quickly available fertilizer so that it can respond during a short growing season. We also found that fertilizers containing higher food percentages are more readily available and usually more economical.

The greenkeeper of today does not have to turn his course into an experiment station. Neither does he have to ponder over methods of procedure for best fairway fertilization results. He knows.

BANZAI FOR TOM!
Mimamoto, Jap Pro, Welcomed Home from Tour

TOMAKICHI MIAMOTO, star Japanese professional who was launched on a globe-trotting tour by Bob Harlow, former impresario of the PGA tournaments, has returned home. Although the genial young Jap's appearance in last winter's tournaments and his presentation in the U. S., British and Canadian opens and summer exhibitions was the direct result of Harlow's negotiations with Japanese government officials, it seems as though the cable companies should have stood some of the financial rap as sport news sent back to Tom's homestead ran for lengthy wordage.

Arrangements made by Harlow for the appearance of Miamoto and for the American showing of Jose Jurado, Argentine star, are credited with being decided factors in boosting tournament and exhibition gates. Despite Japanese war moves in Manchuria and China during earlier stages of Miamoto's tour, the pleasant and well-mannered oriental proved a popular gallery feature. Honorable Son of Sock and Putt is a good golfer with a bad hole jinx hitting him for a few eights and nines and oblivion.

Jurado gave evidence of easily being among the best 4 or 5 of all imported scoring talent. His light frame couldn't stand the grind of the heavy booking of the exhibition dates with Hagen. However, he sails for Buenos Aires early in September with the L. A. Young Golf Co. guarantee of $5,000 for his American trip very comfortably exceeded by the sparkling Argentine's gate "take" and prize money.

Wilson Western Chief Reports Late Season Spurt—Hol-Hi Ball Sales 35% Better

Chicago, Ill.—Two official communiques from the Wilson-Western Sporting Goods Co. quote L. B. Icely, president of the company to the effect that happy days, if not actually here again, are exhibiting the first rosy tints of dawn.

Pros ought to be cheered by the Icely remarks about the higher priced goods going better as the higher priced merchandise is plainly the pro field.

Closely following on a story in GOLFDOM about golf's great merchandising opportunity being an extension of the playing season into the fine weather of the fall instead of the traditional drop shortly after Labor day, comes this first Wilson statement:

"A 6 weeks' extension of the newspaper advertising campaign of the Wilson-Western Sporting Goods Co. has been authorized by the company's officials, according to L. B. Icely, president. The campaign, inaugurated early this spring was originally planned to end in July. It is now to be carried through the middle of September.

"With the sale of our super compression Hol-Hi ball and our Sarazen trade-marked golf clubs showing marked increase this season over last year and reports from our field organization and dealers indicating, so far as our line is concerned, an increase rather than tapering off is to be expected at this time of the year, we have therefore authorized an appropriation extending our newspaper advertising campaign into the latter half of September,” said Mr. Icely.

“Our experience,” continued Mr. Icely, “which shows our high price golf clubs and balls selling in better volume this year than they did last season, seems to refute the statement heard so frequently that today's buyers are only interested in bargain merchandise. There are still great numbers of people financially able to purchase quality products and who recognize the intrinsic value of the better grade of merchandise in all lines. It is to this class that we have directed our advertising appeal in the past and to whom we are going to continue to address our appeal.”

Comment on the increase in Hol-Hi ball sales and improvement in sales of quality clubs is made as follows:

“Sales of Wilson-Western Sporting Goods Co. higher priced golf clubs, balls, and equipment for the current season show a substantial gain over last year,” says L. B. Icely, president of the company.

“Remarking on the sales results to date and the outlook for the balance of the season Mr. Icely said, ‘We have carried on a most aggressive merchandising and advertising campaign since the first of the year. In our newspaper advertising we have stressed our higher priced clubs and balls, particularly our Hol-Hi ball which retails at 75c. As a result, up to date the sale of this ball shows an increase over last year of better than 35 per cent. Our higher priced golf clubs also show a gain in sales.

“Since Gene Sarazen, who is a member of our advisory board, won the British and American open championships, in which he played with clubs and balls of our manufacture, we have experienced a decided impetus in the demand of our matched set of clubs which he designed and used and which we market under the Sarazen name.’

“With a number of industries and commodities showing a decided strengthening as reflected in retail sales and an upward trend in prices during the past several weeks, Mr. Icely anticipates Wilson-Western business will carry through August and September on a basis which will hold the sales gains made up to the present time through to the end of the present season.”

KROYDON "PRO PROTECTION" TO BE CONTINUED NEXT SEASON
Maplewood, N. J.—The fall of 1931 was a trying time but the Kroydon Co., deciding it was a propitious time to inaugurate a progressive step announced a new sales policy to pros. In effect, this sales policy meant that Kroydon ceased distributing clubs through large volume retail outlets. In 1932, a year when all golf manufacturers were anxious for sales, the Kroydon Co. tied themselves up almost exclusively with the pros.

What has been the result? The policy guaranteed the pro a profit. During the time that has elapsed since this policy was inaugurated, Kroydon has received the wholehearted support of the golf pros and has cemented their relations and today enjoys a more cordial regard than has heretofore existed.

In 1932, pros everywhere were disturbed by standard lines of merchandise dumped on the market at cut prices. Notwithstanding this tendency, Kroydon prevented any such sales of their goods except on discontinued models and where sales on discontinued models have been run over the name of a local store, names of the local pros have also been inserted in all advertisements so that players of a club could, if they chose, go to their own pro and buy the same merchandise at exactly the same prices as it would cost at the store. Thus the pro was protected in the matters of price and profit.

So well satisfied are Kroydon with the results of their new pro policy that they have decided to enlarge it still further and will shortly announce what Kroydon considers one of the most progressive policies the golfing world has ever seen—something that will mean more money for every pro and something that never before has been done by any manufacturer of golfing equipment.

The Kroydon Co. are tying themselves tighter and tighter up to the goodwill and to the future success of the pro in the distribution of their merchandise.

LEWIS TEE EQUIPMENT NOT TAXABLE

Watertown, Wis.—On July 21 the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the Treasury dept. at Washington, D. C., wrote the G. B. Lewis Co. informing that Lewis golf ball washers and other tee equipment as shown in their regular folder is not taxable under section 609 of the Revenue Act of 1932.

EVER GREEN CUTS WEBWORM ELIMINATION COSTS

McLaughlin Gormley King Co., makers of Ever Green pyrethrum spray for elimination of sod webworm call attention to an important revision in estimated costs of sod webworm elimination as estimated in August GOLFDOM.

Cost of pyrethrum treatment given in the GOLFDOM article was estimated on pyrethrum at $17.50 a gallon, 3½ cents a sq. ft., or $19.50 for a green of 5,000 sq. ft.

Ever Green, its compounders point out, costs only $9.00 a gallon and dilutes in a proportion of one gallon of the Ever Green material to 510 gallons of the treating mixture.

The correction is happy news to plenty of the greenkeepers who have been having hell's own time with webworm but have been scared to death to give adequate treatment because of fear of expense involved in face of strict orders to stick to monthly budgets approved by their directors last winter when webworms were taking advantage of mild weather by raising unusually large families.
