

JOHN MacGREGOR

Are You Ready for Chicago

The President of the National Association of Greenkeepers of America invites all hands to come to the big Show at Hotel Sherman the first week in February

By JOHN MacGREGOR

ON JANUARY 31, 1933, the 7th Annual Convention and 6th Golf Show of the N. A. G. A. will be underway. ARE YOU READY?

Hotel Sherman, in which the entire program of lectures and exhibits will be held, is ready to accommodate all of the greenkeepers, golf officials, and their wives. Their large and comfortable rooms range in price from $3 single, $4.50 double, and $6 with twin beds.

When you arrive at the hotel go to the desk where you will find a member of the entertainment committee, which is headed by the genial Eddie Dearie, who will give you any information you may desire, and what this committee has in store for you during your stay in our fair city will be something to remember! As for the ladies—will they be crazy about the "Tarzan" who will look after their interests?

The entertainment committee has arranged a dinner dance at which the famous "Ole Maestro" himself, Ben Bernie, will appear with an all-star floor show from the College Inn.

You no doubt have had an opportunity to look over the Convention program which appeared in the December issue of the NATIONAL GREENKEEPER, and believe you will agree with me when I say that every man who attends the Convention will be richer in knowledge of the problems confronting him as every speaker is a recognized authority on the subject assigned him.

From reports which I have received this is going to be a Convention of record attendance. The fact that the World's Fair grounds will be open to convention groups at a very nominal charge has been the means of increasing the expected attendance.

Exhibition space is being contracted for rapidly which shows exhibitors are expecting an increase in business with the New Year, and feel the best way to get this business is to exhibit their product to the men with whom they will do business.

The Show Committee is working hard on preparations for the Show and everything as usual will be in readiness for the mass of exhibitors. Everything will be in readiness for you when you come to the greatest Convention city, Chicago, Jan. 31, 1933. And so take it all in all, you are due for "one big, grand time," because we mean to promote by this Convention a closer friendship and a firmer cooperation between officers and members, and thus make our organization truly stand for Justice, Benevolence, and Education.
