Okay, so maybe it doesn’t work in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. Or the Gobi Desert. But thanks to our exclusive StressGard™ formulation technology, new Chipco Triton® FLO fungicide can be used just about everywhere else. On roughs, greens, tees, and fairways. In most disease situations, including anthracnose, brown patch, and dollar spot. It even works under stressful summer conditions when other fungicides simply don’t. And since it plays well with others by mixing easily with existing fungicides, it gives you the flexibility to use it in the way that works best for you.

Why Buy a Smithco Bunker Rake?

7 reasons

Our bunker rake prime movers are the easiest to use, safest and most effective bunker rakes made. But, it takes the addition of Smithco's wide range of golf course maintenance implements to create a system that is in a class by itself. Implements typically mount on the front, center and rear.

And here’s 1 more reason...

New Qwitch lets you change implements with one hand in less than a minute.

Smithco was founded 43 years ago and is still a family business. Test-drive any Smithco product. Discover what a difference pride and continuity, good people and new ideas can make.

The Company Line

John Deere

Golf’s HD200 and HD300 Select-Spray turf sprayers are accurate and easy to use, the company says. The sprayers offer flexibility, with a choice of a centrifugal or diaphragm pumps, manual or automatic rate controller and boom options that come standard with an electro-hydraulic lift. More versatile than a single-purpose sprayer, these new sprayers detach (and re-attach) in minutes with no tools. With convenient storage stands, the utility vehicle is free to do other tasks when not used for spraying. An efficient valve bank design simplifies operation and plumbing.

For more information, contact www.johndeeregolf.com.

GNC Stealth Sprayers feature a sleek design, molded to fit most utility vehicles and trucks. Constructed with reinforced industrial poly material, these units are easily accessible and lightweight, according to the company. Options include:

- 75- or 100-gallon tank;
- 12 volt/16amp 5 GPM pump system;
- standard gas power set-ups; and
- hose reel and hose options.

A complete boom setup is also available with standard boom design or new innovative boomless nozzles, with choice of manual or electrical controls.

Old Fred & Young Jeff

HOME COURSE TAKES ON A NEW MEANING FOR THE KLAAK FAMILY DURING THE PLAYERS CHAMPIONSHIP

BY GEOFF SHACKELFORD

Old Tom and Young Tom Morris. Old Fred and Young Jeff Klauk.

Bet you’d never think of hearing those names in the same breath. But since Jeff made his Players Championship debut on TPC at Sawgrass in Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., the course his dad so lovingly maintained for 26 years, the world of golf hasn’t seen a father-son greenkeeping duo get so much attention.

After Lee Westwood withdrew from the Players, 31-year-old Jeff was assured a spot thanks to his solid FedEx Cup points standing after a stellar West Coast swing, earning him a spot in golf’s biggest event not designated a Major. It also happened to be the course he grew up around, playing about 1,000 times by his estimates.

Old Fred was the central figure in TPC Sawgrass’ evolution and the prime supervisor of Pete Dye’s 2006 renovation that converted the greens to a MiniVerde bermudagrass and fairways and tees to 419 bermudagrass.

The 35-year GCSAA member retired after the 2008 Players to open his own consulting business, Off Course Consulting, and to watch his son play the PGA Tour.

Like all great things, this didn’t come easy.

Jeff was a top American Junior Golf Association (AJGA) prospect and graduate of Florida Southern before toiling on the Hooters and Nationwide tours, missing out on a PGA Tour card by two shots in 2002. Making matters worse, Klauk led during the last round of that year’s Nationwide Tour Championship through 10 holes, but the round was wiped out because of weather and a chance to move into the top 20 and onto the PGA Tour was gone.

Then the injuries started, with shoulder surgery and several mysterious seizures that still haven’t been diagnosed. But Jeff finally earned his card after $400,000 in 2008 Nationwide winnings. The week before the Players, he received official confirmation that he was in.

“I’ve always dreamed of playing this tournament, having grown up out here, and mown the fairways and greens,” he said before the tournament last month. “It’s going to be awesome.”

Fred only put Jeff to work on his staff after the young lad earned his first speeding ticket on the way back from a Hilton Head AJGA event.

“I’ve always dreamed of playing this tournament, having grown up out here, and mown the fairways and greens,” he said before the tournament last month. “It’s going to be awesome.”

Fred only put Jeff to work on his staff after the young lad earned his first speeding ticket on the way back from a Hilton Head AJGA event.

“I had to tell dad I got a speeding ticket,” Jeff said.

The next day he was mowing greens. Another time he was stuck with a more dangerous gig.

“I had to fly mow one time on a lake bank, and I’m like, this is not going to help my golf game whatsoever, pulling this thing up and down the lake bank. It wasn’t much fun at all. I was pretty sore the next day.”

But he eventually worked off the speeding ticket and continued the part-time crew work to earn spending money until college.

When Players tournament time arrived, Klauk attended a mandatory rookie’s press conference where he was the most popular interview as other no-names sat and punched their cell phones. He was asked about players criticizing his dad’s work in the past.

“To see guys complain at times just made me upset because I know how hard he works to make it what it is,” Jeff said.

Klauk finished with rounds of 72-71-71-71 and tied for 14th. But it was his first shot to the island green 17th that had everyone anxious. Well, everyone but Fred.

“I was more nervous for his opening tee shot on the Tour,” Fred said.

Back when he was 10, Jeff knocked it in the drink his first time on the 17th tee. But in round one of his first Players Championship, he used his effortless swing to knock it about 20 feet. Fred’s wife and Jeff’s mom, Peggy, watched with pride. Just as she has in all the years she has watched her son play.
