Hawthorne Boss Says Hello

March 5th, 1930

Colonel John Morley,

Youngstown, Ohio.

My dear Colonel:

I salute you and send congratulations, not only for your deserved title but for the wonderful showing at Louisville.

I have just returned from the South to which place I journeyed from the Convention and hasten to assure you of the excellent time I had and to comment on the marked improvement in every department of the show. This, to my mind, is proof that the old adage "Nothing succeeds like success" must be true.

The machinery and supply exhibits were marvelous and what an improvement over former years. Of course, thanks to Fred Burkhardt.

The talks were splendid and full of meat.

I hope to be able to drop in on you sometime during this summer.

With best wishes and hope for your continued good health, I am, dear Colonel,

One of your obedient privates,

R. H. Montgomery.

A Novel Plan

A NOVEL plan in the construction of golf courses has been announced by Ulrich Golf Courses, Inc., Sycamore, Ohio. In outlining this plan, Mr. R. O. Ulrich, president of the company, says:

"Where a community is interested in a golf course to the extent that they will support same by a satisfactory membership we construct and operate a course under our own management. We opened our first course under this plan at Shelby, Ohio last August with a membership of over two hundred as the Shelby Country Club.

"Under this plan we give the members of each club practically all the privileges as if they owned the course themselves, they having an organization among themselves of their own officers, committees, etc. The plan proved so popular with the members that we decided to add additional courses and now have under construction a new course at Marion, O., and at Upper Sandusky, O., both of which will be opened soon.

"The kind of course we construct at the beginning depends of course, largely upon number of members and membership fee. The idea of members having a place to play golf without any details or to be troubled in any way about its management has certainly been highly satisfactory.

Lost Hog Finds Good Home

Fred Burkhardt, greenkeeper of the Westwood Country club, happened to look out over the green last Friday. He rubbed his eyes and looked again. Then he dashed madly toward the course.

For a wayward hog, weighing more than 500 pounds, was nonchalantly beginning a leisurely stroll across the well-kept grass of the golf links.

After much persuasion, Burkhardt convinced the animal that it isn't nice for heavy hogs to walk around on country clubs' golf courses, and after more persuasion had the hog corralled in a shed.

Then came the problem of finding the owner of the hog.

Burkhardt reported the incident to Police Chief Gundar Robertson of Rocky River, who dispatched officers all over the village seeking the owner of the lost hog. But no one had lost a hog in Rocky River.

Then, on Sunday, Chief Robertson was notified by a resident of an advertisement in the Sunday paper lost and found column, pleading for the return of one 500-lb. hog, lost from a truck between Lorain and Cleveland. The chief called the advertiser, Fred Dahs of Kimball, O., who called Monday for his hog.

Burkhardt, who fed the animal for three days, says he knows now what is meant by people "making hogs of themselves."

Hyper-Humus

A Super Quality of Soil Humus
A Cultivated, Prepared Soil Organic

Use it as a compost for top dressing established greens.

Mix it with top soil and sand for foundation of new greens.

Hyper-Humus is not dug raw from our deposit at Newton but is scientifically produced by cover cropping and cultivating of the upper six inches only to produce a top notch humus true to name—a pure soil organic. Disease free—clean, odorless, pleasant to use.

100 pounds will retain 190 pounds of water. So insure your greens and fairways this Spring against a repetition of the famous 1929 drought.

Write for literature and our special suggestions to greenkeepers gained by actual operating experience.

What a Putting Green Is

By JOE WILLIAMSON
Greenkeeper, Scioto Country Club

*Long years have I dreamed and lived in hope
That I some day would glean
And learn the secret art and dope
To make a putting green.*

*For years I have labored and tilled the soil
This mystic thing to know;
But, alas, in vain has been my toil,
For it's a place where the grass won't grow.*

*The Pros tell us what it should be
Which does not make it so;
For what it is, is what puzzles me,
And I still would like to know.*

*'Tis quite a puzzling problem—
At least it is with me,
For to satisfy the dub or pro
Has sapped my energy.*

*A putting green is our despair,
Now this you can't deny,
With all the dope that's been put there
Then do you wonder why?*

*For you put in dope at much expense
From every clime and source,
Instead of using common sense
And letting Nature take its course.*

*The scientists won't come right out
And tell us what to do
For they, like us, are in grave doubt
And would tell us if they knew.*

*A putting green, take my advice,
Is a putting place—that's all.
It's mostly the salesman's paradise
And only the greenkeeper's pall.*

*This much I've learned, I now declare,
No matter what you sow
A putting place all rank and bare—
And a place where the grass won't grow.*

Modesty Outraged

The man was playing alone. Two boys kept following him around the course. At the ninth hole, he turned to the boys and said "You'll never learn to play watching me."

"We're not watching you," said one of the boys. "We're going fishing as soon as you dig up some more worms."

Spraying Time Is Near

The time is not far distant when greenkeepers and superintendents of grounds will be facing the problem of spraying their putting greens, tennis courts, polo fields, baseball diamonds and fine lawns to bring them into early condition and to produce the clean, healthy expanse of fine turf which is demanded by their employers.

It is for the above class of work that the Friend sprayer is particularly adapted. This company makes a small outfit known as the "Golf Friend" which is a self contained unit of ample capacity and can be moved about easily from place to place. This power sprayer eliminates a deal of hand labor and can be used for soluble fertilizers, as well as insecticides and fungicides. It is manufactured by the Friend Mfg. Company, Gasport, New York, who have agents in most of the large cities of the United States.
