

Like so many older courses, Kaz's course is loaded with large trees, and he advises players to stay on the fairways, unless they enjoy identifying plant life amongst the trees. In spite of the many trees already growing, Kaz is still actively pursuing a tree planting program. Cottonwoods are planted in great numbers, in spite of the problems which they bring. Evergreens are also used, such as Redwoods Japanese Black Pines, and the Canary Island Pine.

THINGS - The March meeting at Walnut Creek was a marvelous success. We had good weather for golfing, lots of superintendents and guests, a fine speaker, Ted Reilly, who came through with some of that fine sly humor for which the English comedies are known, and a highly interesting film. Even though most people directed their kind remarks to me, I must point out that I owed a lot of that success to the unfailing help of one man, Frank DeCarli of Pen-Gro Sales, who is solely responsible for bringing the speaker here. And so, if Frank was overlooked in the throwing of flowers and bouquets at the time of the meeting, I want to publicly say: Thanks, Frank, for your most welcome and indispensable help.....Lee Huang

.....We had two members of the Association pass away last month..... Paul Jones - founder of California Toro. Paul was an Honorary Member of the Association, and also the one who donated the identification buttons for the members which we used to wear before we switched to the present pocket ID cards.

Harold Sanburg - Sales Manager of Brady-Holmes in Sacramento passed away suddenly from a heart failure. He had been feeling poorly that day, and had gone home. While telling his wife that he was not feeling well, he collapsed and died. Our condolences go to his wife and family.
