

*The Dog impeacht a Sheep of Crimes unthought,
And the false wolf, and Kite for witness brought,* | *The innocent by perjury betrayd,
Is to the black caball a victim made.*

Morall

He that woud search for presidents so base, Let him survey our home bread perjur'd Race.

FAB. XLIII. De Cane & Ove.

Litigiosa Canis Ovem in Jus vocat, Panem ex mutuo debe clamitat, Ovis innocenter it inficias; Milvus, Lupus, Vulpes statim accersuntur, falsique Oves contra Ovem subornantu; Misera damnatur Ovis, Damnatum omnes confestim rapiunt, deglubuntque.

MORALE.

IN dolosos hos latrones Æqui, Bonique, falsos scilicet testes, nemo satis cautus esse potest; Falsis etenim testimoniis quam plurimi op-primuntur, & sæpe fit, ut qui de nobis optimè merentur, vel Honori nostro, vel Commodo, vel ipsi vitæ sæpe insidiantur.
