

Yet another year is soon to leave us. The hands of time keep on turning, like the arms on an aerifier machine in October. There are many jobs to get done before we can "call it a year" and therefore October must be one of the busier months in the superintendent world.

Ever heard the expression "All I needed to know about life I learned from my dog"? I am sure most of us are familiar with that caption or some variant of it. I guess the lesson learned recently was that even in the midst of a busy time, like a construction project, you can still take a moment and enjoy the NorCal Indian summer.

Oh yeah, congratulations to our San Francisco Giants!
