Staying Ahead of Market Demands
Golf construction slows in-line with demand, so builders and architects tout real-estate projects and sustainable design.
By David Frabotta

Genius Misunderstood
Golden Age architects were good, but does reverence for their work undermine necessary golf course evolution?
By Mike Young

The Day After
Life (and plenty of work) goes on at the Oakmont Country Club for John Zimmers Jr. and his staff after hosting the U.S. Open.
By Larry Aylward
cover story
BY ANTHONY PIOCCI

Superintendents shirk stigma to find professional happiness with nine-hole golf courses.

24

About the cover
Photographer George Ruhe captures superintendent Jason Adams at the Norfolk Golf Club.

68
Real-Life Solutions
Nipping Poa in the Bud
Herbicide, although not a panacea to rid turf of Poa Annua, proves promising in controlling it.
By Larry Aylward

76
Tidying Up the Tee Box
Companies offer myriad products to dress this course area for success.

6
News with a hook
12 Emerald Ash to Saw Dust?
18 Legislative Update

74 Public Opinion
Gaining a Fresh Perspective

75 Company Line

79 Classifieds

Turfgrass Trends
This month, Golfdom's practical research digest for turf managers discusses neonicotinoids as a control for sucking insects and the disease resistance of bentgrass cultivars. See pages 55-66.