

Ever since its introduction, BAYLETON® Turf and Ornamental Fungicide has been one of the most popular products of its kind.

And no wonder. Its systemic action is not only effective, it keeps the control you need from being washed away or mowed off. So you can apply BAYLETON whenever--and wherever--you want.

And now, that famous BAYLETON control is available in a convenient new package. The drum. It not only keeps BAYLETON fresh and dry, it enables you to use exactly how much you need.

That's especially important when you tank mix BAYLETON for even broader control. Its ability to be used in combination with other products is one of the most outstanding features of BAYLETON, and now, that's even easier to do.

MORE CUSTOMER SATISFACTION

PUTS YOU IN CONTROL. What happens when you meet a customer face to face? Are you confident? Are you in control? With Barricade® preemergence herbicide, you will be. It controls crabgrass and 29 other tough weeds – without staining. That means fewer callbacks and more satisfied customers. With low active ingredient, Barricade also minimizes worker exposure and lessens the environmental load. What's more, it can be safely applied to both turfgrass and ornamentals.

It's 5 a.m. and you're facing a fifth straight day of rain. Who could have predicted it? Fortunately you're in control. You've already taken advantage of the flexibility that only Barricade provides. Unlike any other preemergence herbicide, an early application of Barricade – even when applied as early as fall – provides season long control. So even if the weather doesn't cooperate, you don't have to worry about lost opportunities. With the lowest water solubility, Barricade also stays where you put it – even on slopes and hillsides.

MORE APPLICATION FLEXIBILITY PUTS YOU IN CONTROL.

MORE NEW BUSINESS

PUTS YOU IN CONTROL. In the lawn care business, a competitive edge isn't something that would be nice to have. It's something that's essential if you want to maintain existing accounts and see more new account activity. No other preemergence herbicide gives you more of a competitive edge than Barricade. Its non-staining formulation and long-lasting control make it the predictable, worry-free tool that can put you in control right now. To learn more about Barricade and how it can help build your business, talk to your authorized Barricade distributor or formulator. Or call
