Operation

The ball is inserted in an oblique slot in the hard maple paddle. A few easy strokes scrub it clean between two stiff brushes. The oblique slot causes the ball to rotate on each stroke, cleaning every side thoroughly. Only pure soap and water are used, no sand. A simple, sure, quick method of washing golf balls.

OUR next meeting of the Midwest Greenkeepers' Association will be held February 25th, at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago. The meeting will begin at seven in the evening. At this meeting there will be present an evergreen specialist, who will discuss the process of growing, the difference between varieties and something of their uses, especially their adaptability to park and golf grounds. Colored slides will accompany this talk. If you have any problems on evergreens at your club, bring them along.

Having somewhat recovered from the activities of the Columbus meeting, we will venture to state that Columbus seems to have an over quota of beautiful women—also it appears that some of our boys proved admirable connoisseurs.

Our honorable president, Matt Bezek, acted as guide on one of our morning trips to visit golf courses. Matt had remembered that Scioto Country Club had been passed as he entered Columbus from his Chicago drive and that it was only a short distance out of Columbus—so with these impressive facts we elected him official guide. However, Matt had become slightly twisted in his directions and directed us southeast of Columbus—after driving about forty miles out—we finally about faced and returned. It did seem odd to the other members of the party that driving from Chicago to Columbus we should enter from the southeast. Ben Hagge of Casa del Mar acted as chauffeur, the other members being all Midwest officers. "Amos" Sheets kindly furnished us with his Nash sedan. Later when we visited Scioto we found it north of Columbus.

The Midwest Greenkeepers' Association wishes to extend its sincere hope for the rapid return of health to one of our life honorary members, Alfred E. Lundstrom. We missed you at Columbus, Al.

We sorta had an amusing experience at the Stag Friday evening—we were getting some sandwiches at the table, but there was no bread, so we entered a side room, where three colored boys were getting the refreshments ready and one slicing bread. The big boys, evidently the captain, was issuing the following instructions, "Now you all take these trays out and set them down, let the damn farmers help themselves."

Well, soon another year will roll by and we'll be meeting again in New York City.

Some of you Midwest members are becoming strangers. Come on let's see you at more meetings. You'll not regret it!! Let's get rolling!!!
