BUSY WEEK IS SCHEDULED FOR DEBATE TEAMS

Affirmative Team Appears in Little Theatre; Negative Team Makes Trip.

Resolved, that the policy of centralizing power in the federal government is desirable" will be the subject for debate when the men's affirmative takes the platform Friday evening in the Little Theatre against Purdue university in the annual tri-state contest with Purdue and Iowa State. L. C. Green, '28L, E. L. Post, '26A, and L. R. Miller, '28L, will represent State.

The negative squad composed of T. J. Bamsdell, '29L, W. F. Newell, '28L, and T. L. Christie, '27L, and accompanied by Coach D. C. Eckerman will leave tomorrow afternoon for Iowa where they will engage Cornell college, Iowa State and Drake university on March 11, 12 and 13. They will uphold the negative of the child labor amendment against Cornell and Drake, and the negative of the centralization question against Ames.

If present plans transpire, Coach Eckerman will send a representative from M. S. C. to the Pi Kappa Delta national convention at Fort Estes, Colorado, March 31 and April 1, 2 and 3. Inasmuch as forensic teams from all over the country will be competing for convention honors, the State delegate will probably be entered in the extemporaneous speaking contest or in the oratorical contest.

CONCLAVE HOLDS MANY MEETINGS

Impresses Upon Student Minds That Responsibility Goes With Education.

Commenting on the results of the College Christian conclave, R. Bennet Weaver, student pastor of the People's church, stated at the close of the program Sunday evening that "The value of the conclave had been to impress upon the minds of the students the fact that with education went responsibility and with opportunity went obligation."

Taking as its keynote "Education and Responsibility," the conclave began Wednesday morning at convocation and lasted until late Sunday evening with a great variety of general meetings.

An important feature of the conclave was the individual conferences which the leaders of the program had with a considerable number of students. All day Saturday these leaders consulted with perplexed students on problems of both a personal and a campus nature.

No small part of the conclave was the nationally known figures which it brought to the institution during the four-day gathering. Among these were Dr. Frank L. Padelford, executive secretary of the Baptist board of education; Dr. C. H. Robertson of Education society; Miss Frances I. Gammon, district secretary of the Education society; Miss Frances I. Greenough, secretary of student work; and Rev. Gilbert Lovell, vocational counsellor of the Presbyterian church.

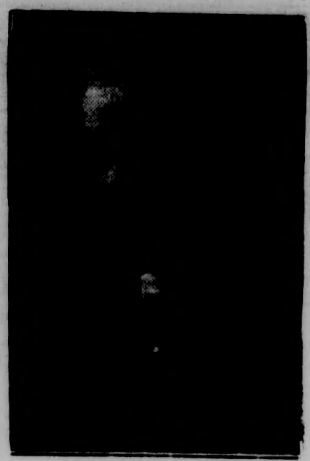

Campus Characters to be Chosen in Coming College Elections

The momentous question of choosing the campus hero, heroine, and villain in the popularity contest which is being staged by the staff of the 1928 Wolverine, will be decided Friday, March 12, in the all-college elections.

Prominent professors nearly broke into the running in each of the three positions. Forty-two candidates were proposed for heroine and 30 for hero. Fewer villains were proposed, but what they lacked in numbers was made up in fitness for the position.

In the field of prospective heroines the six high candidates in the preliminary elections whose names will go on the ballot are Anne Laurie Walls, Dorothy McWood, Millicent Clark, June Ramsey, Eleanor Hutchins and Sylvia Schimmel. When six prominent members of the

FOR EDITOR

TREVOR L. CHRISTIE

With his background of experience in journalism and other types of work, Trevor L. Christie is aptly prepared to carry on the duties of editor of the Michigan State News.

Ted graduated from the Lansing high school in 1926. For three years afterward, he worked in the purchasing department of the Red Motor Car company and the Hugh Lyons company of Lansing.

While in high school he was active in debating and newspaper work. Ted entered Michigan State in 1927 and is at present a junior in the liberal arts division.

During the two years that he has been a member of the State News staff, he has been active as reporter and later as assistant editor, in various capacities he has served for the last year.

At various times during this period he has been correspondent for the Detroit News, the Grand Rapids Press and the Lansing State Journal.

Among his college activities other than newspaper work is three years of inter-collegiate debating. He was on the team which defeated the Cambridge university team last fall.

Ted founded and acted as the first business manager of the Green Onion. He was assistant business manager of the 1925 Union vol-7, chairman of the sophomore barbershop committee, and chairman of the printing and engraving committee of the 1926 I. Hop. He has also served on the 1925 Wolverine board, and on the religious council of the People's church.

Last summer he was employed in the college publicity department, doing various types of advertising and news service work.

Ted is a member of the Pi Kappa Delta national forensic honorary, and the Phi Delta society.

WOLVERINE REACHES SUBSCRIPTION QUOTA

Editorial Work Progressing Rapidly; Staff Expect to Publish Book in May.

The Wolverine will be published. The 1,100 mark which was the compulsory goal set by the Board of Publications to make it possible to publish the annual this year, has been reached with possibilities of the number being increased when all the salesmen have checked in.

Work has never stopped on the Wolverine, even when its publication was in doubt, and because of this it will be possible to deliver the book in May. All individual pictures have been completed, group pictures will be finished this week. The covers will be ordered and the printing contract let within the next few days.

Editorial and advertising copy will be sent to the printers as fast as it is prepared and the engraving work is being done as fast as the pictures are ready. March 26 is the date set for the "deadlines" and all Wolverine material will be in the hands of the printers by that date.

SEE IMPORTANT EVENT OF WEEK IN ELECTIONS

Record Breaking Number of Votes Expected to Be Cast by Students Friday.

The annual all-college elections, one of the most important events of the year and one that exerts a strong influence during the succeeding year on the student life of the college, will be held Friday, March 12, in the Union building.

A great deal of interest has been manifested this year in the elections and a record number of votes are expected to be cast. An effort has been made to make the student body acquainted with the candidates in the columns of the Michigan State News and by introducing them to the student body at convocation last week.

The polls will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. in order that every student may have the opportunity to vote at the most convenient time during the day. It is hoped that every student will take advantage of the opportunity to vote in

FOR BUSINESS MANAGER

GORDON WHITBURN

Perhaps the most outstanding qualification of Gordon Whitburn for the position of business manager of the Michigan State News is the fact that he has had a wide experience in meeting the public. Mr. Whitburn is a member of the agricultural division, a member of Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic fraternity, and served on the Union Board for the year 1927-28.

For two summers previous to his entrance at Michigan State he was the district collector of the Lake Superior District Power company, a branch of the Western Electric company, covering a territory of about 250 square miles. This was followed by two summers' experience as shipping clerk for the Michigan Steel company.

Upon his entrance to the college as county agent in Argyle, county, and since that time has spent his summer vacations in this work, doing judging, general live stock judging and dairy demonstration teams or

PAUL BLAKE

Having had a broad experience which has been augmented by considerable travel, Paul Blake, a junior of the civil engineering department, and one of the contenders for the position of business manager of the Michigan State News for the coming year, has a background of experience which has fitted him for this position. Mr. Blake took an active part in the Union drive during his freshman year and is a member of the newly organized civil engineering society.

Blake has spent three years on the business staff of the Michigan State News and

FOR EDITOR

KEITH HIMEBAUGH

Keith Himebaugh has a record for activity which qualifies him very well for the position of editor of the Michigan State News. He is a graduate of the Ferris Institute, Big Rapids. In three and one-half years, he says, he has attended five different high schools, "but not on account of scholastic difficulties."

Keith began his work on publications on the high school newspaper at Tulsa, Okla. At the Grand Rapids Junior college he was editor of the annual and also a member of the news staff.

Not being endowed with unlimited financial resources, Keith at the same time worked for a Grand Rapids advertising agency for whom he published two commercial publications. His work with the agency included selling and writing advertising, and also illustrating advertisements.

Then Keith began a series of unique experiences. He attended the Chicago Art Institute for one year. Went west for work and study, being entirely "upon his own." He attended three colleges before he came to Michigan State where he decided to stay until graduation.

Keith started reporting for the State News, gradually working up to the position of assistant editor in his junior year. For one year, he was college representative for the Lansing Capital News, and at this time reported for the Detroit Free Press.

A remark that "Publicity" might be a good middle name for him is well substantiated by his long list of publicity jobs at the college. He is the publicity manager of the 1928 Wolverine, having among other things edited the recent Wolverine Flyer. The J. Hop committee chose him chairman of publicity.

Since winter term, Keith has been working for the college department of publications in his spare time. Among his methods of recreation is playing the piano over the college radio station, WAKR. Keith has no formal education. He is enrolled in the liberal arts division.

EUNOMIAN-STATE NEWS CONTEST ANNOUNCED

All Manuscripts Must Be Submitted at Office of Eng. Dept. Dept. By April 26.

The Eunomian-Michigan State News contest, which has been an annual event for many years and has led to the production of many good short stories and poems, has been announced by Prof. W. W. Johnston, head of the English department of the college.

All manuscripts must be submitted by April 26 at the office of the English department. The maximum length for short stories is 3,000 words. A prize of $20 will be awarded for the best short story and a second prize of $10. In the poetry division of the contest the first prize will be $12 and the second prize $8.

The total amount of prize money, $50 for the two contests, is furnished jointly by the Eunomian society and the Michigan State News.

TO GIVE "BELIEVE ME XANTIPPE" IN LITTLE THEATRE

Play Billed March 10 and 11; Richard Lyman and Pauline Scott Plays Leads.

"Believe Me, Xantippe", the second winter term production of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, will be given in the Little Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday night, March 10 and 11. The last dramatic fraternity play, "When a Feller Needs a Friend" was presented for two nights, February 24 and 25, with appreciable success, and the experiment will be repeated with "Believe Me, Xantippe".

Holding the lead roles in the four act presentation will be Richard Lyman, erstwhile football celebrity of State, and Pauline Scott. Lyman, as George MacFarland, is an idle bachelor of unlimited means, who craves variation from the cramped style of social etiquette. This, he secures through the medium of a bet, which concerns the effectiveness of the arm of the law. It is left for Dolly Knamm, played by Pauline Scott, a deputy in a little western city to convince him of its reality and the conviction is thrust upon him so forcefully that he fails to succumb and surrenders to the deputy permanently.

In supporting roles, "Rudy" Boehringer, as Arthur Sole, another athletic young gentleman; "Bill" Schulgen, as Thornton Brown, best remembered as Mr. Kroegel in the Union Volvill; Sylvia Schimmel, who has been active in Theta Alpha Phi plays regularly, in the part of Violet; J. D. Medill, who was seen in "Take a Tip From Me" as well as in "The Union Volvill," as "Buck Kamman"; Ruth Featherly, as "Aunt Martha"; Edward Jerome, as "Stimp" Calloway; Max Hilton, as Wren Rigley; and Roy Spiekerman, the violet. The latter is another individual more often discussed for his athletic prowess.

NEW ENGINEERING GROUP ORGANIZES

Juniors and Seniors Form Michigan State College Civil Engineering Society.

A new engineering society, to be known as the Michigan State College Civil Engineering Society, was organized March 2 and the first meeting was held March 4 at which E. A. Jerne, a senior engineer was elected president. The secretary will be elected from among the juniors of the civil engineering department.

The new society which includes as charter members all juniors and seniors of the civil engineering department, was organized for the purpose of the furthering the interests of the civil engineering students with the purpose of the furthering the interests of the American Society of Civil Engineers for a Michigan State College chapter. There is now one branch of the national society in the state at the University of Michigan.

Versatile Athletes Are to Appear in Dramatic Roles

The windows rattle! The doors bang! Hold fast, brethren, it signals only the approach of our versatile athletes, Dick Lyman, Rudolph Boehringer and Roy Spiekerman. Attired in the garb of the gridiron gladiator? Oh, no. This time we view them beamed with the cosmetics of the performer behind the footlights.

In plain English, the Theta Alpha Phi dramatic production, "Believe Me, Xantippe," which will be given in the Little Theatre Wednesday and Thursday evening, includes in major roles none other than our modest football heroes named above.

Dick Lyman, playing the leading male part as George MacFarland, is expected to stifle athletic fans with his prowess in dramatic roles. Lyman has a rather magnetic personality, which has inspired wild and hysterical actions on the part of football fans. Applied to the field of dramatics, Lyman seems destined to a successful appearance.

"Rudy" Boehringer appears as the solemn detective, Arthur Sole, and gives a fitting version of Sherlock Holmes. Roy Spiekerman, less inclined to dramatic productions, plays the part of William, the valet, who quietly executes the missions of his master and quarterback, Lyman.

Accepting this as their first chance to witness football celebrities of Michigan State in dramatic productions, a host of admirers of the State athletes will probably be on hand to test them under fire of critical drama fans. Just how cordially the athletes will be accepted is problematical. However, they are expected to receive bountiful awards for their efforts, and have been informed that they may contemplate a vegetarian diet for the succeeding week following the production.

SUBSCRIPTION—$2.50 THE SCHOOL YEAR

THE WOLVERINE

The students of Michigan State college did not fail when brought face to face with the issue of supporting the Wolverine to the extent that will make it possible to publish this year the book which is a record of the activities of the year, a volume to be treasured in the years to come.

The 1,100 mark was the goal in the recent subscription campaign has been reached and the possibilities are that this number will be increased considerably within a short time. It was a wise action on the part of the board of publications to make it compulsory to secure at least 1,100 subscriptions and thereby insure the financial success of the annual. It would be folly to publish a book representative of the school if at least 50 per cent of the students were not sufficiently interested to subscribe.

There are so many things that draw on the financial resources of the college student that it is at times hard to draw the line between loyalty and school spirit, and the financial inability to support student activities. The Wolverine, however, has a very definite purpose and place in student life and it would be lamentable to have to cease its publication for lack of student support after it has gone on for so many years. There is probably no other college in the country of the size of Michigan State that does not publish an annual and it should be a matter of pride among the students to support the Wolverine which was, a few years ago, rated among the best ten annuals produced in the United States.

Judging from the type of material that is being prepared for the Wolverine this year, it promises to be one of the most complete and interesting books that have ever been published here and the members of the staff are doing their best to make it so. They have sacrificed a great deal in time and effort during the last two terms of school and there is still a great deal to be done within the next three weeks in order that the Wolverine may be delivered on time.

The Wolverine merits the support of every student in the college and if you have not already signed up, there is still an opportunity to show your school spirit and do your bit.

MISS ELLENOR HUTCHINS

Miss Ellenor Hutchins, who is competing for the co-ed editorship of the Michigan State News, has supervised the co-ed news of this issue.

Miss Hutchins is a member of the Theminian sorority. She has been very active on the campus and has been co-ed athletic editor of the Michigan State News this year and a member of the staff during her sophomore year. She was in the Union vaudeville of 1925, a member of the Union social committee of 1926, sophomore social committee, J-hop reception committee, Co-ed Politics, 1926, and a member of the 1923 co-ed soccer team. Miss Hutchins is a junior Liberal Arts student from Grand Rapids.

GET OUT AND VOTE!

Shall we call it for the good of the college? For the benefit of the students? For the advancement of real interest and value of campus activities?

Call it what you will. You know that you have the privilege of voting. Use it as an opportunity. In short, get out and vote Friday!

COMPARE THEIR WORK

This issue has been edited and supervised by Keith Himebaugh, another of the candidates for the position of editor.

Compare his work with that of Trevor L. Christie who edited the preceding issue. Be sure to read the activity sketches of the two candidates, which were written to give the voter a better understanding of the men being voted for.

These four teams were awarded trips to the state fair at Detroit where the dairy demonstration team was again given first place and a free trip to the National Dairy show at Indianapolis, accompanied by Whitburn, in October, 1925.

His success in securing advertising for the Michigan State News during the last two years has been unusual, and it was his willingness to work and his ability to get results which was the basis for his nomination for the position of business manager of the Michigan State News.

FORESTRY STUDENT SPEAKS BEFORE WILLIAMSTON CLUB

N. A. The lecture was illustrated with actual specimens of the more interesting types of wood. This is worthy of note, as it is very seldom that a student is asked to speak before a club in this way.

 order that the winners of the elections may be, as nearly as possible, representative of the student body. Members of the Student Council will be in charge of the polls and the names of the students will be checked off in the student directory as they receive their ballots. There will be separate ballots for the classes to make their choice of representatives for the Union Board, Student Council, and Liberal Arts Board, in addition to the general ballot.

A meeting of the Student Council will be held Tuesday evening when the list of candidates will be arranged and the ballot prepared. The complete ballot will be published in the Friday issue of the Michigan State News.

With the increase in enrollment and the general expansion of the college, the positions to be filled are of greater importance in that more responsibility will be entrusted to those who win, and for this reason it is essential that each student should weigh in his own mind the qualities and qualifications of the candidates and cast his or her ballot intelligently.

It is suggested that the students give consideration to the candidates and have their minds made up regarding their selections before coming to the polls. This will avoid the rush and simplify the task of conducting the elections.

TALK about "alliteration's artful aid" . . . the printer certainly raided the "p" box that trip. But let that go! The advice is just as serious and sound as though it were couched in the careful diction of an English prof.

Just get yourself a jimmy-pipe and fill the bowl to the brim with Prince Albert. Light up, and let the first fragrant whiff tell you that no other tobacco is like P. A.—or can be! Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. has everything a fellow ever wished for in a smoke.

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. The Prince Albert process settled that in P. A.'s freshman year. Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. The first load-up will tell you why pipes are so fashionable among young men today.

PRINCE ALBERT

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half round tin tins, and round crystal glass tins with sponge-maintenance cap. And always with every bit of bite and punch reserved by the Prince Albert process.

Paul Blake's experience in the Cheboygan Lockwood paper. Between his freshman and sophomore years in college, during vacation, he was employed in the government forestry service in Montana. For a year and three months he was engaged in transit work with express parties, first with the Transamerica Express company from June, 1924, to June, 1925, and from then to the time school opened at the fall with a municipal engineer. For several summers during his high school years he acted as guide for fishing parties and for pleasure parties in the northwestern section of the lower peninsula. During one vacation he acted as engineer on a pleasure yacht owned by a Chicago doctor who had a summer home in the Snow Islands. His travels have taken him across the continent from Boston to Los Angeles. Hard work combined with the ability to obtain advertising made him an outstanding member of the business staff and the right man to be chosen as one of the candidates for business manager of the Michigan State News in the succeeding year.

Co-ed Edna

I trust you have all gained your full amount of benefit from the students' christian convales last week. All that some of us derived from it was an opportunity to miss a few more classes.

Terrible, isn't it, the way they make us attend classes at this school? First it's Washington's birthday that lets us off, then we have a holiday for the J-Hop, and now the students' christian convales comes along and gives us another vacation.

We are looking forward with great pleasure to the demonstration the woman's physical education department is going to give soon now. That is, some of us are, and the rest will be enthusiastic after it begins.

Just like the Co-ed Follies. Those of us who missed it said it was great!

Let me tell you, it was pretty lucky for some of us that the independents won the prize at that affair.

Of all things, I hate to have my path cluttered up with, dead bodies bother me the most! And I imagine there would have been quite a few of those impediments if the prizes had been handed out anywhere else.

Speaking of dead bodies, I understand there is going to be a movement on foot to have them cleared off the campus; that is, the ones which hinder walking and make one so liable to fall over them at any time.

And then, too, it is very trying on one's nerves, to suddenly stumble over a lifeless corpse and have to kick it out of the way in order to proceed.

And we haven't so many students that we can afford to have many of them killed off all at once like this.

Oh, didn't you know the reason for all this influx of murders?

Why, the all-campus elections are coming along now, and we are getting some of the candidates out of the way.

EIGHT RECORDS SHATTERED IN STATE INDOOR TRACK CARNIVAL

LARGEST CROWD EVER TO ATTEND STATE TRACK EVENT, PRESENT; STATERS SHINE.

Attendant with the largest crowd ever to witness an indoor track event at Michigan State college, the cream of state cinder athletes gathered at the sixth annual Michigan State indoor track carnival last Friday night, and when the atmosphere cleared, eight carnival records were erased from the boards, one being broken twice during the evening. The array of talent assembled was a striking resemblance to the stars, who performed so creditably at the Illinois Relays a week ago, and their accomplishments were synonymous in the matter of the impression they left. The new marks to adorn the boards are of sufficient merit to worry the best of athletes in the future who aspire to record-breaking heights.

Records were shattered with abandon and no time was lost in the initiation of the record breaking ceremonies. Boyd of Ypsilanti started the ball rolling by sprinting to a new mark in the 40-yard dash for M. I. A. A. schools. He stepped the distance in 4.7, a tenth of a second better than his own record. Munz, husky Michigan shot-putter crashed the second record shortly afterward with a heave of 43 feet 10 3/4 inches. Morrow, Western State Normal came through with another new mark by clearing 12 feet 1-2 inches in the pole vault. Spence of Detroit, one of the stars at Illinois, raced to a new mark in the low hurdles of 5 seconds flat. He was really the big boy of the evening with another first in the high hurdles, missing the record in this event by a tenth of a second.

Fred Alderman, Michigan State sprint star, and joint holder of the world's 300-yard dash record, broke the 300-yard dash mark with apparent ease with a performance of 34.6 seconds in the event.

The 800-yard relay record was another record to be discarded, and the record breaking performance proved to be the most thrilling event of the evening. Pitted against Western State Normal, the Michigan State quartette composed of Farley, Van Noppen, Grim and Alderman raced to a new record of 1:40.3 after the Ypsilanti Normal team had turned in a time of 1:40.8 a little earlier in the evening. Running on about even ground through the first half of the race, Grim, the recipient of the baton from VanOppen stepped out into a lead over the Normal runner, and Freddy Alderman raced to a new record and an advantage of about half a lap over the Teachers.

The State quartette composed of Zimmerman, VanOppen, Grim, and Al-

INTER-UNIT RIFLE MATCH TO TAKE PLACE SOON

Capt. E. John of the military department has announced that the inter-unit rifle matches are to take place before the end of this term. All men in the artillery and cavalry are urged to turn in their scores as soon as possible so they can be checked up. To each member of the winning team a silver medal will be awarded. The three high point freshmen, regardless of whether they make the team, will be given medals, the two highest silver medals and the third man a bronze medal.

In a recent match with Northwestern university, State's rifle team won by a score of 3173-3545.

Following are the past week's scores which the department reported are lower than usual. J. H. Batten 196, C. Ripper 194, D. Ebinger 193, G. Byne 191, Throop 190, K. B. Pomeroy 190, Nonser 190, M. L. Beardslee 188, J. Waffa 188 and H. P. Clay 188.

Alderman also set a new record in the 440-yard relay in a race with the freshman team, setting the new mark at 48.1. The Detroit City college one-mile relay team established the last carnival record with a win over the State freshmen in 3:46.9. The State freshmen ran to a new two-mile relay record for freshmen in 8:58.9.

The field of competition for carnival was the keenest ever seen on the State track. Records were on the verge of toppling on more than one occasion and not much of a margin separated the performers.

Adult Students to Busy of Athletic Events

Students at Michigan State college little realize the opportunities afforded them by the athletic department in the form of the little athletic coupon book, which is handed out in receipt of $4.50 on registration day.

In return for that sum of money on the regular fees, students of Michigan State were admitted to 32 athletic events during the winter term, a survey shows. Nine varsity basketball games were handed State athletic fans along with four freshman games. Five track events graced the State card and were open to possessors of the athletic coupon book. Six swimming meets, three wrestling meets, three hockey games, one fencing match, and one intercollegiate swimming meet (yet to come) complete the schedule of events to which the student is admitted. This would give one admission at a rate of about 14 cents per event. In view of the fact that football is the only sport maintained, which is self-supporting, this is an unusually low rate.

The student athletic book is not transferable. Penalty for such an offense is forfeiture of the privilege. The following students have forfeited their books for misuse: Jane W. Scott, 29, L. A.; Gladys Hutchinson, 28, L. A.; John C. Tooker, 29, L. A.; and William M. Kane, 29, L. A.

COACH KOB'S READY FOR BASE BALL DUTIES

Highly Promising Material Grooms Mentor As Season Approaches.

With basketball out of the way and the court togs stowed away until another season, Coach John Kobs is now devoting his time to the baseball squad away to a good pre-season start. Kobs is faced with as good prospects as ever faced a Green and White diamond mentor and a successful season is the pre-season hope.

Two pitchers of varsity experience, besides several newcomers of ability will fight it out to grace the mound this season. Wakefield and Kuhn are the moundsmen returning who have seen intercollegiate action. Perry Fremont, who has taken care of the catching assignment for the past two seasons is back to round out his third one, which leaves no doubt as to the brand of catching to be expected this year. The infield at present appears to be an airtight combination, providing the best of material that is now on hand comes through with the stuff of which it is capable. Captain "Baldy" Klebler is back at the hot corner and will take care of this sack. There is an abundance of material for the initial sack with Roy Spiekerman, Melnis, Macier and Lewis having entered bids. Second base will probably be taken care of by Carl Baynes, who did not see much action last season on account of injuries. auz, howley and Drew and perhaps "Monty" Hoot will fight it out for the short field berth.

The outfield has such men as Don Pleser, Zimmerman, Fisher, Haskins, Kelly, Rhinehart and Delude to till the outer gardens during the summer months.

Capt. "Baldy" Harper of the 1925 cross-country team has been awarded the cup for having the highest scholastic average among the Michigan State varsity triathletes. Harper accumulated 34 points and 16 credits during the fall term to win the honor.

The award was originally made to Harry Rush, senior member of the cross-country team but due to an error in handing in credits on the part of one of the professors, the average made by Harper was not accurately given to the athletic department. A review of it revealed Harper slightly ahead of that by Rush.

GEOLOGY INSTRUCTOR LECTURES ON JUNGLES

"In the Jungles of British Guiana" is the subject of a talk to be given by Glenn W. Bradt, of the department of zoology and geology, tonight at 8 in the People's church.

Mr. Bradt spent the summer of 1925 with a biological party from the University of Pittsburgh at the Kartabo laboratory. It was from this laboratory that all of the famous articles in the Atlantic Monthly by Mr. Beebe came from. This laboratory is maintained by the New York Zoological society.

ALUMNI COP ANNUAL FRACAS FROM VARSITY IN OVERTIME GAME, 40-38

VETERANS EASE GAME FROM REGULARS BY EFFECTIVE THOUGH QUESTIONABLE MEANS.

Michigan State college basketball five succumbed once more to opposing battlers, this time their conquerors being none other than the Green and White alumni, represented by the scarred veterans of other years, the melce going to the "grads" in an overtime game, 40 to 38. However, close observers of court games would be tempted to say "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark," in reference to the wiles of the conspiring alumni, who negotiated the fall of the varsity, and not stray afar from a justifiable suspicion.

The first half expired with the varsity holding a 17 to 11 lead over the grads. The alumni, however, opened their bag of tricks and with their rusty muscles oiled, assaulted the varsity with a will. With Hugh Robinson leading the attack, followed closely by Al Brown, Lyman Primodig and Larry Kurtz, they forced the varsity to accept a 34-34 tie, when the whistle announced the end of the game. A good deal of suspicion was cast upon the alumni for certain occurrences during the last chapter, but the graduates were wont to plead innocence. The gun was held by a member of the graduate forces and to many it seemed woefully long before the report of the gun announced the end of the game, synonymous with the tying of the count by Primodig.

The overtime period, played to settle the issue, seemed unusually short, too, and, odd to say, ended immediately after Al Brown sank a field goal from past the center of the floor to give the old boys the two point advantage, which they admitted at the end of the fracas.

The scoring was lead by "Red" Colvin and Hugh Robinson. For the varsity, Colvin sank eight field goals and one free throw for 17 points of the regulars' 38. "Robby" was responsible for 11 points of the alumni total. Al Brown with four field goals, Primodig with three and Larry Kurtz with three goals and a free throw, were the main cogs in the grad machine.

John Kelly and Chuck Fredericks share the next notch in scoring honors for the varsity, with three field goals each. Louis Smith tossed two baskets through the net. Captain Chris Hackett was not on hand for the final fracas of the season.
