BAND TO FOLLOW GRID TEAM TO WISCONSIN GAME

PROF. CLARK TO ACCOMPANY
BAND; NEW DRUM MAJOR
TO LEAD.

WILL LEAVE FRIDAY
Funds for Trip Raised by Various Means.

Michigan State's 60 piece military band will "strut its stuff" at Madison, Wis., tomorrow afternoon at the Badger State football tilt. Prof. Clark will accompany the band. Hands, the newly initiated drum major, will lead the invasion of the Wisconsin gridiron.

Rival Bands to Compete

An interesting feature of the trip will be the competition between the University of Wisconsin and the Michigan State University bands. The Wisconsin band, dressed in much the same uniform as the local aggregation, will compete with two Michigan bands, both of national reputation.

Makes First Out-of-State Trip

This is the first out-of-state trip the band has had since the journey to Madison last year to the State-Wisconsin game. The Chicago band and took notice when the Michigan band was mentioned in the Evanston and Chicago papers. Special mention of it. The band is expected to be "up to snuff" in its exhibition at Madison.

WOLVERINE PHOTOGRAPHS ARE BEING COMPLETED

Over 1,000 Individual Appointments
Already Made.

Thousands of individual picture appointments have been mailed out by the photographic department of the State college. About 300 more are to be mailed out this week. The department is under the supervision of Gerald Montgomery, class of '26.

FROSH MUST WEAR POTS UNTIL THANKSGIVING

Toques Not Allowed Until After Holiday.

The student council decided at the regular meeting Tuesday evening that the freshmen would be compelled to wear their green "pots" until after Thanksgiving. From then on they will wear a more protective form of headgear, the freshmen toques.

Students and Faculty Unite in Broadcasting Program

Students and faculty united in broadcasting the program over WKAR Wednesday night. Prof. A. H. Nelson was the main speaker. A musical program was given by the students. In the radio school were Prof. J. W. Stank, zoology; R. H. Pettit, entomology; and P. A. Herbert, forestry. The above men spoke along lines of their profession.

UNION BALL ROOM POPULAR FOR PARTIES

Is Booked for All Friday and Saturday Nights for Remainder of Term.

The parties scheduled for the Union ball room for the remainder of the fall term include the Lambda Chi Alpha and a Union party this week end. The ball room is booked for every Friday and Saturday evening for the remainder of the term. Parties coming here now are Christmas parties given by Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Phi, and the Junior class fall term party.

The music for the Lambda Chi party which comes on Friday evening will be furnished by the Red Cedar Ramblers, while that for the Union party on Saturday night will be by the Michigan State Union Band. As this marks the initial appearance of the Union orchestra, which will be under the direction of Mr. Carl Cross, it is expected that there will be a large turnout.

NEW GUN TO BE PUT IN FRONT OF ARMORY

Only Temporary Position, However;
To Be Placed In Front of
New Armory When Built.

The space directly in front of the armory has been designated as the place which the recently acquired German field howitzer shall occupy according to Lieut. Col. T. J. Sturges. However, this is a temporary position as the gun will occupy a position in front of the new armory when that is built.

The gun is a 155 millimeter field piece and of supposedly Krupp design and manufacture. It has an exceedingly short range for a gun of its caliber, at least as guns go nowadays. Its effective range is estimated at 10,000 yards. The gun has to be reeled and might turn over backwards if it were to be fired.

The gun was used by the Germans in the Meuse-Argonne offensive in a desperate attempt to stop the advance of the American troops. It was captured by American troops at that place. Since the war it was taken over by the war department and sent to the college as a permanent war trophy.

TEACHING STAFF MAKES ADDITION OF PROFESSOR

Takes Up Duties As Professor of Physiology and Pharmacology.

Dr. H. L. Morency has been added to the teaching staff at Michigan State college as professor of physiology and pharmacology.

Dr. Morency is a graduate of Notre Dame University and comes to the State college from Colorado Agricultural college where he has completed a post graduate course. He was recently offered a professorship in physiology at the University of Washington but chose to come to Michigan.

SCABBARD AND BLADE HOLDS INITIATION

Swings Out With Ten New Members.

Michigan State chapter of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, swung out Wednesday morning with 10 new members at the special Armistice day program.

The new members are E. C. Hayhoe, cavalry captain of Royal Oak; Charles Cazier, cavalry captain of East Lansing; Carl Gohr, artillery captain of East Lansing; Frances Heeman, artillery captain of Jackson; Russel Van Meter, first lieutenant, battalion adjutant of Cadillac; and Capt. P. W. Hardie, Capt. Henwood, Capt. Kelly, and Capt. R. E. Larson, the new regular army men who were detailed to the State college military department this year.

MODERN THREE ACT COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED

"Am I Intruding" to Be First
Presentation of Theta
Alpha Phi.

The first of a series of Theta Alpha Phi plays which will be produced this fall by the local chapter of the national honorary dramatics society will be given in the Little Theatre next Thursday night. The play, which will be produced in one of the modern trend of thoroughly modern three act comedies and is a laugh from the first to the last. There are twelve characters in the play and one of the unique features of the play is the even division of opportunities to shine in dividuality.

The play is of a mysterious nature centered about the financial troubles of Horace Vane, who is taken by Gordon Whitmore, Jerry, a country hick played by Dean Dennis, furnishes much of the humor of the play with his blundering ways but finally outwits the villain, Blair Hoover, who holds some notes of Vane's threatens his ruin and wins Marjory, Vane's oldest daughter, for his wife. Hoover is taken by Victor Christie, while Marjory is played by Mary Wing. Mr. Marjory's slinky old sister, played by Annie Laurie Walls, Peter, Vane's school kid son, Dickie, one of the modern type of heart crushers, who exerts his influence on every member of the opposite sex, played by Levon Horton, and Don, Vane's loping friend, furnish fun and merriment with their unusual situations and odd gibberings. Victor and Peter finally mend troubles, while Levon and Dickie cling together at the end.

FENCING GAINS IN POPULARITY

Squad of Sixteen Men Working Out Under Joseph Waffa.

Fencing, under the able guidance of Joseph Waffa, a student, is rapidly gaining in popularity in the minor sports. A squad of 16 men, seven of whom will be picked to represent Michigan State in the dual meets which have been planned are regularly working out in the gym.

The squad that reported for practice some weeks ago was three times as large as the number that turned out for the sport last year, when it was being initiated into minor sport circles. The size of the squad necessitated the reduction to the present number. The college has purchased new equipment for the team, which has helped with the progress this made appreciably.

SPECIAL CONVOCATION TO BE HELD FOR GIRLS

Ethel Nightengale of Woman's Institute of England to Be Speaker.

Ethel Nightengale of the Woman's Institute of England will speak at a special convocation for girls to be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Little theater of the home economics building.

CHEMISTRY PROFESSOR TO LEAVE FOR MEXICO

Mr. R. W. Lewis of the chemistry department is leaving Michigan for Mexico. He is to act as chief chemist for the U. S. Graphite Co.

Faculty Join in Dancing Henry Ford's Favorites

The Charleston and its Syncretizing Dixie Babes, went into discard and the old Virginia reel with its fiddling tracks occupied the stage last Tuesday evening when more than 40 faculty members and their wives enjoyed their second childhood at the reception held by President and Mrs. Butterfield in the Union building honoring the new members of the college staff.

UNION ORCHESTRA TO MAKE BOW TONIGHT

To Have Distinctive Setting and Background.

The recently organized Union orchestra with Carl Cross as director will pry the lid off their musical season at the sophomore party Friday Nov. 13. They will continue their activities by furnishing the music for the Union party Saturday night.

Not only have they been rehearsing regularly but they have also worked out a distinctive setting and background which will be used every time they play. A large cyclorama made of green cloth will be set back of the orchestra which will help to carry the sound. On it inscribed in white letters will be the words "Michigan State Union Band." Inscribed on the drumhead will be an enlarged reproduction of the Union pin. The music racks will be of wood and match the woodwork of the Union building. The racks will also have a green cloth drop with a white letter on it.

PLAN ALL-COLLEGE WRESTLING TOURNEY

Twelve Men Entered To Date In Seven Classes of Weights.

Entries for a wrestling tourney at the gym this month for an all-college wrestling tournament to be held from December 2 to 6 inclusive. All of the male students of the college are eligible to enter except those who have earned wrestling monograms or freshmen.

Seven classes of weights, from the 115 pound class to the heavyweights are open to those who are eligible. The winner and runner-up in each class will be awarded gold and silver medals. The rules of the tournament will be patterned after that of the Western Conference. All entries must be in before Dec. 1.

Those who have already entered are C. M. Mohardt, 115 L. L. Cornslet, 125 John Breyfogle and Ralph Humboldt, 135, K. H. Landwehr and L. H. Bean, 145, W. L. Davis and D. E. Wenner, 155, H. B. Farley and H. Kurle, 175, and J. H. Hoise and C. H. Hogan, heavyweights.

MANY STUDENTS SIGN WORLD COURT BALLOT

Plan Outlined by Justice Clarke
Proves Popular; Petition to Be Presented to Senate.

That M. S. C. students do think, is shown by the signing of the World Court ballots. Following Justice Clarke's address at convocation, Wednesday, Nov. 4, by the end of the week some 300 students had signed the ballots. Justice Clarke apparently outlined the plan of the course so clearly and sincerely that little doubt was left in the minds of his hearers about the probability of such a plan.

Most students took the attitude suggested by Justice Clarke, "No harm can come from America joining the court so let's give it a trial." It must be remembered that while judges for this tribunal are nominated by the League of Nations, the court acts independently of the league. Thus we will not become entangled in any European affairs. The support and influence created by American joining the court but help make it a success.

M. S. C. is cooperating with other colleges in the state in presenting petitions to the senate, which considers the Swanson resolution on Dec. 17. This resolution contains the Harding proposal of adherence to the court with the reservations.

The resolution is non-partisan inasmuch as Senator Swanson of Virginia who introduced the measure, is a Democrat and both the late President Harding and President Coolidge are widely for it.

SPECIALIZATION AND GENERALIZATION

Speeding up production. Cutting down costs. Eliminating as many stages of manufacture as possible. Science predominates the age. Hurry up America, the world is waiting for your goods! Come on you specialist!

The specialist is highly rewarded for his work. This is the age of the chemist, the engineer, the advertiser, the salesman. Learn one thing well and your salary will bring you all the luxury of the extravagant age. The jack of all trades is an interesting person, but one ordinarily doesn't see him luxuriating down the avenue in a high powered limousine.

It's the building contractor, the motion picture star, the plasterer, the one track mind which draws the golden eagles into the purse.

Why then are college folk taking such great interest in the more general and liberal courses? Is it because they are easy? Or is there another reason?

Every man into his own. So college has its specializing students and those who generalize. On the surface it seems very much as though the cards were stacked up against the student who pursues the liberal studies.

There is no definite mercenary end in view with those who take courses in literature, language, sociology, history and the so called cultural courses. The fact that one knows that Chaucer wrote the "Canterbury Tales", speaks French, or can relate the story of the Battle of Crecy isn't likely to interest one's future employer.

The chemical engineer has something to sell when he graduates. What has the graduate of a liberal arts course to sell?

So far the specialist has had the edge of the situation. Yet how many specialists actually enter the field of work they studied for. It is a lamentable fact that many college graduates become so much drift wood. We see the engineer as a bond salesman, the agriculturalist as a county clerk, the dairyman as a traffic agent, and so on.

The specialist is more easily lost in the business world. He is comparable to a fish out of water when not in his particular field. The generalist has a broader education, he can adjust himself to change more readily. The specialist adjusts himself to a part of the environment. The generalist to the whole environment.

The first has a temporary advantage in a narrowing field, but competition keeps him forever further specializing. Concerning this question Herbert J. Spinden says that in the end a harsh change in the circumstances of life is sure to come, and the attenuated specialists go down and out while the sturdy generalists survive.

For this reason the college specialist should not narrow his education. He needs literature, sociology, the cultural courses.

The generalist, however, should not devote all his time to cultural subjects. He needs science just as much as the scientist needs the arts.

FOR LOVE IS A WONDERFUL THING!

For the benefit of the individual who devotes all his leisure time to dating this editorial is written. Strange thought it may seem, there are some well meaning individuals at Michigan State who allow college studies to revolve around their social activities.

The mediocre musher soon flunks out, but the individual of average ability persists. He stints his own possibilities scholastically, and if he is engaged in college activities, he more often than not is irresponsible and without the proper initiative.

Love must be alright judging from the number of people who go in for it, but greater men than college youths have thwarted their ambitions and accomplishments through getting too much of the good thing. Alexander, Napoleon, Antony are classical examples.

College is entirely a matter of proportions. So much time for study, for leisure time. Under the class of leisure time come not only society, but sports, reading, campus activities, reflection sleep, etc.

Get a good mixture of them all!

Co-ed Edna Says:

These surveying instruments are getting so common around the campus lately that it seems as if anyone would now what they are for. Just the same, a co-ed asked me the other day if "that man was taking our pictures?" Believe it or not, that's what happened!

I suppose if some of you kind-hearted boys had been there, you would have told her that he was, and would have left her posing there. Big-heartedness means a lot.

There is talk of building a girls' gymnasium. It might be suggested to the committee in charge that much expense would be saved if the girls could be persuaded to build it for themselves. Whereas the boys only dug the basement for their Union, we would be willing to do all the work. This could be substituted for regular physical education, and would be fine training for the ambitious co-eds.

There would be another advantage too. Those of us who couldn't get jobs as teachers when we finished school should, with this training, be able to get fine jobs as day-laborers.

There are about 150 girls eligible for membership in the W. A. A. How many fellows, Miss Grimes?

They say that anyone winning a minimum of 100 points in track is eligible to membership. I think they ought to give anyone a gold medal for just running around that track once, at least, I felt that I deserved one after I got around the first time!

Less than ten days now till the preliminary games! How long until Christmas?

The bulletin says that the officers of the W. A. A. are having office hours at the gymnasium department on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 to 4, and that anyone desiring information is to come in during these hours.

I won't feel really important until I can have office hours, too. No matter how hard a girl works, nobody pays any attention to her, while all these W. A. A. officers did was to get themselves elected. And now look at them!

One thing about us girls in our of fices. We don't sit with our feet on the desk anyway. And we don't smoke big black cigars, either.

Did I hear some distant voices asking what we did smoke? My dear sir, it's against training rules!

Girls who are in doubt as to their points are to see the vice-president of the W. A. A. or their gym instructor.

I'm so much in doubt that I don't dare to go anywhere near that above mentioned instructor. And she's lit the too. But training does wonders for people, you know.

I always wondered why such a lit person as she is ever happened to be teaching physical education. Until one day I saw her do some of her tricks. Ever since then I've been awfully careful what I said.

This is a lot of bunk, isn't it? But you've fooled yourself by reading this far, and it's too late to get out of it now!

OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT

RUDOLPH The College Boy

A Serial Tragedy
By BIFF McSAM

RESIDUE:

Rudolph and his father thoroughly enjoyed themselves while his parent was in East Lansing. He left early Sunday morning after exhorting Rudy to buckle down and shed lustier upon the name of Ottenstraefer. Rudy went back to Wells hall and lived through out Sunday in anticipation of Charley Paddock's lecture the following day.

Rudolph and his roommate, Al Fal-fa, left Wells hall for the gymnasium Monday night with the thrills chasing up and down their spines. They were soon to see and hear the "fastest human" in their own gymnasium. They were early and waited impatiently for eight o'clock to come. Finally Coach Young and the great sprinter entered the gym and they joined in the thunderous applause.

They followed every word of Coach Young's introduction and when Paddock arose to speak they were overcome with emotion. Throughout his talk they lingered upon every word and drank eagerly of the instruction given. The end came all too soon for Rudolph and his partner and it was with reluctance that they wandered back to Wells hall.

When they once reached the seclusion of their rooms they unfolded their hearts to each other. It appears that each had had a passionate desire to be a great sprinter and now they could see started on their career. For had not Paddock said that they had six months more of summer in California than we have here in Michigan. That means that he could practice sprinting just twice as much and therefore ought to be twice as good.

Rudy had always won the races at the Sunday School picnics back in Burnips Corners and at one time he clocked in eighteen seconds. Therefore, he figured that if he had been born in California and had had twice as much training he would be able to do the hundred yards in nine seconds. This would lower Paddock's own record and Ottenstraefer would be acclaimed champion of the world.

But Rudy had not been born in California and California was many miles away but Rudy figured that other men had followed the call of "Westerward Ho" so why not he? Just

What do you think is the reason for convocations being so poorly attended?

Helen Francis, '29 L.

I think the reason for convocations being so poorly attended is because it is not brought forcefully enough to our attention and its importance is not emphasized sufficiently. Convocations should be announced in classes to bring it to the attention of the students.

Martha Griswold, '26 S.

I think the underlying cause for poor attendance at convocation is disloyalty of the student body. Convocation is the only meeting of the whole student body and if well attended a greater spirit of cooperation would be maintained by the student body and the college in general. Songs and cheers will do a great deal.

Arla Pangborn, '27 L.

I believe it the duty of every upperclassman to attend convocations to set an example for the incoming students. If the leaders of campus activities would attend, the other students would naturally follow. The spirit of the student body is aroused by singing and cheering, which should take place at every convocation.

Doris "Red" Taylor, '27 L.

The most of the students do not feel that the convocations are of sufficient interest to warrant their attendance. The real importance of the convocations must be realized and a greater amount of notice of them is necessary, before they will be well attended.

Don McLandress, '27 L.

The big reason for convocations being so poorly attended in my mind is the failure of the society house to band together and enforce the attendance of its members as the execution of a college function. The human psychology leads an individual to hold back if he feels that "the bunch" isn't attending.

And fifty girls were affiliated with the local college association at the formal recognition service. Preceding the service the various phases of world fellowship were explained and discussed.

Martin Rummell, '27 S.
I think the lack of cooperation of fraternities in bringing to bear the importance of the attendance of the students is in a large measure responsible for the poor showing at convocations. If the societies would establish the attendance at convocations as a really essential duty to be performed and play up convocations more, the showing would be a lot better.

WHY YOU NEED THIS GUIDE

It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to defeat. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

To students who have never learnt "How to Study", work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by studying for this hand-book and guide NOW.

The Girls Get a Call to Arms

Well that's natural enough and been going on for years, nothing to get excited about at all thinks me, as I read a recent issue of this paper; but down farther it goes on to say that this is a real call to the military, and means sure enough guns.

I don't know whether patting girls in a rifle team is going to help conditions or not but something surely needs to be done; there's been a lot of miserable shooting lately—too many half-shot.

Far be it from me to advertise, but as long as you're really going to let the girls be pointing guns around promiscuously that way, it might be a good thing for you all to know that we maintain the best ambulance service in town. And in case of real bad luck we can take care of the whole job even to furnishing the camp chairs at

STATE DRAWS CURTAIN ON 1925 GRID SEASON AT WISCONSIN TOMORROW

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN MAKE TRIP TO MADISON; SEVEN MEN PLAY LAST GAME FOR GREEN AND WHITE.

Michigan State will close her greatest inter-sectional football card tomorrow when the Wisconsin Badgers will be met at Madison, Wis. An unusually large crowd is expected to be on hand to watch the clash since it is the only game which Coach Little's team plays this month on its own grid. It will mark the last battle for seven gridgers in State's grid togs.

Wisconsin downed the Michigan State team in 1923 at Madison by the count of 21 to 0, after a scoreless first half in which the air-tight defensive play of the Youngmen featured. Past games indicate that the Green and White colors are represented by one of the best defensive eleven in past years. The State forward wall boasts seven of the huskiest gridgers in the country and will vie with the best in honors of that sort. The Harmon brothers and McAndrews are sure to furnish plenty of real opposition to the State line tomorrow. McAndrews is the Big Ten sprint champion while the Harmon brothers have been featuring the Badger attacks this fall. They were largely responsible for the Wisconsin victory over Iowa last week. The line plunging and passing threat of these two brothers is sure to be the main job cut out for the Youngmen. Whether they will be able to accomplish something which Iowa was at a loss to do will in a large measure decide the issue.

The offensive threat of the Michigan State does not loom so formidably, although if the Green and White unleash their aerial attack, which they have demonstrated before, this season, has no little power, it will behoove the Little coached outfit to be on their guard. The driving power of the State backs is sure to bear watching along with the plunging Harmon brothers.

With the exception of one position, an end, which will be filled by Drew instead of Grim, the State lineup will be the same as in past years. The line will be Captain Haskins, Spiekerman, Garver, Ross, Hackett, Rummel and Drew. Dick Lyman will be at the quarter post, McCosh and Boehinger at the halves, and "Hap" VanBuren at the full-back berth.

The team left East Lansing Thursday afternoon for Chicago, where they will rest over until Saturday. The squad is in fine condition except Grim, who has been confined to the hospital this week recovering from an injury sustained in the Toledo game. Grim will not be in condition to play Saturday. Thirty-five coaches, managers, trainers, and players made the trip. The squad numbering 28, is Captain Haskins, Spiekerman, Garver, Ross, Hackett, Rummel, Drew, Lyman, McCosh, VanBuren, Boehinger, Wenner, Vogel, Eberbach, Valentine, Grimes, Grim, O'Connor, Anderson, Edmunds, Frederick, Fremont, Wallinger, Fouts, Smith, Kiebler, Collett and Timick. Francis, student manager, and Chamberlain and Hauptli, assistants, made the trip.

The DOPE FIEND

DOPE FIEND
Fielding Yost's over-confident football machine will attempt to thwart the attack of the Ohio Buckeyes this Saturday afternoon at Ferry field in Ann Arbor. Still stinging from the effects of that memorable mud battle down at Chicago last week, when Northwestern upset the dope and trimmed them 3-2, Michigan will go against Ohio with a furious attack. Minnesota is now leading the conference, with only a tie game to mar its record. This game stands as the only conference game they have played. Chicago, Iowa and Michigan are tied for second place; Northwestern, Illinois and Wisconsin are tied for third.

While Michigan entertains, Ohio, four other Western conference eleven will see action. Iowa takes on Minnesota at Minneapolis and Northwestern meets Purdue on the latter's grid at Lafayette. Northwestern should win by a substantial margin over the Boiler-makers, while Iowa is expected to stage a comeback and defeat Minnesota. If so then Michigan, Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois, Iowa and Northwestern would slide into a six-way tie in the percentage column.

Chicago meets Dartmouth, virtually national intercollegiate football champions as far as the east is concerned, at Chicago. Dartmouth is the only team of any consequence in the country to remain undefeated and unbeaten in this stage of the most hectic football campaign in the modern history of the sport.

Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois each meet non-conference teams Saturday. The Badgers tackle State at Madison, Indiana battles Rose Poly and Illinois clashes with its traditional rival, Wabash.

Down east Harvard meets Brown, and Princeton engaged with Yale in one of the "Big Three" games. Georgetown and Centre college will furnish another game which will be well watched.

While Michigan hooks up with the Buckeyes, the University of Detroit locks horns with a real foe in Washington and Jefferson. W & J has only lost one game this season, that being to Lafayette, 7-6. They have their greatest team in years, and the U. of D. is among the leaders of the west this season.

Lansing high meets Muskegon high at Muskegon Saturday afternoon. Flint Central plays Bay City Central and Grand Rapids Union lines up with Ann Arbor high to round out the roster of the important inter-scholastic battles this week. Flint and Lansing are favored to meet in a post-season tilt for the state title, providing they win the rest of their games.

Charles Paddock, the fastest human who poked in the gymnasium Monday night, has one of the most brilliant track records ever recorded in the annals of sport. Paddock holds jointly the world's record for the 100 yard dash, his time being officially accepted at 8.14 seconds. He also holds the world's record for the 220. This is probably his greatest record, his time being 20.8 seconds.

Paddock was a member of the United States Olympic team in 1920 and again in 1924. In 1920 he won the 100 meter dash, placed second in the 200 meter event, and ran a leg in the victorious United States 400 meter relay. In 1924 he was not so brilliant, but succeeded in placing fifth in the 100 meter, and second in the 200 meter event. Paddock also holds innumerable A. A. U. and collegiate records.

M.I.A.A. HARRIERS HERE SATURDAY

NINE TEAMS WILL RUN OVER STATE COURSE.

The annual Michigan Intercollegiate cross country run will be run off at the new Michigan State course Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, eastern standard time. Nine teams are entered in the run, covering a distance of 4.83 miles. Kalamazoo college has taken the meet the last three years but is not doped to seriously threaten this year. Ypsilanti Normal, however, is coming to East Lansing with one of the strongest teams of thinclads that ever wore Ypsi's colors. Potter, who placed third in the National Interscholastic meet at Chicago last year, and Jack Smith, cross-country captain, are expected to do a great deal toward lowering the colors of opposing teams. Michigan State will enter two teams, a reserve varsity squad and a freshmen team. Following are the entries:

Michigan State Fresh: Kroll, Baker, Rogers, Lamkin, Baldwin and McChish.

Michigan State Reserves: Ripper, Waterman, Belt, Haven, Barnett and Tulska.

Grand Rapids Junior College: Baird, Hinson, Eberhard and McMillan.

Kalamazoo College: Barton, Bent, Clark, Wendzel, Compton, R. Wendzel and Demison.

Hope College: Kinney, Kirk, Lubben, Fieldhouse, Chicquennoon and VanEss.

St. Pleasant Normal: Goodell, Abbott, Whittle and Barnard.

Western State Normal: Klock, Knuth, Fischer, McMonagle, Osterberg, Vogt and Dozier.

Ypsilanti Normal: Smith, Potter, Boyd, Ryan, Knoxles, Bailey and Strat.

Ferris Institute: Match, Zichis, Nuttlett, Dyers, Mark and Kronquist.

LYMAN LEADS STATE SCORERS

Green and White Pilot Has Scored 18 Points; Smith is Second.

By scoring two touchdowns against the weak Toledo university team Saturday Dick Lyman, quarterback of the Green and White this season, forged to the front of the State scoring column by raising his total to three touchdowns. Lyman also scored one touchdown against the Praying Colonels of Centre college. By virtue of his three intrusions on rival goal lines, Lyman also ranks with four Big Ten scorers, Melenda Michigan, Radke, Wisconsin, McAndrew, Wisconsin, and captain Larry Marks of Indiana each having 18 points to his credit. These men are tied for tenth place in the Western Conference scoring.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING DEPT ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT

A number of additions of equipment and apparatus is being made by the electrical engineering department. A new panel is being added to the alternating current switchboard in the alternating current laboratory.

Two 50 horse power compensators with oil switches are also being installed. Considerable new equipment is also being assembled in preparation for the work in the radio course given during spring term.

STATE THINCLADS MEET MARQUETTE

Six Runners Embark for Northern Meet.

Michigan State's cross country team journeys to Marquette tonight to meet Marquette university in one of the major dual meets on the State card this season. Marquette, as in the past, boasts of a team of well-trained, well-conditioned thinclads, who are hard for any team to beat. Marquette was nosed out on the Michigan State course last year, 27-28, and will make things just as interesting on this trip.

Shimek is Marquette's main threat and he must be outdistanced if State wants a chance of taking the run.

Michigan State's chances were brightened considerably Wednesday night when it was announced that Captain "Baldy" Harper, who was spiked during the Notre Dame run, would be in condition to run. Harper has been in the hospital all week but his wound has healed rapidly and will allow him to run Saturday according to present indications.

Coach Mason will take six men with him to Marquette. They are Captain Harper, Rush, Banks, Van Arman, Severance and Thomas.

Indoor Baseball Schedule Formed

Plans are now being arranged by L. L. Frimodig, assistant athletic director, for the starting of the indoor baseball season. He announced Wednesday that inter-fraternity indoor baseball would get under way next Tuesday evening, while an inter-ward tourney, which he is staging for Wells hall, will begin next Wednesday evening.

Nov. 23 is the date set for the first of the inter-class indoor games. Notices of the rules, schedule, etc., are being mailed this week to the various houses, classes, and to the various wards in Wells hall.
