In addition to food and beverage, meeting rooms, golf and education, there are other costs that must be covered on a monthly basis. For these additional fees are assessed as follows:

- $2.00 fee to cover administrative costs, ie: printing, envelopes, postage and me.
- $3.00 for tournament prizes. This pays for the gift certificates for the tournament winners and can be redeemed at the pro shop of any course. Therefore, the money goes back to support the industry which employs you.
- $2.00 goes directly back to the Scholarship and Research Fund maintained by the Association.

The monthly meeting locations and costs are dictated by the superintendents willing to allow the Association to use their facilities for our meetings. If you can offer your club at a lower cost, by all means, contact the Program Chairman Randy Gai, CGCS, or the Assistant Program Chairman, Bill Kissick, CGCS, and let them know you would like to contribute to the Association by holding a monthly meeting.

There are very few laws that affect you in this approach. The most significant ones would be the hazardous materials laws. Any treatment unit will produce some waste by-product -- dirty filters, waste oil, waste sludge or sediment. If the pollutant concentrations of this waste by-product are of a certain level or quantity, and if this waste by-product can be classed as hazardous, then the State Department of Toxic Substance Control will regulate you.

BUYER BEWARE!

Wastewater treatment is an applied science that has been around since the early 1940s. Most of the technology in use today has been focused at industry or government, not small scale. There have been many technological improvements in recent years that simplify the scaling down of these tried and true methods.

In the golf course small-scale application there are a lot of choices, hardly a one of them alike. Some work better than others. One would have to take a college course in basic wastewater treatment technology to understand and appreciate the technological differences between the choices in treatment equipment and the methodology.

In the next article I will explain in some depth the different techniques and technologies that are currently offered on the market for wastewater treatment and recycling.
