UC Davis to Hold 1999 Pest Science Conference

The 1999 Pest Science Conference is designed to present the latest research in pest science and includes more than 40 speakers from nine UC Davis campus departments and programs. The conference addresses pest management problems relating to field and vegetable crops; deciduous orchards and vineyards; and turf, greenhouse and landscape environments. Several hands-on workshops are featured to enhance the learning experience. Coordinators are Clyde Elmore, Ph.D. and James MacDonald, Ph.D. The conference is scheduled Tuesday December 14, 9:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, December 15, 9:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. Ten hours of DPR Continuing Education will be offered. Fee is $125. For more information, contact the UC Davis Extension at (530) 757-8899. /

Free Computers Offered to Superintendents Who Participate in Trial

G-Support.com is offering to install free Pentium III computers with Hughes high-speed satellite connections for 50 Northern California Superintendents. G-Support.com is a web site developer who is seeking to provide superintendents with a full service golf course site. The site is intended to eliminate searching the Internet for turfgrass information and other superintendent friendly information. The site will eventually enable the superintendent to conduct e-commerce, track inventory, research turfgrass information, and keep personnel and management records. It is intended to be a one-stop site for everything we do. The trial will entail logging on to the site once a week and providing some feedback on the content. Superintendents without prior computer or Internet backgrounds are especially welcomed. For more information on this program, check the web site at <http://www.g-support.com>. You can also contact National Sales Manager Mike Trompeter at (800) 809-5666 or mtrompeter@g-support.com. /

Quick Quote

The optimist feels that we live in the best of all possible worlds. The pessimist fears exactly that.
