COUNCIL SETS ELECTION DATE

NAMES MUST BE ON BALLOT
BY MARCH 1st.

All-college annual elections are to be held Friday, March 12, between the hours of 8 and 5, according to the decision of the student council at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, Jan. 19.

Names to appear on ballots must be turned in not later than March 1. Those who will be elected at that time are editors of Michigan Agriculturalist, Wolverine, Michigan State News, and Green Onion; president of Union board; council members; cheer leader and cheer committees.

Enough previous notice will be given to the elections this spring so that the indifference of previous years may be somewhat eliminated. Last year the votes cast did not represent one-half of the school's enrollment.

It was also decided at the meeting that the council would go on record as favoring the idea of giving aid in the Wolverine campaign.

ELECTRICAL SHOW TO HAVE MANY EXHIBITS

New Brunswick Panatope to Be Shown At College for First Time.

This year's electrical show to be held February 2, 3, and 4, promises to be one of the most interesting and spectacular of any ever produced by the local branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The show will mark the first public appearance in Lansing of the new Brunswick Panatope which is one of the most sensational electrical inventions of recent years. This new musical instrument unlike the present photograph will reproduce the entire musical scale. The entire mechanism is radically different from the ordinary photograph in that it uses copper records and employs a loudspeaker for delivering audible sounds. This new invention will be shown for a limited time at the college.

Exhibits of all of the modern electrical machinery and household conveniences will be displayed in the various rooms of the engineering building. The building itself will be brilliantly lighted by large flood lights so that its location will not be difficult to find. Guides will be provided to conduct visitors about the different exhibits.

The electrical laboratories in the engineering building will be opened for inspection. A number of experiments will be demonstrated in the laboratories. Visitors will be allowed to use the transmitting room of the broadcasting station in operation.

A number of the details and summary of the exhibits will be presented by Dr. C. Roberts in a short talk to be held over station WKAR next Wednesday evening.

DR. BUTTERFIELD ON EASTERN TRIP

Will Give Address at Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

President Kenyon L. Butterfield left the college Thursday on a nine day trip which will take him to Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, where he will deliver an important address.

The itinerary will take him to New York City, Washington, Atlanta and Tuskegee. President Butterfield will return to the college on January 29. This is the first long trip that the president has undertaken during the regular college year.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA GIVES BENEFIT DANCE

One O'clock Privilege Has Been Secured for Girls.

The first semi-formal of the term, the benefit dance given by the Alpha Gamma Delta, will be held this Friday evening at the Union ballroom. The one o'clock privilege for girls has been secured for the event.

The Amphion Revelers, a six-piece organization, will furnish music for the party. Dean and Mrs. Shaw and Dean and Mrs. Ryder have been selected to be patrons at the dance. Tickets may be secured at the main desk in the Union or at the door.

"LET WOMEN SMOKE," SAY IOWA "U" MEN

(Denver Clarion, Jan. 14.)
"Let women smoke, if they can do it gracefully," is the opinion advanced by University of Iowa students when interviewed in regard to the right and wrong of co-ed smoking.

According to many of the men students interviewed on the subject, objection to smoking is provincial, "small-town stuff."

ERO ALPHIANS WIN Y. W. C. A. PRIZE CUP

Minstrel Show Judged Best; Many Other Features Entertain Crowd.

The Ero Alphan minstrel show walked away in triumph with the silver loving cup presented as a prize for the best booth at the "Y. W. C. A. Carnival" held Wednesday evening.

A large crowd wandered laughingly among the booths with their fascinating titles: "The Patal Steps," "Michigan State's Prize Babes," "The Lightning Change Artist," "The Fountain of Youth," and many others equally intriguing. They stood entranced before the sweetheart of King Tut, one of the old stumblers on exhibition, and had their dispositions sweetened by bites of wonderful, creamy cake, and swallows of "pop."

One of the most interesting features of the evening was the aquatic basketball game, with Miss Dorothy McWood and Miss Elizabeth Woodworth as referees. Players were realistically "knocked out," and removed from the scene upon a wooden stretcher. The intermission during the half was marked by thrilling obstacle races.

Perhaps the center of attraction was the dance floor roped off in the center of the room, where dance lovers could twist to the entrancing strains of their favorite numbers. On the whole, the carnival was a success to everybody, and the large crowd left quite satisfied with their evening.

EXTENSION WORK FUND RECEIVES MORE MONEY

State Releases $100,000 for Extension Work During Present Fiscal Year.

Release of $100,000 was made Tuesday by the state board to the college for extension work during the present fiscal year. For 1925-26 the board appropriation is $100,000 and for 1926-27 it is $100,000.

This state appropriation supplements the federal aid given the college for cooperative agricultural extension of continuing education. By means of radio schools, courses for rural youth in schools, community organization, and engineering extension, development of research in marketing food supply, home economics, engineering, and to provide for the repairs, upkeep of equipment, and other maintenance.

RESTAURANT OWNER RECEIVES SENTENCE

Spanos Convicted of Illegal Possession of Liquor.

George Spanos, proprietor of the M. S. C. restaurant, was found guilty of illegal possession of liquor by a jury in circuit court last Tuesday. He was sentenced to six months to one year in jail and $10,000 fine.

It is rumored that he will appeal his case to the state supreme court.

NEW HONORARY IS ORGANIZED BY ENGINEERS

Phi Lambda Tau is Newly Organized Honor Fraternity.

Long-felt need in the engineering division has been filled by the establishment of a chapter of Phi Lambda Tau, an honorary engineering fraternity. This organization is being sponsored by the engineering faculty and has been approved by the entire college faculty.

The fraternity aims to create a spirit of cooperation and good fellowship between the faculty and students of the engineering division, and to instill in the underclassmen a desire to become leaders in their respective fields. It will develop the administrative ability of its members by aiming to cooperate with other organizations which have for their object the broadening of the engineer's life, both in a technical and social manner.

Membership in the fraternity will be based upon scholastic and administrative ability of the students, and candidates will be elected by an advisory board consisting of members of the engineering faculty and student body of that division.

DIVERSIFIED CONVO IS HELD

Colonel Bowie Talks
Topics of Special Interest To The Students of the Various Departments Are Discussed.

Col. William Bowie, President of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, Mr. J. O. A. Smith, and Dr. Katherine Hunt, President of the American Home Economics Association were among the noted speakers who addressed the students of the various departments of Michigan State college at Division of Education last Wednesday morning.

Colonel Bowie, who is chief of the division of Geology of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, addressed the students in the engineering division. In addition to outstanding achievement in the work of the coast survey, he has been active as a member and contributor to the engineering and scientific societies of his country and Europe, and has received many appointments to national and international commissions in the fields of astronomy, geophysics, and geodesy. His lecture was one that reflected experience and broad knowledge.

President Hunt of Kalamazoo college emphasized the necessity for play to cast off the dullness of continuous work. In an interesting address to the liberal arts division, the program was carried and spiced, students of the division taking part. Instrumental music by Donald Watson, a vocal solo by W. C. Butterfield and a reading by Marie Eckerman were features of the program.

Agriculture as well as some of the habits and characteristics of the South, people was the theme of the address given by Mr. J. O. A. Smith at the agricultural convention. Mr. Smith, who has just returned from a six months' tour of absence in Scotland, is a research associate in soils at the Michigan agricultural experiment station and was sent over to Scotland by the International Board of Education to investigate the agricultural colleges of that country. He was selected because of his outstanding qualifications and experience in soil classification and soil survey work in America.

The home economics convention was held in the Little Theatre and was addressed by Dr. Katherine Hunt, president of the American Home Economics Association.

A film, "The Wizard of Wireless," was shown to the students of the applied science division in the physical lecture room of the forestry building. It was through the courtesy of the General Electric company that the film was displayed.

Dr. R. J. Killham gave a most interesting lecture to the students of the veterinary division at the convention held in the bacteriology building.

HOP COMMITTEE SELECTS TYRREL AS TOASTMASTER

Speeches To Be Supplemented With Other Forms Of Entertainment.

Norval E. Tyrrel, 27, has been elected toastmaster for the 1926 J Hop by the members of the general arrangements committee. Mr. Tyrrel is editor-in-chief of the 1926 Wolverine and is well known about the campus as an able public speaker and for his active participation in student activities.

According to George Dicks, chairman of the general arrangements committee, a new form will be pursued this year in responding to the toasts and the speeches will be supplemented with other forms of entertainment.

The work of the eligibility committee under Stanley Hartwell, chairman, is nearing completion and as soon as the invitations arrive students will be given an opportunity to pay their fees, obtain their invitations, and receive table assignments. Table assignments will be made in the order in which students apply those applying first receiving first choice.

Prize Winning Horses Insulted

It may be the "latter sex" of the campus that is the cause of the insult to the prize winning horses from some one interested in drawing even, she would undoubtedly be insulted.

Mrs. Della Stockman, commonly known as the "sunshine lady" by Michigan children, recently told the youngsters about the ladies who won prizes at the Michigan and Ohio state fairs in 1925.

Not this and a cow story. Neither is it an even story. Persephone is a champion Percheron horse. The other female mentioned is her daughter.

Since the day that the "sunshine lady" directed the "horse" news to the building radio fans, inquiries have come in by the dozens asking for the horses' pictures. One 11-year-old girl, in that schoolgirl serenade, wrote in on a post card that she would very much like the picture of the horses, as she had always liked to draw even. Anyway M. S. C. has always been noted for its horses.

OLD TIME FIDDLERS MAKE HIT OVER STATION WKAR

Exactly 100 oldtimers living in every part of the country from New Hampshire to Louisiana, sent congratulations on the program of old-fashioned dance music, which WKAR broadcast Monday evening, with an orchestra of men who have played for more than 30 years, furnishing the tunes. All these letters were received Thursday morning.

Some of the men were 70 and 80 years of age and all of them sent in requests that the program be made a weekly feature at WKAR. Although the majority were residents of Michigan, there were representatives of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Louisiana, New York and Wisconsin.

One of the writers said that the orchestra had played songs he used to hear 70 years ago. Others declared the music brought back memories of their youth and "warmed the heart."

Forestry Training Under Criticism

Samuel T. Dana, director of the national forest experiment station of the forest service, states that most of the graduates of forestry schools lack training in the fundamental sciences that are necessary in research in forest problems.

The ordinary forestry course gives students a general training in the application of supposedly already known facts," he said, "but we need men who have studied sciences intensively."

In the future, Mr. Dana continued, those who are to be engaged in research, which he characterized as the greatest opportunity and the most essential element of forestry, will be taken from men who have either done their college work in fundamental sciences and then been through a course in the general management of forests, or from those who have attended a regular forestry school, and then taken graduate work in the sciences.

"Now," he stated, "the forest service trains its own men, as they have not adequate knowledge when they enter the work. Besides the men who actually manage the forest experiments, there are attached to our experiment station a pathologist, who spends his entire time studying diseases of trees, an entomologist, who investigates the influence of insects on the timber, and we hope to have physiologists and soil experts. The men trained in forestry schools have made forestry an art, but without scientific knowledge. Our hope is to make it a fine art, based on a knowledge of fundamental sciences."

U. OF M. IN HOCKEY

Weather permitting, the University of Michigan hockey team will appear here Saturday afternoon to open the skating season with Coach John Kobs' hockey enthusiasts.

A return match is scheduled to take place at Ann Arbor on February 5.

MILITARY BAND BROADCAST PROGRAM

Gold Charms Are Presented To Seniors In the Band.

An entertaining hour was enjoyed by all those who listened in on WKAR last Wednesday evening when the Michigan State College Military Band broadcast a fine program over the local radio station. The band has made great progress this year and promises to display the wares of State college in splendid style next spring when the organization tours the state during spring vacation.

At a recent rehearsal of the band, gold charms in the shape of small brass drums were presented to the seniors in the band. The president of the band, William Schulgan, and vice president, C. W. Fisher, were among those who received this honor. Others were E. K. VanFussel, Howard Preston, Myron Wrench, Frank Evans, Vern Mock, Ralph Toz, and "Shed" Fendone, Dykehouse.

COLUMBINE PLAYERS ELECT OFFICERS

Plans Made for a Public Meeting to Increase Club Membership.

Marion Bennett was elected president of the Columbine players at a meeting held in the Union building Wednesday night. Martha Stein is secretary and the vice-president and treasurer offices will be filled by last year's officers.

Plans were made to hold a public meeting in the near future for the purpose of increasing the membership of the club. As soon as new members can be taken in, the players will be divided into groups, each group to give a play. Engagements have already been made for the presentation of several of these plays.

Meetings were arranged to be held in room No. 1, Union building, the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. The first regular meeting will be held next Wednesday evening at 7:00.

CO-ED DEBATERS READY FOR WORK

Four Veterans of Last Year's Team Will Form Nucleus of Squad.

This year's co-ed debate squad is now complete. There are four of the members of last year's squad and prospects are for the best team ever had, according to the coach, E. C. Eckerman, of the English department.

The members of the year's squad are as follows: Florence Albright, Dorothy Robinson, Zetta Thompson, Elizabeth Sackett. The new members are Thelma Estelle, Ellen Farley, and Margaret Winters.

The question that will be debated is the child labor question. Although the schedule is not quite complete, debates with the following schools have been arranged: College of the City of Detroit, Albion, Western State Normal, Northwestern college and Marquette university.

The schedule will not start until March and each team will have at least one home debate and one away from home.

EXCHANGE PROF. FROM HUNGARY TO ARRIVE SOON

Third Professor to Come to Michigan State From Hungary.

Dr. Robert Ballenegger, exchange professor from Hungary, will arrive at the college in a short time to take up work in the soils department, according to Dr. E. A. Bessey, of the botany division.

It was formerly planned to send Dr. Ballenegger here in time to start the term. This plan was found impracticable, but the expert will be sent as soon as transportation plans can be made.

Michigan State college is represented in Hungary by Dr. H. J. Stafeth, who is exchange professor from this country. The new arrival will be the third professor sent from Hungary to Michigan State college under the auspices of the American-Hungarian foundation.

WOLVERINE WEEK TO START JAN. 27

"WOLVERINE FLIER" TO BE IS-SUED GIVING COMPLETE IN-FORMATION ON '26 BOOK.

Wolverine week, starting Wednesday, Jan. 27, according to the promoters, is destined to be a busy one on the campus with every student having the opportunity to place an order for the 1926 Wolverine.

Preliminary to the real campaign which starts next week, speeches were given at the various meetings of the divisional association Wednesday, by outstanding persons on the campus. This system will be repeated next Wednesday at the convocation which will take the form of separate meetings of the four classes.

The "Wolverine Flier" will appear next Wednesday and will be distributed to every student. It will contain Wolverine news from beginning to end and all the information that a prospective Wolverine purchaser could wish for.

There will be more than 100 Wolverine salesmen on the job. The salesmen will be selected largely from the four leading campus organizations: Women's Student Government Association, Student Council, Sphinx, and Excelsior.

FARMERS' WEEK FEATURED BY FULL PROGRAM

EXHIBITS, SHOWS, TALKS, MOVIES, AND MUSIC TO BE PLENTIFUL.

BANQUET FEATURES
College Parade and Outside Speakers to Hold Limelight.

Mixing a program of education and entertainment, Farmers' week will start Monday, February 1, and continue until the last program is over Friday night. Yesterday a state poultry show, with the more serious side of agriculture and rural life, music, moving pictures, pageants, and social hours will be thrown in so that the week will be balanced off.

Of special interest to the visitors will be the 1926 exhibits.

The one which will, perhaps, prove to be the most interesting and picturesque, is the annual horticultural show. This has been enlarged in order to include floriculture as well as fruit. It will be housed in the new horticultural building which is to be formally opened during Farmers' week.

The college library will house the farm crop section of exhibits. Featured here will be the competitive exhibits of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, a state poultry show, exhibits by Boys and Girls' clubs, and a special exhibit on the European corn borer, prepared by the college entomology department and the state department of agriculture.

The new Michigan Poultry Improvement Association will sponsor a big poultry show to be held in the tractor court, near the engineering building. An egg show and a rabbit exhibit will accompany the poultry show.

STATE COLLEGE LEASES PROPERTY

Addition of Biehseheimer 168
Acres Increases M. S. C. Ac-rage Past 1,500 Mark.

With the leasing of the Biehseheimer farm, south of the Red Cedar river, the total acreage under the control of Michigan State college now exceeds 1,500 according to an announcement made Thursday at the college. The leasing of the farm was effected by the state board of agriculture.

The new property, which is leased for three years with purchase option at the end of that time, has 168 acres. It is located on the Hazelton road. The farm will be used by the college for experimental purposes.

COLLEGE "Y. W." PLANS FOR VESPER SERVICES

Michigan State college Y. W. C. A. is planning a series of Sunday vesper services, to which all girls in the college will be invited, to take the place, for the winter term, of the regular Thursday evening meetings of the organization, according to Miss Myrtle Van Horne, president.

The first of these services is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 31, at the home of Mrs. H. H. Holladay, on the college campus. Dr. Frank Kingdom of Lansing, has been asked to speak. Musical numbers will also form part of the program.

Because of rehearsals for the all-college chorus, which are to be held Thursday evening, it was found advisable to discontinue, for the term at least, the usual bi-weekly meetings, formerly held on Thursday.

AGAIN THE COLLEGE!

Ever since the Cambridge debaters appeared at Michigan State college, the topic that most often comes up for discussion among groups of students who are really anxious to get some understanding of the COLLEGE spelled in big letters is the difference between the American system and that of England.

Professor Samuel Eliot Morrison in an article on "Oxford" appearing in the London Spectator pointed out some very striking differences:

They are not expected to be all things to all men; nor is admission to their colleges demanded as a right," declares this keen analyst. The Harvard Crimson, realizing that just the reverse is true of the American universities and makes the following noteworthy comment:

In a commendable application of democratic idealism American universities have sought to guarantee to all men an equality of opportunity to enjoy the benefits of higher education. College doors have been thrown open to the world, and over their portals have been inscribed an invitation to "Enter to grow in wisdom." From all directions and all conditions of life the aspirants have come; from mansion and hovel, from city and village, from adequate background and from no background at all, the motley thousands have crowded within the college gates.

After a century and a half of experiment the accomplishment seems to fall far short of the undertaking. So large a class of half-educated men and women now exist in American society that even the most sanguine believer in the capabilities of the common man must see that to grow in wisdom mere entrance at a college is not enough. In guaranteeing equality of educational opportunity, American universities have come very near accepting as a corollary that dangerous equality of educational condition which, under the "open door" policy, sets its standards only slightly above the plane of mediocrity.

There is no need to dwell at length upon the consequences which have been wrought by the American system. The inertia of the mass has been a constant drag upon the initiative of those students whose capacities and preparation justify a raising of academic standards. But at the same time a jealous public has resisted, in the name of their "inalienable rights", the exclusions which follow the tendency to raise standards, to enhance appreciation of matters of the intellect, in brief, to make universities true institutions of higher learning.

In the face of these conditions two courses are open to American universities, if they are to prove themselves worthy of the name. On the one hand they may define their function purely in terms of a high ideal of intellectual attainment and then, adopting whatever measures are necessary to effect their purpose, they must disregard the complaints of the incompetent and the indifferent.

On the other hand, the universities, while realizing that the attempt to drag the incompetent up the academic hill has been a failure, may feel themselves too dependent upon public opinion to shut out this class altogether. If so, they must establish a clear distinction between the competent and the incompetent, and declare them subject to different laws. They can then carry out their real purpose with the first group, raising standards as high as they please without hurting the feelings of the public, and at the same time they can minimize the dissipation of their energies to the second group by granting them residential privileges and academic immunities.

Justice and academic idealism call for the adoption of the first course. Expediency may urge the second. The universities must take their choice.

NOW WHAT—?

In the old days, we were the "fighting aggies" whose fame reached into very distant lands. Those were the much cherished "Michigan Agricultural college" days.

Much to our chagrin, newspapers of the state and nation still insist upon calling our teams the "fighting aggies". When they need a short word for their headlines, they content themselves as in the days of old with "Farmers".

We are not ashamed of having our teams called "fighting aggies," but would like to have our new title recognized. Now here's where the rub comes in. What are we going to call our teams? Statesmen? Staters? Cedars? What? There is a ten dollar bill for you if you have the right name for Michigan State college teams.

Co-ed Edna

Well, initiation is over now for the most of us, and so we are forced to return to our former indoor sports.

Mine appears to be, as usual, trying to think of something I can put in this column that will not be too absolutely foolish.

I admit, most of my stuff is foolish, but so are some of the things you do to, dear reader.

This sounds like a public letter. Please don't make any mistake and think that it is.

I wonder if that 100,000,000 year old dinosaur egg discovered by Roy Chapman Andrews, wouldn't work out cleverly into a new game I have been thinking of.

It is an idea for getting into the J. Hop free for nothing.

If anyone is interested, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for advance information.

Of course, we must first get admission from Mr. Andrews, he uses his dinosaur egg. There is a slight danger of breaking it if the game is played too ardently.

However, I imagine that he would be only too glad to loan it to enterprising students.

What's an old egg between friends anyway. This certainly is an old egg too.

We must attempt to keep this idea very quiet, as the J. Hop committee would spoil everything if they were to get hold of it.

It would be just like them to go right ahead and break the egg just to spoil our fun.

Well, next on our list program is the military ball. I see by the paper they are planning on having one this year.

Why doesn't the physical education department give a ball?

We could all go in our knickerbockers and gym shoes, and have a rollicking good time.

Instead of dancing all evening, which is such a bore, we might while the hours away with races, relays, and perhaps even a game of roller ball.

Perhaps too the co-ed dancing classes might be persuaded to present features.

And during intermission we might stage a swimming meet.

Then no one would be forced to leave the gymnasium and go out into the awful cold just because there was nothing to do inside.

Or perhaps if we found time hanging heavy on our hands, we might have a little song-service. A get-together, as it were.

Just going over again the old college songs, so that they may be fresh in our minds when we go home to shock the folks by singing them.

Also since I have been a student at Michigan State I have felt that the social life lacked considerably behind what it should be in an institution of this type.

I have not been invited to a single quilting party in all the years I have been here.

FARMERS' WEEK FEATURED BY FULL PROGRAM

Also the electrical department will put on the big annual electrical show during this week.

Among the other general happenings will be the broadcasting by WKAR of the general sessions. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, will be held the annual livestock judging contest which is open to all visitors. All short course students both past and present will hold a banquet and social hour at the Union at 11:30 Wednesday, Feb. 3. The department programs and conferences will take place from 8 to 10 a. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The big social event of the week will be the Farmers' week banquet which will be held in the hall room of the Union at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday evening. The liveliest session of the program is promised for Thursday evening when the Michigan State Farm Bureau will sponsor an old time party.

On the general program for Monday February 22nd evening is music by the varsity quartette and the college orchestra. Also an outside speaker, who will be announced later, will give a short address. Other short talks will be given by the college faculty. Dean R. S. Shaw will act as chairman.

Heading the educational list of talks for the session Tuesday afternoon will be the address of J. B. Davidson who is in the agricultural engineering department of Ames college. There will also be a band concert by the military band, a vocal solo by Olive Dobson, a member of the music department, besides a few other short talks by college specialists in the agricultural department. In the evening will come a boxing and wrestling exhibition and a basketball game, with the Swartz Creek band furnishing the music for the occasion.

For Wednesday the list of speakers will be headed by President K. L. But-

I consider these all very worth while suggestions, but I suppose they will meet with nothing but scoffing. Students are queer.

There should soon be good skating. I certainly enjoy watching people skate—especially those with weak ankles.

This may sound horrid, but it's only humane. Every year many people die from overstrain caused by laughing at the contortions of those willing skaters I have just mentioned.

And why is it that there are always so many of these people on the rinks? They just seem to abound.

Maybe it's because the good skaters are all sitting around the slide-tines, weak from laughter.

NO MORE EXTRAS

Cabs of this company will no longer make the 20c each charge for extra passengers.

Therefore, two, three, four or five passengers may now ride for the price of one.

This should appeal to students as groups of five may now use taxicabs at but slightly more than street car fare.

The Social Whirl

Edited by
ERVA PRESCOTT
Kappa Delta House

Due to the fact that many were recuperating from initiation, the social life on the Michigan State campus has been exceedingly quiet during the week. The annual Y. W. C. A. carnival held Wednesday evening, a dinner honoring Dr. Catherine Blunt, and a tea given by the Alpha Phi Sorority, comprised the campus society for the past few days. The coming week-end promises much in the way of entertainment, with the Alpha Gamma Delta benefit dance at the Union Friday night, the Women's building formal, a party given by the Columbians at Ag hall and an open house staged by the Phyleans.

Dr. Blunt Honored

The local alumni association of the University of Chicago gave a dinner at the Hunt Food Shop honoring Dr. Catherine Blunt, dean of home economics at that institution, Wednesday evening. Dean Jean Krueger presided and Dr. Blunt was the main speaker of the evening, outlining to the alumni the present activities of the university. Ruth M. Cowan, secretary of the local association, was in charge of arrangements.

Alpha Phi

The local chapter entertained the presidents of the societies with a tea honoring Mrs. Margaret Fleming, visiting delegate, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 13.

Misses Margaret Crogness, Florence Yakeley and Katherine Phillips will attend the wedding of Dorothy Yakeley and Alex. Capeland, both graduates of M. S. C., at Quincy Saturday.

Phylean

Formal initiation banquet was held in the society house Sunday, Jan. 10, with Dr. Ward Wilbur as toastmaster. The address of welcome was given by Goodwin S. Cules, with Dr. R. C. Huston, T. Ganson and Henry Arnold giving responses. The society staged an open house Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mullman and K. R. H. acting as patrons.

GREEN AND WHITE TO FACE VETERAN TEAM AT SOUTH BEND SATURDAY

NOTRE DAME RATES AS ONE OF THE BEST TEAMS IN THE COUNTRY; MICHIGAN STATE HOPES FOR CLOSE SCORE.

With the count standing four to three in games won and lost, Michigan State will invade South Bend, Ind., Friday night with the idea in mind of keeping her standing above 500.

The Irishmen, represented by a veteran team and rated as one of the best college teams in the country, will offer nothing but a warm reception for the Kobs, who have not as yet fully recovered from the eligibility disaster at the beginning of the term.

One brightening feature about the team, however, is that since the team has been rebuilt, a much better brand of basketball has been displayed. Shots from the middle of the floor have given way to a fast, short passing attack which should bring the desired results when the new combination finds itself. This was not especially noticeable against Michigan for the close guarding put up by the Maize and Blue guards was too much for any Michigan State offense, but improvement was shown in the St. Valtors contest and in being shaken consistently in practice.

Coach Kobs is no more certain of his starting lineup than he will send against the South Bend team than he was a week ago previous to the Ann Arbor disaster, but Captain Chris Hackett, will probably fill one forward berth at the opening, while the other forward job is giving the Green and White mental consideration thought as to the logical starter, but at present it lies between Monty Hood, Louis Smith and Red Colvin. Either of the three is a possible starter.

In the way he handled the pivot job against Captain Doyle and later against Bennie Osterbaum at Ann Arbor, Chuck Fredericks rates serious consideration as a cog in the initial combination. Fredericks showed good form last Saturday and has continued to do so in workouts this week. Colvin is a possibility at center.

There is not much doubt as to the guard choices. The work of Ken Erick at floor guard and Stash Cobb at back guard has been about the only bright spot to find Kobs' eye this season. Both are consistent performers at the defensive posts and in addition Erick has been showing a good eye for the basket.

The Notre Dame game was originally scheduled for Saturday, but was shifted to Friday. The Michigan State Normal game, originally planned to be played here Jan. 29, has been postponed one day to Jan. 30.

TAYLOR DEPARTS FROM ATHLETICS

HIS DEPARTURE IN MID-SEASON IS CALLED "LEAVE OF ABSENCE."

Verification of the persistent rumor that John L. Taylor, Taylor varsity line coach, and fresh basketball mentor, was to leave this institution at the end of the present school year, was announced Wednesday of this week.

The announcement came in the form of a statement that Taylor had been granted a leave of absence by the state board of agriculture, for the balance of the year. Mystery seems to shroud this allegation, however, since it was well known, and stated by Mr. Taylor, that he would not return here next fall.

The board of agriculture gives as the motive for its move in favoring Taylor's request, his three years of service here with the athletic system.

The existing vacancy on the freshmen coaching staff will be filled by Elwood Mason, a varsity letter man of last season. Mason is capable in his new duties. He was president of the State student council last year.

Taylor has made no announcement of his plans for the remainder of the present year, but it is rumored that next year will find him in the athletic realm at Ohio State, his alma mater, and the place where he gained distinction as one of the western conference's greatest football guards. His loss to the college will be felt in many respects.

LOST: A pair of glasses within case, between H. F. building and Therman house, Thursday, January 8. Please notify Marion Bennett at the Therman house. Reward.

In a news dispatch to the Associated Press dated Jan. 9, President Coolidge is quoted as being in favor of holding the annual Army-Navy football game at Chicago, some hundreds of miles from either Annapolis or West Point. "If this plan were put into practice it would seem that this would be one of the most forward steps taken as yet to commercialize collegiate football. Both the United States Naval academy and the United States Military academy are nothing more than colleges, even though the rigid discipline of these two institutions differ materially from those of other educational institutions. Is football to be played for the love of the game and for the honor of the school or for the satisfaction of a critical public which wishes to import two college teams several hundred miles from their seat of learning for an hour and a half of entertainment, that will cause several days of absence from their studies and the impracticability of any of the cadets or midshipmen ever being able to reach the place of the game.

The prospects of the Michigan candidate for diamond pennants are being touched out daily. The Detroit Tigers are preparing for another attempt to oust Washington from the top of the American league. The Georgia Peach, however, has not strengthened his lineup to any appreciable degree over the lineup which barely crowded into the first division last year, and his chances do not seem particularly bright to the practical observer.

The Detroit pitching staff has been the main objection in measuring the strength of the team in the last few seasons. Not much has been accomplished to strengthen it this season. Attempted deals with other major league teams fell through. George Burns is fast losing his effectiveness and Cobb will have to bank on the youngsters if not club to show their worth this year.

With gridiron feuds cast into oblivion, the Molenda appears to be occupying the limelight in athletic circles at Michigan at present. The husky Maize and blue football has stepped ahead of his other second year athletic marvel, Bennie Osterbaum, with the scoring honors on Maize's quietest tucked away in his belt in games played to date. Osterbaum was a little late in getting out for practice and has not yet convinced Maize that he belongs in the regular combination.

Franklin "Cappie" Cappon, Michigan's plugging footballer, in 1920, 1921 and 1922, and a man long to be remembered by Michigan State men who have played against him as a fullback extraordinary, has left his Alma Mater where he has been an assistant to Yost for the last three years, and has succeeded George "Potsy" Clark, former Michigan state football mentor, as head football coach at the University of Kansas.

DARTMOUTH TO DEBATE "OPINION" QUESTION

Harvard Crimson

The challenge issued by Robert McPhail, quarterback on the football squad last fall to E. J. Duffy, editor in chief of the Dartmouth, for a debate on the question of "whether the Dartmouth should voice opinions obviously in conflict with those of the college at large," will be answered editorially tomorrow.

The answer states that "the question as it stands is meaningless, and there is no particular point in discussing it." The question as worded completely by the football star is, "that the Dartmouth is performing a function which is distasteful to the undergraduate body when it voices opinions obviously in conflict with the college at large, and should pursue a policy more in concurrence with the sentiment of the undergraduate body."

If McPhail is willing to discuss his original contention that the Dartmouth has no right to state opinions in conflict with those of the majority of the undergraduates, the editor in chief will meet him on any terms he proposes. The statement in dispute was first made by McPhail in an address before the freshmen class in which he deplored the opinion of Duffy as expressed in the Dartmouth in relation to the football situation.

WRESTLERS AT PURDUE

Purdue university will entertain state wrestlers at Lafayette, Ind., on Saturday night in the second intercollegiate match for the Green and White grapplers. Last week Coach Barbant's men also invaded the Hoosier state to take on the University of Indiana. State lost this match, 18-2.

ATHLETIC DIFFICULTIES SEEM CHRONICAL HERE

Every Sport Suffers By Faculty Aze, Lack of Incentive To Return, and Injuries.

Ineligibility injuries and indifference are putting in strong bids to wreck havoc with Michigan State's intercollegiate sports program. Incidentally, all and spring sports are also getting their share of disappointments.

Donnent Black, one of Coach Barbant's best prospects in the last season, is disabled with an injured neck, which will probably keep him off the squad for the season.

Frank Haven and Floyd "Baldy" Harper, two year's captain of the cross country team, are both lost to the track squad. Haven has been off the boards since the holidays with stomach trouble, and Harper is still limping badly, by his ankle, which was sprained in the Notre Dame race last fall.

Three varsity football men, and eight freshmen graders are among the missing this term. The varsity men are Paul Smith, who is also a good track man, Earl "Hop" Van Haren and Eugene Valentine. George Smith, Don Weidner, Buster Schultz, Dougville Richter, Messmore and Mazine are the freshmen who have callings elsewhere.

Reynold Thomas, holder of the Michigan State 100 and 150 yard track records, is not enrolled this term and is lost to the swimming team. Thomas is one of the best swimmers in this event state has had for some time, and his absence is felt. He is at present competing for the Detroit Yacht club.

STAR BASEBALL PROSPECT RETURNS TO COLLEGE LATE

"K." Tolles, South Haven Southpaw Effective On All Fresh.

Albert J. Tolles of South Haven, who showed up to such good advantage on the all-fresh baseball squad last season, has returned to school and will be among the varsity candidates for a pitching berth when the call for material is sounded by Coach John Kobs next spring.

Kobs is fairly well fortified with hurling material in the persons of Harry Wakefield and George Kuhn, varsity moundmen of two years' experience. But Tolles, who is a southpaw, will be welcomed by the State mentor, especially on the southern trip in the earlier part of the season when several games will be played on successive days.

If Tolles makes the grade, and takes a regular turn on the mound, it will help to balance the many setbacks that have confronted the Green and White coaching staff the past year.

CO-ED SWIMMING CLASSES HAVE LARGE ATTENDANCE

Co-ed swimming classes are very large this term, announces the athletic department. Most girls who have elected it as part of their gym work are included in the enrollment.

Although there will be no co-ed swimming teams representing the school this year, there will be intersociety and interclass teams. Speed and form events will be the points of competition.

The Life-Saving Corps is initiating six new girls Jan. 27. These are Dorothy Shiesmith, Gertrude Powers, Elizabeth Woodworth, Lois Krusen, Elma Bowen, and Ruth Bowen.

SOPHOMORES FACE UPHILL BATTLE SATURDAY WITH FROSH TRACK TEAM

YEARLINGS APPEAR AS WINNERS IN SEVERAL EVENTS; BARRATT, KROLL, HENSON, SCHAAR AND KENDRICKS ARE OUTSTANDING.

One of the seasonal track classics of the college calendar season will take place Saturday afternoon, when the freshmen and sophomore entries compete in the gymnasium and vie for sufficient laurels to bring them into the consideration and favor of the varsity track coaches.

The freshmen will have an abundance of prep school celebrities in their ranks and are the favorites to win the cream of the laurels. Numbered among these leading freshmen contenders are Barratt, Henson and Schaar of Lansing, Kroll of Detroit and Kendrick of Mt. Clemens.

Henson was formerly a captain of the Big Red Lansing high track team and is favored to win out in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes Saturday. A real dual is expected in the 100 yard dash event. With the record of 22 feet standing, "Freddy" Barratt and Ivan Tillotson will compete in an attempt to shatter this distance. Tillotson, who represents an sophomore, hails from Potomac, where he held the shot put record of the north.

The half-mile time for the indoor track will be imperiled. At present it stands at slightly under 2:10. Four contenders are conceded to have a chance to better this. They are Kendrick and Kroll freshmen, Wylie and Belt sophomores.

Other events should be close. Schaar is favored to take the hurdles, and Diller of Battle Creek the high jump. Both are on the yearling team.

Diller is likewise a serious pole vault contestant and should vie for ten honors with another freshman, M. Vase of Dundee, Mich.

In the quarter mile event, with the same men entered as in the half mile race, competition should be forthcoming.

Kroll, a good 440 man in high school, may have found his track this year, and his absence is felt in competing for this title. His time is well under 60 seconds.

Little trouble is expected in the 400 yard dash event, when it comes to the freshmen. They have a lot of good sprinters.

The complete list of entries for the meet is as follows:

40 yard dash—Freshmen: Kenyon, Hetzmann, Gordon, Leason, man, Williams, Wilmarth, Diller, Fintennon, Peterson, Wright, Wright, Sophomores: Mattison, Rinehart, Cline and Gehmcke.

40 yard low hurdles—Freshmen: Kenyon, Schaar, Wagner, Boushner, and Windlate. Sophomores: Lord, Hollins, Mattison, Falk, Mattison, Cline and Gehmcke.

40 yard high hurdles—Freshmen: Kenyon, Diller, Schaar, Wagner, Boushner, and Windlate. Sophomores: Lord, Hollins, Mattison, Falk, Mattison, Cline and Gehmcke.

220 yard dash—Freshmen: Kenyon, Hetzmann, Leason, Gordon, man, Williams, Wilmarth, Diller, Fintennon, Peterson, Wright, Wright, Sophomores: Mattison, Rinehart, Cline and Gehmcke.

440 yard dash—Freshmen: Kenyon, Hetzmann, Leason, Gordon, man, Williams, Wilmarth, Diller, Fintennon, Peterson, Wright, Wright, Sophomores: Mattison, Rinehart, Cline and Gehmcke.
