In the beginning, they called it "paganica", "chouille" and "kolf"—and played a leather ball. Then it developed its rules and origins. One such controversy led to the first international match of record—and involved royalty. In 1682, the then Prince of Wales, later James II, challenged certain English noblemen to a foursome to resolve a point. Playing with a poor Edinburgh shoemaker, John Paterson as partner, the Prince upheld Scotland's honor and trounced the Britishers soundly.

And that is but the barest glimpse of the fascinating facts, stories, anecdotes and recollections you'll find in this magnificent book.

The whole world of golf at your fingertips—in one giant volume.

No matter what you want to know about golf—its history, statistics, equipment, playing techniques, rules, golf courses, meaning of terms—no matter what you want to know, it's all here!

In 421 fact-packed pages—illustrated with more than 200 photos and line cuts—the whole panorama of the world's most popular game is laid out before you. Here are the stories behind golf's most famous personalities and most important events. Here are the cream pro-tips on how to play virtually every type of shot—and cut strokes from your score.

Here are the latest 1970 golf rules in their entirety—the evolution, selection and care of golf equipment—and a listing of over 1,000 American resort and public courses, with location, yardage and par ratings. Here is the most complete record of golf tournaments and championships ever printed—going back to the 1890's and brought right up through 1969 results.

Settle an argument—win a wager—become a golf "expert". For the first time, you can find everything you might want to know about golf in this one authoritative volume. Much of this information is simply impossible to locate for quick and easy reference whenever you need it.

Whether you want to settle an argument or win a wager—learn the fundamentals of the game or compare handicapping systems—check on the most accurate golf term or locate a golf course three thousand miles distant—the "Encyclopedia of Golf" has your answer.

This is a book you will refer to time and time again in the years ahead for playing tips, records, rules and just about anything to do with golf. And it is a handsome, richly bound volume—one you will come to prize more and more with each passing day.

Examine it for 10 days—Save $2 on this Pre-Publication Offer!

For a limited time, the editors of GOLF magazine invite you to accept the "Encyclopedia of Golf" at the specially reduced pre-publication price of only $11.95 (a full $2 saving on the regular 13.95 price!) It will be mailed to you as soon as it is off the presses (approximately 30 days from now). When you receive it—examine this definitive golf reference book without obligation for 10 days. Read about the spectacular events, the famous players—enjoy the fascinating biographies of the men and women who helped make golf the world's most popular game. Check out records, rules—the diagrams of famous holes and charts of top golf courses—and the hundreds and hundreds of other interesting and informative golf facts the book contains.

Then, if you don't agree that this is a book you want to keep—a book you'll refer to time and again in the years ahead—a book no golfer should be without—just return it and we will promptly refund your money in full.

But this pre-publication offer is good for a limited time only. So please mail the coupon now. Don't miss this opportunity to own the definitive reference work on golf!

create a monopoly in the retail sales of golf equipment.

"Golf City filed the suit" according to its attorney Henry Klein, "because the owner, James Orange, is being eliminated from competition. Golf City is the business of exclusively dealing in golf equipment, but it is unable to compete with the pro shops."

The attorney said that the PGA was included in the suit as a defendant because the law provides "anyone who benefits is liable."

In his ruling, Judge Comiskey declared in a memorandum of reasons for denying the motions:

"The court is convinced that the object of the conspiracy and its accomplishment are sufficiently alleged in the complaint so as not to be subject to any infirmity. The question which then arises is whether the plaintiff has alleged sufficient facts, details, or circumstances constituting the conspiracy itself.

"The defendants argue that these allegations are nothing more than bare legal conclusions and do not meet the requirements of pleadings set forth" in cases cited.

"It may well be that this contention has merit, but the court is of the opinion that determination of this vital issue at this time would not be the best course to take in this proceeding."

The Federal judge asserted he understood Golf City intends to file an amended complaint and suggested "the plaintiff should allege his full case now so that the motions to dismiss can be considered once and for all rather than in several phases.

"Therefore, without, in any way intending to rule on the merits of the motions to dismiss, the court directs counsel for the plaintiff to proceed with his proposed amendment to the complaint after which these motions will be set down for re-argument in the light of the amended complaint and will be ruled upon at that time."

At press time, Golf City had not filed its amended complaint. However, once this is done, the defendants would again have the opportunity to file for dismissal.

AMERICAN WINES

the wine average Frenchman drinks daily.

In the field of high-quality wines, or "premium wines," American wines compare favorably with nearly all the Clarettes of the Bordeaux district, as well as with many of the better white Burgundies. American wines come less close to the great red Burgundies, the Sauternes (though not to the dryer Graves), and is far from equaling the superior whites of Germany; the Moselles, the Rheingau, or the wines of the Rheinpfalz.

There are few, if any, American wines comparable to the better vintages of the Loir—the Vouvray, the Anjous, the Pouilly-Fumés—or the finer Alsatians or the greats of the Rhône Valley. It may be doubtful at this stage, whether or not the American public is ready for such an array of vinous complexities, even if they were available. But many American wines have no import equivalents what so ever.

Wine sales in America are big business, and a growing one, too. In 1969 alone Americans spent over one billion dollars for American wines, representing an ever-increasing trend and substantial increase over 1968. The opportunity for increasing wine sales in on-premise establishments is almost unlimited, because people are now spending about eight times as much for wines to consume at home as they do for wines to consume in the restaurant. Thus, it's more than patriotism for the club manager to know about American wines—it just makes good sense.

Mr. Scharff is a former executive secretary of the New York State Wine Institute. He is a free-lance writer whose book, "The GOLF Magazine Encyclopedia of Golf," was recently published.

FORMULA

or July at the rate of five pounds per thousand square feet. The 26 acres of fairways can be easily fertilized in one eight-hour day.

With a feeding program that requires minimum applications using minimum man-hours, Yoder and his two-man crew can manage the mowing, the preventive and curative fungicidal program and the other cultural practices. Few applications of herbicides are necessary because the healthy dense turf restricts the development of noxious weeds. A periodic insect and grub control program is followed as required.

The annual rainfall in Somerset averages 35 to 45 inches. Thus, Somerset does not need a regular irrigation system. This makes a program of proper liming, feeding and mowing even more important, because the turfgrass must at all times be healthy enough to survive the drought period as well as the other normal hazards. Among these normal hazards is a golfing membership of 250 that puts 100 golfers on the course each day during weekends and holidays. This adds up to a traffic of 200 18-hole golfers on each tee, green and fairway of this course. Yoder with his easy-going, pleasant smile comments, "Over the years I've learned that I can measure the satisfaction of my golfers by the quality of my turfgrass."

Today, highly respected by professionals as well as his own club members, Yoder's course at Somerset was considered in 1969 by professional Chuck Scally of Pittsburgh and winner of the 1969 Somerset Pro-Member Tournament, to be one of the best manicured in the Tri-State area.

Part of the credit for Somerset's outstanding course, however, should go to the cooperation between Yoder and Howard Miller which enabled the program to begin.
