

HISTORY -- CLAREMONT COUNTRY CLUB was first incorporated in January 1903. At the time of incorporation, the laws of the state prohibited a corporation such as this from owning more than fifty acres of land in one body. The founders of Claremont Country Club were significant in having this law amended. This amendment enabled other clubs to expand.

The acreage which Claremont finally purchased (107 acres) was a portion of an old Spanish land grant made by the King of Spain in 1820. Claremont Country Club formally opened on December 3, 1904.

The original objectives of the founders were "To foster, encourage, promote, advance and create interest in and the practice of an encouragement of golf, lawn tennis, baseball, football, la crosse, steeple chasing, hare and hounds, bowling, polo, trap shooting, pigeon shooting, riding, driving, billiards and all other outdoor and indoor sports upon the property owned by the club." Thank goodness for the superintendent that all of these activities never came about.

In January of 1937, the Oakland Open was held at Claremont. The list of entrants included many of the top names of the day. When it was all over, however, the winner was a 24 year old youngster who had never before won a major tournament. He swept the veteran pros off the links with a 270, scored 69-65-69-67. His name was Samuel Jackson Snead.

Today, Claremont Country Club, which sets in the hills of East Oakland, measures 5,735 yards. It is heavily wooded and boasts many bunkers. The fairways consist mainly of poa and bermuda. Due to the extensive rainfall we also have a tremendous clover cover. The greens are a mixture of poa and seaside bent. Our up-to-date water system was installed in January of 1933.

We have a crew which ranges from 10 to 12 men year round.

As guests of Claremont Country Club we must abide by the same rules as the membership, so please remember that while playing golf--no shorts allowed and power carts only for those physically disabled (hand carts are o.k.) There will be a limited amount of caddies available. To attend the meeting, a coat and tie are mandatory.

Hope to see all of you here.
