

*The Hare, and Tortois being to run a Race,
The Hare first slept, depending on his Pace*

*The Tortois still kept on, with motion Slow,
And won the Victory from her swift heeld foe.*

MORALL

*Mean parts by Industry have luckyer hits,
Than all the fancy'd power of lazger wits.*

F A B. LXX. De Lepore & Testudine.

Testudo, quum pedes ejus Lepus deridebat, subridens dixit, si periculum in cursu feceris, quis sit velocior liquido cognosces; Eli-gerunt igitur Vulpem quæ ambobus & locum & terminum cursus constitueret; Testudo, omni segnitie remotâ, iter arripiens haud quievit donec ad terminum pervenerat: Lepus vero pedibus fidens, postquam paululum quievit, somno excitatus, quantum Pedes valuerunt, ad terminum cucurrit, ubi quum Testudinem quiescentem reperit, se fatetur à Testudine superatum.

MORALE.

Stultè facit qui nimiam confidentiam in seipso ponit, nam studio & diligentia, non corporis viribus res vel maximæ conficiuntur.
