Think tank vs. Gas tank

The fuel shortage may cut down on your salesmen's calls, but our ideas keep flowing. We think trade and only trade. In our feature material and in our advertising. And we deliver to your customers in print, the same sales message you'd like delivered in person.

Here's how:

1. GOLFDOM calls on 42,000 golf industry management people—like clockwork—ten times a year. (That's twice as many calls as the average salesman makes.) And among GOLFDOM's regular readers are every one of your customers.

2. GOLFDOM talks to the buyers and the people who usually influence and often authorize the buys. GOLFDOM reaches all the management areas in the golf business—the Pros, Club Manager, Superintendents, Committee Chairmen—decision makers.

3. GOLFDOM gives you two-way communication.

   Our Inquiry Service enables customers to get back to you after they've read your product story. Every ad is keyed. The customer circles the number of the product he's interested in, mails the inquiry card back to us and we deliver this sales lead to you.

   Our Buyer's Bulletin lists products by generic type. Course maintenance and equipment. Food and liquor. Furnishings. Apparel. The works. Customers check the products they're in the market for and we pass the information on to you. Together with advance sales leads on new course and club openings and expansions.

   In fact, since September, our dual inquiry service has produced twice as many sales leads as the previous issue high.

   Call or write and we'll get GOLFDOM's think tank working for you now!
