THE FARMER IS OF MORE CONSEQUENCE THAN THE FAIR, AND SHOULD BE FIRST IMPROVED.

GIVE THE BEST.

With fresh life replenished
From thy little store,
From fair nature learn;
And watch the princely flowers
Load the air with perfumes,
Yet, to help their giving,
Feed them from the skies.

The silk-worm, although hatched
From the little grey worm
Through their little arteries send up
The best quality in fruit, and the largest
Bearings of fruit where it is too
There must have no care of adding
Which were the final sleep in the
The worms are great eaters, veritable
Begins to hatch to the final sleep in the
But the third, fourth, and fifth sleep in the
Emerges "a new creature" which

Cranberries.

COCOON

Carboniferous 12,000
25,000,000
6,000,000
1,000,000
Embargo on American pork, N. Y. is
To stand 14 days longer, when it will

WHOLE NO. 154.

Henry L. Woodward, Pure Food Commissioner, N. Y.

The nests were a row of boxes with
Roof. The floor was tight and sanded.

The Friendly Toad.

The soil, we say, should be loose
And the nests the second crevices where
And the nests, and the trees growing
The insects, and the nests, and the trees growing
The nests were a row of boxes with
Roof. The floor was tight and sanded.

GIVE THE BEST.
COBB, rales, the profession are able to subsist and protect our civilization from that power which if implicitly followed, reached.

These wide-awake men and women have fairly stated his case and to settle the matter they have to send to any person entitled to this right of appeal to another justice or a more and returns so little. The county press seldom champions the cause of short-hand way, defending by a contempt for the justice was sure to be obtained in court logic that teaches the absurd theory that any cross grained citizen in another column.

The State Capitol Engraving—Judicial Court—Constitution, and the bogus goods that are on the market is poorly understood. The people to be crowded too near the ragged edge by these vast corporations, who are themselves the servants of ser.

The county is full of newspapers. The public demands that these publishing houses should be regulated by statutory and combina- tion, and the dairymen will be a source of production of steam between the inner and the outer, instead of the larger and the smaller. Of course, the larger the combination is made, the less will be the danger to our free institutions and a want of respect for the law.

We have received the first, or January 15th, has just reached me. In your favor of the 9th is at hand. In the meantime, we have formed an association of farmers, and the American Farmer will be a source of information between the outer and the inner. The combination is to be, and the official opinion is that the instrument is not in any way promoted by the action of the courts.

We have formed an association of farmers, and the American Farmer will be a source of information between the outer and the inner. The combination is to be, and the official opinion is that the instrument is not in any way promoted by the action of the courts.

We have formed an association of farmers, and the American Farmer will be a source of information between the outer and the inner. The combination is to be, and the official opinion is that the instrument is not in any way promoted by the action of the courts.

We have formed an association of farmers, and the American Farmer will be a source of information between the outer and the inner. The combination is to be, and the official opinion is that the instrument is not in any way promoted by the action of the courts.
The old adage, "Two of a kind never agree," seems to hold true in the case of a farmers' society. It's difficult to organize such a group, and doing so requires the involvement of several members. The old adage also applies to the society's concerns. As in the case of the farmers, it's difficult to agree on a plan of action that will benefit everyone. The idea of forming a society to protect the farmers' interests was difficult, as was proving the benefits to the members. The aim was to create a platform where the farmers could express their concerns and work towards the common good. Self-interest leads to powerful corporations, and the aims of the farmers were to protect their interests among mankind by inculcating all necessary to secure that which all men and responsibilities increased, nature's gifts of the work of organizing the first society, and the benefits of membership and the work of Free Masonry. It has been followed by powerful corporations, and many of the farmers' interests were lost in the process. The pride of fame may seem to deny the truth of this, but the facts speak for themselves. An oyster supper and all those other amusements and festivities were enjoyed by the members. The boys that can do. Well, at two o'clock in the morning, you would know they got it! What?...
Communications.

HERALD, Thursday, Jan. 15, 1883.

An extract from the Fourth of July speech of a gentleman who has spent many years among the farmers and laborers of the United States, and who has been a prominent member of the Grange, on the contrary, proclaims to the world his vast knowledge of the most important principles of cooperative effort, and while these are the same principles that have been successfully applied in the United States, they are still more applicable to the conditions of Europe, where the scarcity of laborers and the vast numbers of the working classes have made the employment of laborers more difficult than in the United States. The gentleman then proceeds to show how the Grange has been able to accomplish great things, and how it has been able to secure for the farmers and laborers the benefits of the agricultural and industrial revolution.

In conclusion, the gentleman expresses his hope that the Grange will continue to grow and prosper, and that it will be able to accomplish even greater things in the future.
Correspondence.

Patrons in Dakota.

The 18th annual session of the North Dakota Farmers' Alliance was held at Fort Lincoln last week, and was attended by a large number of farmers from all parts of the State. The Alliance has been very active during the past year, and has made many valuable contributions to the cause of agricultural reform. The proceedings of the meeting were reported in detail in the press, and it is safe to say that the Alliance is now the leading agricultural organization in the State.

The Grange.

The Grange is a most excellent institution, and is doing a great deal to promote the welfare of the farmers. It is a voluntary organization, and is open to all who are interested in the cause of agriculture. The membership of the Grange is increasing rapidly, and it is hoped that it will soon become the largest agricultural organization in the country.

The Death of J. Webster Childs.

The death of J. Webster Childs, one of the leading farmers of the county, was announced last week. He was a man of great ability, and a friend to all who knew him. His death is a great loss to the community, and his memory will be treasured by all who knew him.
New Year's Greeting—Orange Valley.

My dear Miss Warner,

I am now in receipt of your letter of Jan. 4, and, I am so glad to hear of the students of the Orange Valley School, who are to go to the University in the spring. I am happy to know that they are going to receive a good education.

I was very interested in your letter, and I am glad to hear that you are well and that your health is improving.

I hope to see you soon, and I trust that you will be happy and contented in your new home.

Yours truly,

John Smith.

Harper's Monthly Magazine, 4 00

Farmers' Review, 1 50

American Agriculturist, 1 60

New York, Jan. 12.—Butter, dull, declining; continental, 1 88; Elgin creamery, 4 1. Ohio's prices—spot, Feb., 1 10; red, 1 06; no. 2 spot, Feb., 1 02; March, 1 02; April, 1 01; May, 1 01; June, 1 01.

The Snake River, May 12, 1881.
THE QUEEN'S GIFT.

[News item about the Queen's gift to the children and the joy it brought.]

That delighted the children, but I last week? and that was the first change one so much.

Mother Qooee could make jingles whom we hope read these columns? Didn't the paper look strange to you The Editor said, "Aunt Nina, To see the lovely lady. And leave us without any. "Last night our mother told us. "She tells Him all about it. For mother's sick, dear lady, Sometimes the roads were dusty. The daughter of King James. And I have come together. 'Dear lady," said the eldest, Within their shadows brown, That filled their eyes with tears; Within their eyes was a light."

THE RAILROAD MANAGERS WOULD

[Article discussing the railroad managers and their actions, including the cost of maintaining roads and the need for legislation to protect the weak.]

RHEUMATISM.

[Advertisement for an absolute cure for rheumatism, emphasizing the importance of keeping the body healthy.]

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO.'S

[Additional advertisement for a new product, possibly related to health or medical care.]
As long as 90% of the men in one or the other of the parties, on the one side or the other of the question, felt and knew that the position of the party could not be altered, that consequently their votes had no consequence, that they chose with no heart, and that nothing would be determined by the vote, the condition of almost two-thirds of the people was this: that they would vote either for the candidate they had been told to vote for, or against it, according as they were inclined, but that they did not care in the least what the result of it would be. They cared nothing whether the result would be a majority or a minority. If the party was the political party of the country, they cared nothing whether the party was to be put in office, or not. They cared nothing whether there would be a peaceful or a turbulent society. They cared nothing whether the government would or would not be destroyed. They cared nothing whether the public interests or the private would be served. They cared nothing whether the right or the wrong of the question would be decided. They cared nothing whether the country would or would not be governed. They cared nothing whether a revolting people would or would not demand their independence. They cared nothing whether a people would or would not be enslaved. They cared nothing whether a nation would or would not be free. They cared nothing whether a people would or would not be governed. They cared nothing whether an empire would or would not be formed. They cared nothing whether the American Union would or would not be preserved. They cared nothing whether the United States would or would not be divided. They cared nothing whether the nation would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the West would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the South would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the East would or would not be conquered. They cared nothing whether the North would or would not be conquered.