Eat Fruits Because:

1. Their delightful color and delicious flavor stimulate jaded appetites.
2. They are easy to prepare—fresh or cooked—alone or combined with other fruits.
3. They add minerals and vitamins in a universally well-liked way.
4. They supply bulk in a desirable form.
5. They combine well with other foods and add zest to everyday meals.

Fruits for Your Table

FRUITS bring to our tables. In season especially for those who live in Michigan, an excellent supply of fruit available, especially in season, can be fully enjoyed. Michigan fruit which is picked before it is ripe is not long distances.

Many people think fruit is delicious. While fruit is in season it is not for cooking. After that, the use.

This bulletin gives suggestions for making fruit, berries, peaches and grapes, especially in Michigan. In order that the fruit may be skillfully used, recipes have been prepared. Recipes have been carefully tested and retested with canning.

Fruits are so good in their fresh form that they should be made into a delicacy as well as a science. In this bulletin, recipes suggested in this bulletin have not been given here. Two interesting spices added, or the canning.

Many of the recipes may be used as are.

The fruit used in testing the fruit was in Michigan. The fruit used in testing bull is "Successful Canning Bulletin 13" (Michigan College Extension Bulletin 13, 2 cups water) was used for syrup. (1 cup sugar to 1 cup water)

Fruits for Year Around Use

By RUTH GRISWOLD*

FRESH FRUIT is one of the most welcome gifts that summer brings to our tables. In season it is easy to obtain and cheap—especially for those who have an orchard or garden of their own. Michigan is particularly fortunate in having an abundant and excellent supply of fruit available throughout the summer. Fruit picked near home can be fully ripened and often tastes better than fruit which is picked before fully ripe so that it may be shipped long distances.

Many people think fruit is best when it is eaten fresh and raw. While fruit in season it is wise to eat it freely and to use it for cooking. After that, the surplus may be canned for winter use.

This bulletin gives suggestions for the use of cherries, blueberries, peaches and grapes, four popular fruits that are grown in Michigan. In order that they may be more widely and more skillfully used, recipes have been developed for them. All the recipes have been carefully tested, some of them many times, and have been retested with canned fruit.

Fruits are so good in themselves that if they are cooked they should be made into a delicious product. Good cooking is an art as well as a science. Imaginative cooks will go beyond the recipes suggested in this bulletin and think of methods of preparation not given here. Two or more fruits may be combined, interesting spices added, or the recipe baked and served in unusual dishes.

Many of the recipes may be used with either fresh or canned fruit. Any changes necessary for the canned fruit are indicated in the recipe. These changes usually involve decreasing the amount of sugar, because sugar has been added to the fruit in canning.

The fruit used in testing these recipes was canned according to the directions in "Successful Home Canning," Michigan State College Extension Bulletin 132. Medium syrup (1 cup sugar to 2 cups water) was used for the peaches and blueberries. Thick syrup (1 cup sugar to 1 cup water) was used for the cherries.

*A former staff member, now at the University of Chicago.
which were sour, red pie cherries. One-half cup sugar was added to every quart of juice in making the grape juice. Full directions for canning these fruits are given in “Successful Home Canning.” If fruit canned in sweeter syrup is used, it may be necessary to reduce the amount of sugar in the canned fruit recipes, and with water-packed fruit as much sugar will be needed as with fresh fruit.

A few recipes are given for the juice from canned fruits. This juice should be used in some way, and if not eaten with the fruit may be used in beverages, sauces, gelatin salads and desserts, and in other ways.

A word of caution should be given about following the directions. All measurements should be made level, in standard measuring cups and spoons. Flour should be sifted just before measuring, spooned lightly into the measuring cup, and leveled with the straight edge of a spatula or knife. The directions should be followed carefully and the oven should be at the correct temperature. If the oven has no temperature control, an oven thermometer will be found valuable in preventing baking failures.

1 2-crust pie or
2 pastry shells

TEMPERATURE: 450°F.
TIME: 10-15 minutes

1 1/2 cups family flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold fat
4 to 5 tablespoons ice water

Recipe Continued on Page 49
1. Sift flour and salt.
2. Cut in fat with two knives or a pastry blender.
3. Sprinkle water over surface, a little at a time, tossing flour mixture lightly with a fork. Sprinkle a dry portion each time, removing to the board any very wet portions. Add only enough water to permit dough to hold together.
4. Roll out dough for 1 crust at a time, on a lightly floured board or canvas.
5. For pastry shells or tart shells, roll dough ¼-inch thick. Fold over dough and place loosely in pan. Be sure there are no air bubbles between pastry and pan. Trim edge with scissors, leaving about ½ inch of crust over rim of pan. Fold under and flute edge.
6. Prick pastry shell and bake in hot oven.
7. Do not prick lower crust for 2-crust pies. Place filling on bottom crust. Moisten edge. Adjust top crust, press down with the tines of a fork, trim, and bake as directed under the pie recipe.

Lattice Peach Pie

1 9-inch pie

TEMPERATURE: 475° F. then 375° F.
TIME: 15 minutes then about 20 minutes

3 cups sliced fresh peaches
1 cup sugar
2 ½ cups sliced fresh peaches

3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 recipe pastry

1. Cook 3 cups peaches with ¾ cup of the sugar until peaches are tender. No water is necessary if pan is covered at first and peaches are cooked slowly.
2. Force peaches and syrup through a sieve. Add cornstarch mixed with remaining ¼ cup sugar.
3. Line pie pan with pastry. Put in 2 ½ cups sliced peaches; cover with peach pulp mixture.
4. Roll remaining pastry ¼-inch thick into a long rectangle. Cut in ¼-inch strips. Place strips criss-cross over top of pie, securing at edge. Trim.
5. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate for remainder of baking period.

Canned Peaches: Use 2 cups sliced peaches and ¼ cup sugar (instead of 1 cup) for puree. Use ¼ cup of the sugar with the peaches and the remaining ¾ cup with the cornstarch.
Peach Cream Pie

1. 9-inch pie

- 2 cups milk
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup sugar
- 4 to 5 drops almond extract
- ⅛ cup family flour
- 2 cups sliced fresh peaches
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 baked pastry shell
- 1 cup whipping cream

3. Fill pastry shell with peaches; cover with cream filling. Top with whipped cream.

Canned Peaches: Reduce sugar to ¼ cup.

Peach Pie

1. 9-inch pie

- TEMPERATURE: 450° F. then 375° F.
- TIME: 15 minutes then 20-25 minutes

- 1 recipe plain pastry
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 3 egg whites
- 1 pint sliced fresh peaches

1. Line pie pan with pastry.
2. Mix sugar, cornstarch and flavoring. Spread half of this mixture on pastry, then fill with peaches. Add remaining sugar mixture; dot with butter.
3. Cover with top crust.
4. Bake in hot oven for 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate for remainder of baking period.

Canned Peaches: Line pie pan with pastry, brush bottom with unbeaten egg white and place in hot oven (450° F.) for 3 minutes. This is necessary because canned peaches tend to make the crust soggy. Reduce sugar to ½ cup.

Peach Snowbank Pie

1. 9-inch pie

- TEMPERATURE: 425° F.
- TIME: about 5 minutes

- ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 baked pastry shell
- 3 egg whites
- 4 or 5 peaches, fresh or canned
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 pint ice cream, frozen hard

1. Add cream of tartar to egg whites; beat stiff.
2. Add sugar gradually, beating only until dissolved.

3. Line pastry shell with freshly sliced peaches. Sprinkle with sugar if necessary.

4. Cover fruit with slices of stiffly frozen ice cream and top with a few reserved slices of fruit.

5. Cover entire surface with meringue thickly enough to keep ice cream from melting.
