

Allan is a graduate of Cal Poly, Pomona with a major in Park Management. His first superintendent position was at Sunnyland Golf Course, Palm Springs. After two years he moved to Crystal Springs Golf Course, Burlingame. Four years went by and Allan applied for the vacant position at Hidden Valley Lake and was accepted. He has been a member of GCSANC for seven years and a GCSAA member for four years. Allan strongly believes in the continuing education program such as Asilomar to balance the everyday practices we use in the field. Allan and his wife Alace have two sons Scott 19 and Drake 16. They reside in the Middletown area.

Meeting Notes by Tom Thatcher, Stanford Golf Course

Our meeting at San Jose Country Club was an outstanding event featuring good social times, fine steak lunch and a larger than normal attendance.

The program was represented by such notables from the Northern California Golf Association as John Zoller, Charles McFarland, Henry Hinds and Ron Read. Discussion ranged from course setup for P.G.A. type playing conditions to basic rules to be used in marking the course for this type of play. Concluding was open discussion and interpretations of those rules as it pertains to us.

Cliff Wagoner thanked them for all of their support.

A big thanks to Steve Carlton for his fine support and effort for the meeting place and a fine golf course. We all enjoyed our day except when the water came on us. It was a short pause (refreshing) until Steve saved us and turned the water off. Thanks Steve.

Jim Prusa, Pasatiempo, Santa Cruz reports The GCSA of America Executive Committee approved the Education Committees recommendations to

1. Give scholarships out with priority to those turf schools which have adopted our recommended curriculum
2. Study the feasibility of accrediting our GCSAA seminars as a university extension program which could lead to a college degree.

3. Establish a film and slide reference library for GCSAA members.
