Northwest Michigan.

BY H. A. PALMER.

The soil is a sand and gravel loam, the county is composed of good hardwood and a sand and gravel loam, the county is composed of good hardwood.

The surplus of hay, grain, garden vegetables, and fruit are destined to be one of the leading counties of Michigan as far as natural advantages for agriculture are concerned.

The surplus of hay, grain, garden vegetables, and fruit are destined to be one of the leading counties of Michigan as far as natural advantages for agriculture are concerned.

Farmers are called to Lapeer, its county seat, because of the good natural advantages for agriculture.

The surplus of hay, grain, garden vegetables, and fruit are destined to be one of the leading counties of Michigan as far as natural advantages for agriculture are concerned.

Farmers are called to Lapeer, its county seat, because of the good natural advantages for agriculture.

The surplus of hay, grain, garden vegetables, and fruit are destined to be one of the leading counties of Michigan as far as natural advantages for agriculture are concerned.

Farmers are called to Lapeer, its county seat, because of the good natural advantages for agriculture.

The surplus of hay, grain, garden vegetables, and fruit are destined to be one of the leading counties of Michigan as far as natural advantages for agriculture are concerned.

Farmers are called to Lapeer, its county seat, because of the good natural advantages for agriculture.
Is remuneration expressed entirely in money? This was a question discussed during the Great Depression of the early 1900s. The answer varied from person to person, with some preferring employment in the form of wages, while others valued the freedom and independence that farming provided.

Sheep Feeding

One of the most important aspects of sheep feeding is to ensure that the sheep have a balanced diet. The sheep are usually fed a mixture of hay, corn, and grass, which provides them with the necessary nutrients. Sheep require a lot of space to move around, so having a yard outside the pen is very important. This allows them to move freely and avoid fighting over food.

A Few Suggestions

Our roads are yet new and the highways are often covered with weeds. It is important to consider the cutting of weeds in highways, as it is the best and cheapest way to destroy them. Some grass is harder to tell what weeds are most troublesome, while as a general rule, the pigweed occasions the greatest damage. The thrifty farmer destroys them in time, as they do not grow much in July. This door I leave open all kinds of weather.

Reading for Farmers' Families

A good book read by a farmer's son or daughter frequently changes entire, or at least modifies, the current of their lives. One of the most valuable acquisitions that any young person can make money, and it is from them, in their immediate neighborhood, that the future farmers' inspirations from a bad heart or an immoral spirit. He cannot afford to have a yard full of weeds, and must have at least modifies, the entire current of their lives.

Electricity in Agriculture

The use of electricity in agriculture has been of vast value to the public, and has been of great importance in the fields of research and production. The value or worthlessness of their matter, and what economic advantage will be had by, if they continue neglecting the cutting of weeds. The sheep are usually kept in pens, which gives them plenty of air and light. Be sure that as seldom as possible.

The next time you go to the market place, take the time to read the newspaper. Many important matters enter into one's life, and make an estimate of the loss you have at least one good crop, and that is the one by which a man is to be judged. It is claimed that a geomagnetifere is a new invention which is adapted to a dry season. It is claims that it is possible to get free seed from weed seedlings, and this is an important factor in sheep feeding.

Weeds

The average farmer seldom takes into account the loss he incurs by careless feeding. The sheep are usually fed a mixture of hay, corn, and grass, which provides them with the necessary nutrients. Sheep require a lot of space to move around, so having a yard outside the pen is very important. This allows them to move freely and avoid fighting over food.

A Few Suggestions

Our roads are yet new and the highways are often covered with weeds. It is important to consider the cutting of weeds in highways, as it is the best and cheapest way to destroy them. Some grass is harder to tell what weeds are most troublesome, while as a general rule, the pigweed occasions the greatest damage. The thrifty farmer destroys them in time, as they do not grow much in July. This door I leave open all kinds of weather.

Reading for Farmers' Families

A good book read by a farmer's son or daughter frequently changes entire, or at least modifies, the current of their lives. One of the most valuable acquisitions that any young person can make money, and it is from them, in their immediate neighborhood, that the future farmers' inspirations from a bad heart or an immoral spirit. He cannot afford to have a yard full of weeds, and must have at least modifies, the entire current of their lives.
in the work, and devoted to it, has made numerous contracts with firms, issued a trained body of householders, and entered this line of business into numerous communities. Through the store's work committees, cooperating women have demonstrated the possibilities of education, educational literature and questions of social hygiene. Patrons are selected by district officers, and so far as to how they may be offered. The farmers' home cooking classes, in which every household is entered and its books become the books of every woman, are an essential part of the work done. Special, too, of the women's work committee is the making of granaries, the so-called "food seed" and the distribution of it. Women down the line into the country on visiting or lecture trips, or requested to visit Grange associations and county or township points to which are added address programs under the direction of the Grange assemblies. (Page 2)

We are convinced that the attitude of the legislators and of the press and public towards the proposed unit on the establishment of the office of such an officer; 2, the establishment of the office, and for better organization of such officers, and calls for instruction for the beginning of the season has already opened with new branches of the work so well up as now.

The next session of the State Grange is scheduled for the coming winter. (Page 3)

Pray for me that my feet may gain not mine to look where cherubim Their fronded palms in air- And he can do no wrong.

DECEMBER 5, 1895.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 2)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

Rutgers, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.

In Michigan the order of Patrons of Husbandry never was so strong in all its departments as at present. At times in the past it has been one or another department of the work which lagged, but now the whole is moving forward. (Page 3)

Michigan is the Michigan of Patrons of Husbandry. The State Grange is now so organized that its work will be immune from party politics. (Page 3)

The GRANGE VISITOR.

The Eternal Goodness.
THE GRANGE VISITOR.

DECEMBER 5, 1895.

THE GRANGE.

The State Grange of Michigan will meet in convention December 27th at 9 in the morning.

NOTES.

Several Lansing hotels and a first class restaurant near the capital will offer their rooms to patrons at the rate of

The only important railroad fare that can be saved is the fare from the nearest railway station to Lansing not more than three days before the meeting and not more than five days after the date for a certificate, which, when properly used, entitles him to a return ticket at the regular fare. Inasmuch as members mustered within presented three days before the date of the meeting is understood that Sunday will not be reckoned. Officers, delegates and all other persons desiring to enter a Grange car will be permitted to pay full fare tickets in either direction.

For Discussion.

EDITOR GRANGE VISITOR: Among the questions that come up before the Subordinate Granges and through the N.I.G. at every meeting are the liquor question and the temperance question. At times these questions may come up before the members of the Granges in individual homes, and at other times these questions may be brought up before the members of the Granges by the officers as questions that must be discussed and taken care of.

We are full of confidence that if Gov. Luce had been in attendance at the Grange meeting in Charlotte, Mich., as Second Reader, he would have been loyal to the institution as a farmer and politician, as well as to the cause of the State Grange. In its government. More than that, he would have added interest and value to the Grange a large number of students who would come there by personal interest and by personal power. He would be loyal to the institutions as an ar- istic.-

The N.I.G. is the great need of the farming classes. No man that has definite policies and wishes to have its policy extended or abridged.

The chief blame that can be attached to the action of the Board of Agriculture consists, in the main, in the fact that it is not fulfilling the duties of its office. The Board of Agriculture is composed, in the main, of the farmers who elect it. It is their duty to see that the Board of Agriculture fulfills the duties of its office.

We believe that this improvement can in large measure be brought about: by wider individual study and general discussion, and by striving for a purer manhood, a nobler womanhood, and a higher type of citizenship.

Some of the officers of the Grange of Michigan who are representative farmers’ organizations of the state can, and should aid in solving the liquor question. We have answered this question in the paper by saying that the State Grange should help solve this question. Yes, in the Grange, the State Grange should take a strong stand in favor of temperance, not only by resolving that they favor temperance, but by taking such action as will show the people of Michigan that the State Grange is willing to do all in its power to settle this question satisfactorily. We are a temperance body. We are in all places of the liquor question and the evil results. We can not afford to remain silent. We can not do our duty while active.

The practical question is, what can we do? Of course our readers know that we have been advocating the establishment of a state liquor commission along the lines of the Ripoll bill, and our judgment was, and our hope is, that the State Grange will see fit to make this important commission bill one of its leading topics, and we will respect all Subordinate Granges in Michigan to thoroughly consider this question during the coming year, to the end that at the session of the State Grange in 1896 we may present a united front on this subject.

We also want to say that we care less what this Ripoll bill does so far as we go to the State Grange and take some step, and some hold, active in the matter of liquor questions. Whatever is done is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method, is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method, is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method, is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method, is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method, is of little account in the eye of the origination of any method.
DECEMBER 5, 1895.

THE GRANGE VISITOR.

Detroit: Average about that amount.

sueau, in Detroit, 1200 schools of and he straits—that otherwise great city.
be there? by yours and mine! No! by mine metaphor we are not responsible for this influence is the one to which we are most have heard loud and long and made used to us, and they are so many.
be about that amount.
the hearts of our farmers to work for up and to every one.
us responsible for this great regard to tell all that the Grange has ac-beings, nor within the scope of human ly, nor within the scope of human ut-beings. It is possible to give a little of what has been inspired by the
eral, and current literature of the day, and the tastes and cultivated thoughts.

the lawyer, or the minister, or professional man to degrade and make maded by the Grange, a most marvelous

What the Grange has Accomplished.
ism, within the province of finite beings, nor within the scope of finite beings. Not until the books are opened' will all the deeds of love, hate,
and of the uplifting of humanity, of happiness, of love, and of the uplifting of humanity.

It is possible to give a little of what
has been inspired by the
eral, and current literature of the day, and the tastes and cultivated thoughts.

What the Grange has Accomplished.
ism, within the province of finite beings, nor
within the scope of finite beings. Not until the books are opened' will all the deeds of love, hate,
and of the uplifting of humanity, of happiness, of
love, and of the uplifting of humanity.

It is possible to give a little of what
has been inspired by the
eral, and current literature of the day, and the tastes and cultivated thoughts.

What the Grange has Accomplished.
ism, within the province of finite beings, nor
within the scope of finite beings. Not until the books are opened' will all the deeds of love, hate,
and of the uplifting of humanity, of happiness, of
love, and of the uplifting of humanity.

It is possible to give a little of what
has been inspired by the
eral, and current literature of the day, and the
tastes and cultivated thoughts.
FEED CUTTERS.

$8.00 and upwards.

Also Hog Feeders, Horse, Cattle, Sheep, and Pig Feeders.

We have right stock of all kinds for the farmer to buy.

Call or write.

W. C. ROYDEN,

Eureka Washing Machine Co.,

STURGIS, IND.

---

ON TOP.

Guard not be overlooked when using a washing machine. It saves $100 a year.

C. C. WERRE, Publisher.

---

FRENCH BUHR MILLS.

The Best Mills for Farming, baking, grinding meal.

We have a wide variety of mills for different uses.

Call or write.

S. W. SWINDELL.

---

Wheat in English Markets.

The United Kingdom took in foreign wheat during the nine months ending September 30, 1895, the largest proportion of which was from Russia, the Argentine Republic, and Argentina.

The wheat has been valued at $5.00 per barrel, or $6.00 per barrel in England. In these instances, the wheat was American wheat upon the English market.

The decline in value was from $6.00 to $6.25 per barrel.

Blackberries.

Blackberries grow in larger quantities than in the United States.

---

SEEDS AND SLAGS.

S. W. SWINDELL, Berkeley, Cal.

Ramsdell Seeds

---

ADVERTISMENT.

The Eureka Washer.

College and Station.

There are many subsidiary corps to which the American farmer may turn his situation. There will be only one result—soybean production. Corn is constantly increasing in importance, and the ever-growing demand for that cereal which is being increasingly appreciated.

Blackberries grow in larger quantities than in the United States.

---

HARNESS.

A future extensive trade in harness is expected. The market is at its best. The demand is increasing, and the prices are firm. The best goods will command the highest prices.

---

REVISED LIST OF GRANGE GRANTS.

For the benefit of our members.

---

This is a news article about wheat in English markets during the nine months ending September 30, 1895. It discusses the decline in value of wheat and the largest importers, which were Russia, the Argentine Republic, and Argentina. The article also mentions the growth of blackberries and the advertisement of the Eureka Washer College and Station.

---

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY.

---

THE GRANGE VISITOR.

DECEMBER 5, 1895.
April in Venice, pretty babies are, "but I must be thinking of something else," thought Kathleen. The bright sun of the afternoon, the soft, zephyr-like air, the group of houses painted in rose and yellow and white, looked like a picture of old French gardens. Kathleen Hesslearave, a pre-adolescent girl, was sitting in the garden at her mother's house, the Dalmatian Hills, reading the latest edition of "The Youth's Companion," which her mother had brought with her from the city. Kathleen was very fond of the magazine, which contained stories, poems, and other interesting articles. She was particularly interested in the article about the famous painter, Arnold Willoughby, who had just returned from a trip to Italy. Kathleen had always been interested in art, and she dreamed of becoming a painter herself someday. She admired Willoughby's work and longed to see it in person.

Willoughby had just arrived in Venice, and Kathleen was eager to meet him. She had heard that he was painting a portrait of the famous writer, Elizabeth Artom, who was staying in the city. Kathleen had always been interested in Elizabeth Artom, who was known for her beauty and intelligence. She had read many of her books and admired her work. Kathleen was hopeful that Willoughby would paint her portrait as well, and she longed to be immortalized in his art.

Willoughby had already begun his work, and Kathleen watched eagerly as he mixed his paints and began to sketch. She was fascinated by the process and the way in which he transformed the world around him into a work of art. Kathleen could not help but feel that, if she could paint like Willoughby, she would be able to transform the world around her as well.

Kathleen was determined to become a painter, and she was determined to learn from the best. She knew that Willoughby was the greatest artist of his time, and she was determined to study under him. She dreamed of sitting in his studio, watching him paint, and learning all she could. Kathleen was determined to become a great artist herself, and she was confident that Willoughby would be the perfect mentor.
Delegates to State Grange.
The following are the delegates so far as reported to this office, elected to attend the session of the State Grange to be held at Lansing, Tuesday, Dec. 10th, 10 a.m.

- Genesee: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fausler
- Ionia: Lenawee: Mrs. H. A. Hunker
- Ingham: Eaton: C. C. Holbrook
- Huron: Yancey: Jason Woodman
- Clinton: Washtenaw: Jno. K. Campbell
- Calhoun: Branch: M. L. Evans
- Barry: Montcalm: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson
- Allegan: Berrien: R. V. Clark
- Mr. and Mrs. S. G. W. Felton
- Hillsdale: Hillsdale: L. A. Slarraw
- State Grange at Lansing, December 10-13, 1895.

All Officers have reserved rooms here. The usual rates.

The following are the delegates to State Grange.

- Eaton: J. W. Gilford
- Cass: E. W. White
- Eaton: B. V. Clark
- Macomb: W. T. Adams
- Livingston: C. G. Manly
- Mecosta: E. A. W. Haydon
- Manistee: L. A. Bird
- Charlevoix: D. L. Sharrar
- Emmet: J. B. Wilcox
- Door: J. S. Whitford
- Milwaukee: J. M. Slayton
- Traverse: C. E. Bartholomew
- Branch: W. B. Mekeel
- Calhoun: M. L. Jeffs

Your subscription we solicit.