ZAMBEZIA

The publication of Zambezia, the bi-annual journal of the University of Zimbabwe, has been made possible by the generous support of the Publications Committee of the University. The main focus of the journal is Zimbabwe and the surrounding region but inaugural lectures and special articles of a more general interest are also published.

NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS

Articles of up to 8 000 words as well as shorter reports and correspondence to the editor are welcomed. Two copies of the manuscript should be submitted to

EDITORIAL

As I take over the responsibilities of Editor of Zambezia, I wish to thank Professor J. N. Moyo who kept the journal going in the absence of a substantive editor. He had already collected much of the material and had done much of the preliminary work in producing this issue.

Zambezia retains its focus on social and human issues in Zimbabwe and in the surrounding region. The journal accepts contributions from a variety of disciplines and will continue to publish articles, research reports and reviews within this geographical focus.

In future, short comments and correspondence will be considered for publication. I shall particularly welcome debate arising from articles published in the journal.
