DEBATING TEAMS MEET OPPONENTS

Affirmative Team Goes to Detroit; Negative Team Meets Ames, Cornell and Drake.

The first intercollegiate debate of the winter term will occur Friday evening, March 5, when the men's affirmative team meets the University of Detroit at Detroit on the question, "Resolved that the policy of centralizing power in the federal government is desirable."

L. C. Gyroene, '28L, E. L. Post, '26A, and L. R. Miller, '28L, will make the trip and speak in the order named. Coach D. C. Eckerman is accompanying the team to Detroit. This group has been working on the centralization question for several months and expect to make a creditable showing against the U. of D. debaters.

The same squad will clash with Purdue university, March 11 on the same topic from a home platform while the negative team is meeting Iowa State college at Ames, Iowa in the annual Tri-state debate. The negative squad composed of T. J. Ramsdell, '29L, W. F. Newell, '28L, and T. L. Christie, '27L, leaves next Wednesday to meet Cornell college, Cornell, Iowa, March 11 on the Child Labor amendment; Iowa State at Ames, March 12 on the centralization issue and Drake university, March 13 at Newton on the Child Labor question.

FIVE HOME EC STUDENTS ATTEND MERRILL-PALMER

Five home economics students will attend Merrill-Palmer school at Detroit the coming term. The Michigan State quota is six and up to date has never been filled. The girls who have been chosen to represent State for the spring term are Ruth Featherly and Veronica Martinkewitz, who are seniors, while the girls chosen from the junior class are Eleanor Rainey, Margaret Shoemith, and Grace Caruthers. Those attending the school this term are Marian Crosby, Florence Pangborn, Margaret Shadduck, Dora Bowers, and Lois Harwood.

OMICRON NU INITIATES THREE NEW MEMBERS

The local chapter of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics society, held initiation ceremonies in the Y. W. C. A. room Tuesday night for the three junior girls. The new members are Eleanor Rainey and Margaret Shoemith, who are members of the Theta-Sigma society and Rhea Vedder.

EXHIBIT OF ORIGINAL OIL PAINTINGS ON VIEW IN UPPER HALL OF LIBRARY

An exhibit of original oil paintings has been hung in the hall on the second floor of the library building. The exhibit was arranged by the art department and contains several landscape and marine pictures by Mr. Schiele, two portrait studies by Miss Butler, some work by students as well as a large oil painting which was presented to the college by Samuel Kennedy.

The painting by Mr. Kennedy which is named "The Marshes" faces the stairway. It pictures a bit of lowland country with a sunset in the distance. Mr. Kennedy is an alumnus of the college.

STATE COLLEGE MUSICIANS ENTERTAIN LEGISLATURE

A special concert was given Tuesday evening in the state capitol building by the Michigan State college military band, the glee club, and the quartet. The program was favorably received by an audience composed of the members of the state legislature and many guests.

SUCCESS OF ANNUAL HANGS IN BALANCE

Lack 150 Names of Meeting Required Quota; Staff Given Three More Days.

With approximately 150 subscriptions still lacking, the board of publications granted the Wolverine staff three more days in which to secure 1,100 signatures for the 1926 annual. If the required number is secured by Monday or Tuesday evening, the book will be published.

In the meantime, the editorial board is busy preparing the material for the printer and engraver with the expectation that the necessary goal will be reached. A record has been established this year in having all individual pictures taken by March 1. All groups will be completed by March 14.

L. E. Skellenger is high man in the subscription campaign thus far with 202 subscriptions to his name. James Gamble, program director of WKAR and a graduate of the college, is second high with 199 names on his list.

K. W. ATKINSON APPOINTED SPECIAL BEE INSPECTOR

Kenneth W. Atkinson, '28a, has received word that he has been appointed as one of the special bee inspectors being sent out by the state department of agriculture. Most of Mr. Atkinson's work in college has been in the entomology department, especially in connection with bees. He expects to begin his work at the close of this term.

POOL CONTEST FINALS TO BE PLAYED TUESDAY

Finals in Billiards and Pool Tournament to Start at Seven O'clock Tuesday Evening.

Jack Hornbeck of Lansing, proved to be the big star among the students in the student faculty billiard and pool tournaments being conducted by the Union this term. Hornbeck has succeeded in defeating all students at three-rail billiards and also at straight pool. E. G. Johnson was the champion student straight-rail billiardist.

For the faculty, Lyman Frimodig of the physical education department, won the straight pool tournament, with Prof. J. W. Steward, of the Land scope department, the winner in the straight-rail billiard tournament. The finals in the faculty three-rail tournament has not yet been played off. Miles Castled, of the physical education department, and R. R. Priddy, of the Veteran's Bureau will play off the finals in this event before the end of the week.

All of the finals in the tournament will be played next Tuesday evening. Those will determine the champion billiard and pool players of the school. The first match will start at 7 o'clock.

THETA ALPHA PHI SWINGS OUT WITH SIX NEW MEMBERS

Swingout was held Tuesday morning for six initiates to Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatics fraternity, and the initiation banquet was held at Hunt's Food Shop Tuesday evening.

At the banquet, Sylvester Vaughn served in the capacity of toastmaster, while speeches were delivered by Ralph Morrish, Ivan Denis, and Robert Powers. The incoming members were Annie Laurie Walls, Leroy Horton, George Dirks, Evelyn Cornman, Julia King, and Ivan Deak.

CO-ED FOLLIES WELL RECEIVED

Independent Girls Take First Prize With Fashion Revue.

Presenting a clever fashion revue, the Independent carried off the silver sandwich tray emblematic of first prize in the premiere Co-ed Follies enacted at the Little Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The Pythian society won second mention with a pantomime of the "Courtship of Miles Standish" and third place went to the Kappa Delta sorority with a weird burlesque entitled "Above and Below."

The Sororian society opened the program with a representation of the Wolverine featuring a military band, two aesthetic dancers, a darky vamp, and a rough and tumble football squad.

Pantomiming "Al Baba and His Forty Thieves", the Sesame society took the stage with a pirate act that included a five-girl chorus and a gipsy dance.

In many ways the Alpha Gamma Delta contribution was the most striking of the Follies. A chorus of "oil" oil" and some amusing Jewish philosophy, they presented an amusing take-off on Jewish family life in a one-act play termed "Bonovan Kelly."

The Themiads offered a hotel scene with a chorus of bellhops and a guest parade representing the four college classes.

"The Courtship of Miles Standish" was pantomimed by the Pythian society amid scenes where "a man's a man, a tree's a tree, and a nickel is worth five cents."

The Ero Alphas used a vodvil of ice as the setting for a humorously delivered recitation and a Charleston act delivered by ambitious applicants of the stage.

"Above and Below" characterized the Kappa Delta production with the combination of a wedding march and a funeral scene, and some clever Charlestoning at the close.

A "Bowery Dance" presented by a flirtatious damsel of the lower East Side and her hard-boiled counterpart was the offering of the Alpha Phi sorority.

Ivan Krueger, Miss Nora Bradley, and L. P. Waldo acted as judges. The affair was sponsored by the W. S. G. A. and the proceeds will go to furnish a room for girls in the Union building.

Twenty-five men wanted who are interested in summer employment. See Fremont Place employment secretary at the Union building Friday, March 5, between the hours of four and six.

BAND CLUB TO SWING OUT MAR. 10 WITH FIVE NEW MEN

The Band club will swingout Wednesday, March 10 with the following initiates: A. B. Cory, F. Rhinehart, W. G. Sweeney, K. M. Lyle, and F. Taylor. The initiation banquet will be held Wednesday evening at Hunt's Food Shop.

HONORARY HOLDS INITIAL SWINGOUT

Alpha Chapter of Phi Lambda Tau Takes in Eleven New Members.

Alpha Chapter of Phi Lambda Tau, new honorary engineering fraternity, made its initial swingout Wednesday morning when two members of the faculty and nine students wore the blue and gold sash of the order at convocation.

The organization is being sponsored by the faculty and students in the engineering division. The chief aims of the fraternity are to create a spirit of fellowship and co-operation between the faculty and students of the division also to instill in the underclassmen a desire to become leaders in their respective fields.

Membership in the fraternity is based on scholarship and administrative abilities of the student. Candidates are elected by an advisory board consisting of members of the engineering faculty and students.

Charter members in the faculty are: Prof. I. N. Field, Prof. L. S. Foltz, Prof. G. W. Hobbs, Prof. J. Adendorf. Student charter members are: C. W. Brown, H. E. Houser, H. C. Roberts, and E. J. Tanch. Initiates in the faculty are Prof. C. L. Allen, Prof. R. K. Steward; seniors, R. A. Bailey, H. W. Barrows, W. D. Howell, C. C. Sauer, E. E. Phippeny, R. J. Plourde, Stanley Rose; juniors, J. Buchanan and G. C. Sanders.

A banquet was held for the initiates at Hunt's Food Shop Wednesday evening.

SCABBARD AND BLADE TAKES IN TWELVE MEN

Honorary Military Fraternity Swings Out at Convocation With 12 New Members.

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, swungout at convocation Wednesday with twelve new members following two nights of informal initiation which made the campus ring with strains of martial music and the crack of rifles.

The initiation banquet was held at Hunt's Food Shop Wednesday evening with Under Major C. A. Kitto acting as toastmaster. The speakers Col. T. L. Sherburne, Capt. P. W. Hardie, Cadet Col. Louis Smith, Under Lieut. Col. M. G. O'Neil, H. D. Lakin, and E. C. Tullis who was a charter member of the Nebraska State college chapter of Scabbard and Blade.

The new initiates are as follows: G. N. Jarman, H. P. Tousey, J. A. Hands, H. D. Lakin, H. J. Hart, L. M. Wollinger, J. K. McElroy, G. L. Collett, N. A. Waterbury, D. W. Fleser, T. Oldenburg, and A. M. Coan.

Monday, March 8 will mark the advent of several new courses into the Michigan State short course program. A course in ice cream making will be initiated with a duration of two. A four weeks truck and tractor course will also be added to the program.

"CHINA HAS BEEN ABUSED BY WORLD POWERS; ORIENT HAS SUPERIORITIES," SAYS DR. ROBERTSON

China should not be measured by an American yardstick. The presence of foreign settlements and the influence of western powers is to blame for the civil wars and inner disturbances of China for which the orient country is condemned by foreigners. In those words Dr. H. C. Robertson of Shanghai, China, stated the problem in the eastern land before a general convocation of Michigan State students in the gymnasium Wednesday morning.

Dr. Robertson pointed out that it is the duty of the United States to attempt to discontinue the present situation under which China is so unfairly treated by Europe and other foreign powers, and exclaimed:

"How long would America tolerate a situation under which she had to ask permission of some foreign power in regard to tariff on imported goods? Such is the condition in China, for only lately a conference of western

CONCLAVE OPENS AT CONVOCATION

Dr. Padelford Sounds Keynote Of Christian Conclave At Meeting This Morning.

Sounding the keynote of the annual College Christian Conclave, Dr. Frank W. Padelford, national secretary of the Baptist board of education and responsibility" to the assembled student body this morning in the M. S. C. gymnasium. President Butterfield presided and the college orchestra gave several selections. Following the convocation, the audience broke up into denominational groups and listened to speakers from their respective churches.

The conclave will continue throughout Saturday and Sunday with Dr. Padelford, President Butterfield, Rev. Fr. John Gabriels of Lansing, Miss Frances Greenough, secretary for Baptist women students, Dr. Ralph Owens of Chicago and Dr. Edwin Bishop bearing the brunt of the speaking program.

All day Saturday the leaders of the conclave will be stationed in the People's church to consult with students on their personal problems. R. Bennett Weaver, who is handling the conference, points out the rare opportunity for State students to talk with national religious figures and urges those interested to sign up at once in his office.

The People's church will hold a party in the church parlors Saturday evening for the leaders of the conference and all State students.

SQUIREL TRAPS FAIL TO FUNCTION PROPERLY

The traps which have been placed about the campus by faculty and students of the zoology department in an effort to find out what kind of squirrels have been stripping the maple trees of their bark have not been entirely successful, according to those who are charged with visiting them. The main thing which has been accomplished has been that several students have had to rise some minutes earlier than usual each morning and take a hike through the snow banks to visit these traps.

SENIOR FORMAL TO BE HELD MARCH 19

The date for the annual senior ball has been set as March 19, and will be held in the Union ballroom. The party will begin with a dinner which will be served at 6:30. A popular orchestra has been chosen to furnish music for the affair. The party is limited to 100 couples; reservations may be made between 12 and 1 o'clock at the Union starting Monday, March 15.

LOST—A loose-leaf notebook containing valuable data on bacteriological work in library building, March 4. Finder will please notify Prof. Mallman at his office in faculty building and receive reward. Curtis H. Betty, 335 S. Harrison st.

KNOW THEM BY THEIR WORK

Students have had an opportunity to acquaint themselves face to face with the men and women who are up for election to STATE NEWS positions. The important thing is to know them by their work.

This issue is under the complete direction and management of Ted L. Christie, one of the men in the competition for EDITOR. The Tuesday issue will be under the supervision and management of Keith Himebaugh, the other contender for the editorship.

Study this and the succeeding issue carefully and give merit where merit is due. Has the editor presented his "goods" interestingly and accurately? Are there more mistakes in spelling than is excusable? Do the editorials come up to your standard of thought and treatment? Don't throw this issue away now. Save it and compare it with Tuesday's.

RESPECT FOR PERSONAL PROPERTY

Stolen hats, stolen scarfs, stolen overcoats, stolen haberdashery, stolen books, stolen accessories, stolen knick-knacks, stolen posters—each day adds its bit to the growing total of stolen articles until it seems that the student body of a great state institution is infected with an epidemic of petty thievery. If all the evidence were gathered together in one place at one time it would constitute a prima facie case against the students at large that would make Clarence Darrow himself ask for a nice, simple murder trial.

It may be true that the actual larceny is being committed by a relatively small number of people but until the offenders are apprehended and convicted, the entire student body must meet the issue. However large the group may be, the frequency with which they break into the limelight indicates unusual activity in their chosen vocation and the odium which they are bringing on the school demands prompt action.

The problem is not one of stolen goods for the value of the goods is infinitely small compared with the principle behind the act. The problem deals with an attitude of mind—a lack of differentiation between "mine" and "thine", a disregard of the other fellow's feeling, a lack of respect for the sanctity of personal property. It is highly questionable whether there exists in the mind of the average student whether he be guilty of the definite crime or not, that due regard for personal property which is the very cornerstone of civic liberty.

Fortunately for us, the college world is a sheltered world and the embryo second-story man goes blithely about his way smashing street cars and looting drug stores while his fond parents and faculty friends stand by and sigh, "Boys will be boys."

However the end of this academic dream is not far off and the repetition of such acts in the cold gray dawn of every day life will have a swift denouement with police sirens, criminal court judges, and prison wardens combining to create a dark night for the college graduate who has not learned to respect his neighbor's property.

A firm resolve on the part of a majority of students to religiously revere the belongings of others—the humblest friend or the most pretentious hotel, plus a spirit of righteous condemnation against those who refuse to abide by the rules of society,—these things will go a long way toward correcting the evil of "petty thievery" and developing respect for personal property on the campus of Michigan State college.

Miss Erva Prescott

Miss Erva Prescott who with Miss Eleanor Hutchins is competing for the co-ed editorship, has supervised the woman's page for this issue.

Miss Prescott is a junior home economics student and a member of the Kappa Delta sorority. She has been a member of the Michigan State News staff for three years and society editor for the past year. During her freshman and sophomore years she was a member of the co-ed rifle team. At present she is a member of the W. A. A. and a cabinet member of the Y. W. C. A.

Sketches People in Rich Trial

Marvin Hahn, 201, a student in the art department, has put his sketching ability to practical use in drawing pictures of the principals in the Rich trial for the Lansing Capital News.

The judge ruled that no cameras would be allowed in the court room. Newspaper men, of course, were allowed and so Mr. Hahn, in the employ of the newspaper, makes his sketches.

If our only conception of an artist is that of a wild-eyed enthusiast starving in a garret we must change it somewhat to include the artist who is also practical enough to realize the value of his art to the commercial world.

Co-ed Edna

"O wad some power the giftie gie us, to see ourselves as others see us."

Did you see the co-ed follies? Rightly named, is it not? If the power had only been given to those poor, benighted girls to see themselves as others see them, what a different matter that show would have been.

I don't know that they made the name really strong enough. Those co-eds were more than foolish; they must have been crazy!

Perhaps I didn't look at that from the artistic standpoint, though. It was artistic, I will have to admit.

And now they say that we are going to have to stand for this every year. Can you imagine that? Paying out our good money to go and see those co-eds act foolish when we could do worse or worsen ourselves.

And speaking of artistiveness—did you observe the costumes? The very last word. We could teach professional costuming companies something about that matter.

 P. A.

TALK about "alliteration's artful aid" . . . the printer certainly raided the "p" box that trip. But let that go! The advice is just as serious and sound as though it were couched in the careful diction of an English prof.

Just get yourself a jimmy-pipe and fill the bowl to the brim with Prince Albert. Light up, and let the first fragrant whiff tell you that no other tobacco is like P. A.—or can be! Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. has everything a fellow ever wished for in a smoke.

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. The Prince Albert process settled that in P. A.'s freshman year. Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. The first load-up will tell you why pipes are so fashionable among young men today.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, packed and held round the world, and found everywhere in the world with sponge-maintained top. And always with every tin of bits and parts recovered by the Prince Albert process.

The Social Whirl

Edited by
ERVA FRENCHOTT
Kappa Delta House

After the usual mid-week slump of social activities there appears on the docket for the coming week-end seven formals. The Pi Kappa Phi is holding forth in the Little Theater while the Columbian formal is to be held in the Union and the Ulyssians are entertaining in the same place on the preceding night. The Theman society is holding its annual dinner dance Friday night and the Phi Deltas Saturday evening at the Elks' temple. The Phylean society is entertaining at the Downey this evening, while the Tics are holding their formal at the Downey home Saturday night and the Phi Kappa Taus at the Korns.

Schedule
The annual winter term formal will be staged at the society house Saturday evening with Prof. and Mrs. G. H. Reed and Prof. and Mrs. R. K. Stewart as patrons.

Phi Kappa Tau
Fifty-five couples are expected to attend the Phi Tau dinner dance which is to be staged at the Korns Saturday night. The Michigan State Collegians will furnish music for the affair and the patron list includes the names of Dr. and Mrs. McCool and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg. F. D. McCally heads the committee in charge of affairs and he is aided by Ralph Decker and Lyle Lyons.

Hugo Kanitz and L. Leimbaum entertained guests from Kalamazoo over the past week-end.

Phylean
The Michigan Collegians of Albion will furnish the music for the Phylean party which is to be staged Friday night at the Hotel Downey. Patrons for the affair are E. B. Hill, Dr. and Mrs. W. Giltner and Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Huston. Many alumni are expected to return for the occasion.

The society staged an open house Friday night with L. C. Wilson's orchestra as music makers. E. B. Hill was patron for the occasion and Earl VanBuren returned for the affair.

Arlington Corey was initiated into the Band club during the week. Guests over the past week-end were George Morris, William H. Hoffer, Jack Stannard and D. Orvitt, an alumnus.

Jack R. Leslie of Midland has been added to the pledge roll.

Kappa Delta
A tea was held in the chapter house Wednesday afternoon honoring Mrs. Mary Dietrich who left Thursday and Mrs. Snedcor who will take her place as house chaperon.

College Residence
The girls in the house celebrated the birthday of Gwendolyn Packwood at a kid party Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served by Miss Packwood's mother who was a guest at the dormitory for the week.

One of the latest broadcast stages of the world's first super-power transmitter

The World's Loudest Voice

On the rolling plains of South Schenectady, in several scattered buildings, is a vast laboratory for studying radio broadcasting problems. Gathered here are many kinds and sizes of transmitters, from the short-wave and low-power sets to the giant super-power unit with a 50- to 150-kilowatt voice.

Super-power and simultaneous broadcasting on several wave lengths from the same station are among the startling later-day developments in radio. And even with hundreds of broadcasting stations daily on the air throughout the land, these latest developments stand for still better service to millions of listeners.

Only five years old, yet radio broadcasting has developed from a laboratory experiment into a mighty industry. And now, keen young men have reaped the rewards.

But history repeats itself. Other electrical developments will continue to appear. And it will be the college men, with broad vision and trained mind, who will be ready to serve and succeed.

CREAM OF STATE TRACK TALENT GATHERS FOR INDOOR TRACK MEET

LARGE FIELD OF IMPRESSIVE ENTRIES BOOKS ILL FOR EXISTING RECORDS.

Michigan State college will play host to the cream of the track talent of the state tonight in the annual Michigan State college indoor track carnival, which promises to outrival all previous events of like nature in the imposing array of real track stars. University of Michigan, Michigan State college, Ypsilanti Normal, Western State Normal, Central State Normal, Hillsdale, Detroit City college, and the State college freshmen furnish the list of competing teams.

Heading the program is a list of nine special relays, which should prove of more than ordinary interest. Michigan State will be pitted against the University of Michigan in a special two-mile relay. The Green and White team composed of Ripper, Wylie, VanArman and Belt are favored to furnish a neat race for the Ann Arbor entries. Detroit City college will match Ypsilanti Normal in the second two-mile event, while the State college freshmen are favored to take the third two-mile relay from Central State Normal.

Two one-mile relays are also listed. The Green and White team will oppose the Central State Normal quartet in the first. One of the prettiest races of the evening should be furnished in the Ypsi-Western State Normal clash in the second one-mile competition. Detroit City college may be opposed to the State college freshmen in a third one-mile race. The Michigan State speed artists are expected to repeat their colorful victory over the Western State Normal half-mile quartet in one of the 880 relays. Detroit City college is doped to tall Ypsilanti Normal dash stars in the second event, while a rather even match is presented in the opposition of Detroit City college with the State college yearling quartette. The record made by the Michigan State college team last winter of 1:41:2 in this event seems fairly safe unless the same men should reach out a trifle more for a new mark.

The dash events are creating interest with a most imposing list of entries. In the 40 yard dash, Alderman and Grim of Michigan State, Sterling of Michigan, Otto of Ypsi, Tait of Detroit City college, and Lang of the State fresh team seem to be the favorites. The miraculous performances of Alderman and Grim within the last few weeks label them as the best bets. The work of Alderman at the Illinois relays in tying the world record in the 300 yard dash places him in a class by himself in that event. Grim is another heavy favorite, while Kroll, State freshman, is being counted upon to place. The existing carnival record of 35.1 is expected to be toppled by the flashy Alderman.

GRADS GATHER FOR ANNUAL ALUMNI TILT

1925-26 State Team Dons Togs for Last Time This Year.

Michigan State college varsity basketball team will respond once more to the shrill sound of an opening whistle when they do battle with the scarred veterans of former days in the annual alumni battle Saturday night.

Brown Springer, erstwhile performer of years back, who is spending his days coaching the Lansing high school athletic teams has been in charge of gathering the "vets" and the roster of graduates, which he presents for the yearly fracas is swollen with stars who did credit to the Green and White a few years back. Included on his list of men returning are Jack Foster, Larry Kurtz, Doc Hensley, Al Brown, Hinkle Miller, Wesley Eva, Elwood Mason and L. L. Frimodig.

The State team dons its togs for the final time this season before they are stowed away in moth balls for the yearly rest. The quintet molded by Coach Kohn had one of the poorest seasons ever experienced by a Green and White five and it is questioned by some whether they will be able to take the measure of the graduates. The lineup of the grads include men who were considered rather formidable men during their intercollegiate playing days and whether their days in swivel chairs have developed a lazy, indolent coating over their athletic prowess will be decided on the court tomorrow night. Rather a large crowd is expected to witness the stars who made Green and White teams famous in former days.

YEARLING COURT TEAM DROPS FINAL GAME

First Year Men Beaten in Majority of Games.

Michigan State freshmen basketball team ended a rather poor season Tuesday evening by losing to Grand Rapids Junior college at the Furniture City, 40-30. This tilt terminated the frosh schedule and leaves the yearlings with a percentage of 333, a record far behind that made during the 1925 season, during which the yearlings were undefeated at the close of the campaign. The work of Dickenson and Orner

W. A. A. practices in volley ball and basketball will be held Saturday morning, it is announced, and all girls on teams must be present at that time. Freshmen and seniors will practice from eight until nine, and sophomores and juniors from nine to ten.

at forwards was essential to the offensive machine and both look like varsity men. Coco, Pettis, Horaback, and Knickerbocker are other probabilities, while the defensive power shown at stages of the season by Barrett and McGill warrant them consideration for varsity berths in another year.
