7%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mountain MT, ID, WY, NV, UT, CO, AZ, NM</td>
<td>-9%</td>
<td>.6%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pacific WA, OR, AK, HI</td>
<td>-3%</td>
<td>-5%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>California</td>
<td>-2.6%</td>
<td>-1.1%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TOTAL UNITED STATES</td>
<td>2%</td>
<td>.6%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.

---

TIDBIT OF THE MONTH

PGA Village West

In mid-November the PGA of America announced it would be developing a massive equivalent to its PGA Village in Port St. Lucie, Fla. The PGA Village at Coyote Springs, which could eventually be home to 12 golf courses, will serve as the Western winter home to golf professionals. Nicklaus Design is slated to oversee the first course. The PGA is co-developing the project with Coyote Springs Investment, an affiliate of the Wingfield Nevada Group. For details on these and other golf projects around the U.S., visit www.golfconstruction-news.com.

---

That Excuse Stinks!

Did you know that 35 percent of U.S. workers admitted to calling in sick in 2004 even though they felt fine? And some did it more than once. So what excuses are your employees giving when they call off? Betchta they don't top any of the excuses listed below, which were garnered recently from a survey by Careerbuilder.com.

Check out these alibis.

- I was sprayed by a skunk.
- I tripped over my dog and was knocked unconscious.
- My cat unplugged my alarm clock.
- I couldn't find my shoes.
- I hurt myself bowling.
- I eloped.