More Water Quality Data Needed For GCSAA Study

GCSAA's Golf Course Water Quality Study has received a number of responses — especially from golf courses in eastern and southeastern state — to requests for the results of water quality monitoring projects, reports Amy Svrjcek, the project coordinator for Environmental & Turf Services Inc. of Wheaton, MD. However more responses are needed.

If your golf course has conducted, or if you know of golf courses that have conducted water quality monitoring for surface water or ground water, GCSAA would like to use that information in the Golf Course Water Quality Study.
Please contact Svrjcek at: (301) 933-4700.
