SET DATE FOR ALL-COLLEGE SPECIAL ELECTION

Students to Vote On 1927 Wolverine Editor and Decide On Publication Fee.

June 1 is the date set by the student council in their last meeting for the special all-college election to elect the editor of the Wolverine for next year and the question of the publication fee. The election will be held at the college gymnasium.

Arthur Hannah and Robert Wilson are the candidates for editor by the student council. In accordance with the recent ruling of the board of trustees, the Wolverine editor will be a senior rather than a junior since the post has become an all-college position.

The question of the student fee for publication has been presented to the student council, the Woman's Society, the Agricultural Association, and the other organizations. If the student fee is approved, the vote will be referred to the board of trustees for ratification.

Jean Goldkette's Original Breeze Blowers to Furnish Music for 1926 Sophomore Prom

With the sale of tickets scheduled to close today, the preparations for the sophomore prom which entails admission to the 1926 sophomore prom became more intensive this afternoon with the anticipation that about 35 or 40 tickets of the all-time record of 100 tickets will be available for the sophomore prom.

The 1926 prom, the second year men will be held at the Union Memorial ballroom next weekend, June 1. Last year the ballroom was first used for the prom and this spring the party of the spring term will once more be held in the Union building.

Jean Goldkette's Original Breeze Blowers have been selected to furnish the music for the prom. The Breeze Blowers played their first prom party with the desired effect and may be heard regularly broadcasting from the Graystone ballroom at Detroit over WJL. The Breeze Blowers are not a little bit of a lost opportunity here during the prom season. Another group of musicians have been selected for the prom, the Dixie Syncopators.

At the piano, the Breeze Blowers will feature the piano solo of the popular "The Breeze Blowers" and the popular "The Breeze Blowers" and the popular "The Breeze Blowers". Another group of musicians have been selected for the prom, the Dixie Syncopators.

Isham Jones' Chicago band, and is rated as a real feature in the outfit. Others who play a big part in the organization are "Bus" Greig, who performs on the trumpet and cornet, and Joe Kennedy, who furnishes the hot music.

A band of real talent to furnish the music along with an abundant supply of favors and novelties which will be showered upon the couples present plans for a successful party, which seems likely to rival previous proms, have been consummated. The party has been limited to 150 couples to assure plenty of dancing space. Tickets are still available from Amy Hedrick, Paul Barkey, Beatrice Holm, Phoebe Pangborn and Karl Davies, the committee in charge of the party.

FOURTH ANNUAL HORSE SHOW IS OPENED TODAY

Promised Good Weather for Both Days of Show; All Classes Are Filled.

Everything was in readiness this morning for the fourth annual horse show to be staged under the auspices of the college military department. The show to be held today and tomorrow was scheduled to continue from one to five o'clock.

A special weather report from Chicago promises fair weather for both days. The stands were early beset with crowds that were expected. The sale of reserved seats had passed the expected number and practically all of the boxes had been reserved.

All classes have been filled. The ladies' hunter class which was added only a week ago has 20 entries. About 100 entries will compete in 26 classes. Eight members of the girls' riding classes and six cadets will be entered.

Many entries have been received this year from without the state. Mrs. Glen Dismore of Chicago heads this list with eight thoroughbred five-gaited saddle horses.

Arrangements have been made to give special rates to students.

With the addition of H. L. R. Chapman as head gardener of the botanical plots, plans are being formulated for their extension to increase their usefulness to the people of this region.

Mr. Chapman is a graduate of the Kew gardens in England. He has been at work in the local plots since it was possible to work out of doors, and already made a vast improvement in the methods. He comes to this position following experience in some of the best known English gardens.

GROESBECK TALKS AT UNION SMOKER

Tells of Public Life and Points Out Recent Improvements at College.

Friday night marked the first annual "Union smoker," when Gov. Groesbeck addressed the men of the union on the subject of public life as a career. The smoker was held in the ball room of the Union building with Jerry Reynolds acting as chairman.

The governor spoke of the marked improvements made in the state institutions since 1921, saying "We have placed more than $3,000,000 on the state budget, and could spend $2,000,000 more, which would do more for the state of Michigan than any group of petty politicians or reactionaries have done since Michigan was admitted into the union." However, Mr. Groesbeck declined to take the entire credit for these improvements, stating that the real credit must go to the members of the legislative department and their committees, at least, as he put it, "to the majority of them."

WE'VE READ SOME EDITORIALS HUNK!

There is but one thing that justifies writing and that is knowledge, and yet, it is remarkable what some editorial writers have been able to do with such an apparently meager knowledge of the facts of the case pertaining to the Monday night celebration. The Lansing State Journal and other dailies throughout the state were loud in their criticism of the part played only by students. It is easy to understand how Detroit and Grand Rapids newspapers might not be fully informed because of their remote situation but when a Lansing editorial writer at the scene of action presumes to represent the sentiment of a city he should know what he is writing about and be sure of the sentiment which he presumes to express. The Journal did, however, take advantage of the opportunity to redeem itself by following up the editorial with the publishing of a public letter. It was a man who has nothing to do with newspapers after all—who saw the issue clearly and not the man trained and paid to write and to know what is going on.

We are mindful of the cordial relationship which exists between Lansing and the college and we believe this relationship will continue. We are also aware of the fact that student enterprises ask aid in Lansing, get it, appreciate it and in return spend thousands of dollars annually. When the Lansing editorial writer speaks of "biting the hand that feeds us," it makes us grin. He either does not know or else fails to consider the fact that even college boys have some money to spend. Statistics compiled at the office of the registrar show that the average college student spends at least $300 each year. Two thousand students spending $300 per year a million dollars to say nothing of the thousands spent by the college in salaries, in business transactions with Lansing business firms, and the attraction of the college in bringing numerous conventions to this vicinity each year. We believe that he will have to admit that eventually not less than from 80% to 90% of this money filters into Lansing either directly or indirectly. When he sees that the city liberally supports their games (amounting to $1,000,000) and spends its money in a way to give the games backing they could not otherwise have, we are prompted to remind the writer that this liberal support amounts to about 15%. Should Lansing cease entirely to attend the college games there is no danger that they will be discontinued, however we do not intend to convey the impression that the college does not appreciate and solicit Lansing patronage.

We will continue to cooperate with our friends, the citizenry of Lansing and in spite of the unsportsmanlike treatment suffered at the hands of the police, continue to feed the hand that bites us. We decline, however, to accept the opinion of one editorial writer as representative of the city especially after hearing the opinions of some of its citizens and witnessing others furnish money with which the students bought eggs to hurl at policemen.

It is no credit to the students were actually wrong there would still be a case and a fight. Students who were injured and beaten in a fair fight hold no resentment. We do, however, resent the instances of unfair and unsportsmanlike methods used by the police. If, as P. A. Herbert said in his public letter, "the police force had used their heads more instead of their clubs, little damage would have been done. It was Chief Hackett who sent them home and he didn't do it with a club." We admit defeat but it is no credit to representatives of the law after their victory in the spirit of vengeance to strike a man when his back is turned or to "gang" peaceful individuals.

gentlemen, (and we believe it is) it should be protected by a force of men who are not devoid of the characteristics of a gentleman. It may be that the officers were merely carrying out orders of the head of the department. It takes very little intelligence to club and antagonize a good natured crowd but it is a task worthy of effort to disperse one peacefully.

The desk sergeant who greeted the student prisoners with a string of epithets unfit to print in this column and called the students "idiots and imbeciles," did not raise his own standards in so doing. When a college woman asked to see one of the arrested students she was refused in any way but that which would become a gentleman. When she remonstrated with her abuser for his language she was told to get out "damn quick". Such treatment of ladies to use the words of the Journal editorial, is unmanly and behind the times. The officers who took the opportunity to jeer at the prisoners after they were safely behind the bars exhibited no courage.

Ten men were detained in a filthy hole which the mayor himself has been quoted as describing as unfit for a dead man. They were arrested not for what they did as individuals, but as a means of "spanking" the student body. As the Journal said, Lansing can stand the damage done. Four hundred dollars for a few square feet of pavement. Lansing should welcome a celebration.

FARM CROPS DEPT. TO HOLD STATE WIDE "HAY DAY"

A big project is being undertaken by the farm crops department in the form of a "hay day" to be held in cooperation with three large companies which manufacture hay rakes. The program will be carried out in 22 counties as a part of the alfalfa campaign. Larry Kalk, extension specialist in farm crops, is devoting a large part of his time to this project.

STATE BEATS WESTERN NORMAL IN LOOSE GAME WEDNESDAY, 7-4

"Lefty" Tolles Holds Teachers At Bay While Mates Pound Out Victory; Baynes, Spiekerman, Kiebler Star.

Western State Normal, which has toyed with the ball clubs it has met this year, turned out to be a plaything in the hands of the confident Michigan State nine yesterday afternoon and subsided, 7-4. Western State which boasts of one of the best rounded out pitching staffs in college baseball, had a chance to parade its gunners in front of the Spartan ramparts, and saw two moundmen sent to the showers after a couple innings apiece of futile work in trying to stave the Green and White attack and the third hard hit but lucky in having one of his team mates camp in under the drive. Ruse, who finished the hurling for the Brown and Gold allowed only one hit, that by Carl Baynes who got three safe drives in four times up. Hagen and Kinebaum were touched for four apiece in the innings they worked.

"Lefty" Tolles, Kobs southpaw star, started against the Haymesmen and although he allowed eight hits, they were not bunched for any success until the ninth when singles by Nester, Yost, McCarty and Ruse produced two runs. Two of the quartet were scratch hits.

Western scored twice in the sixth inning when with one away, Rowley threw high to Spiekerman on Ruse's smash and he was safe. Righter and Covington singled, scoring Ruse and Righter going to third. Covington took second on the throw in. Tolles tossed out Schruppf, holding Righter at third. Johnson lifted a high fly to Spiekerman who dropped the ball. Righter scoring. Nester ~~first~~ to Zimmerman. After Johnson had fled to Fleser in the ninth, Nester singled sharply through the infield. Yost hit to Spiekerman who threw to Kiebler on the head and both were safe. Meisner batted for Graham and rolled to Tolles who tossed him out at first. Nester and Yost advancing. McCarty singled, scoring Nester and Yost. Ruse singled to left but Righter lined to Baynes who made a brilliant one-handed stop in retiring him.

State scored three runs in the second when Baynes singled to right, Davis, who started in left instead of Fleser who had injured his ankle, singled to left. Baynes going to third. Davis took second and they both scored when Rowley singled to left. Spiekerman was out. Righter to Schruppf, Rowley going to second. Tolles hit to Schruppf, Rowley counting. Zimmerman flew out to Nester. If the center field bleachers had not been burned Monday night his hit would have gone for a double as would several other long flies which were turned into easy outs.

Hagen was relieved by Kinebaum to start the second and he got by in the third but Baynes opened the fourth with his second consecutive hit and took second when Fleser hit to Schruppf. Righter booted Rowley's hit and Baynes went to third and Rowley to second. Spiekerman singled to right scoring the pair. He went to third when Nester dropped Tolles' fly and Tolles took second. Zimmerman fled to Schruppf but Haskins singled scoring Spiekerman and Tolles. Kiebler singled to right but he was cut down trying to stretch the hit. Graham to Yost to Covington.

Carl Baynes and Captain Kiebler were the hitting stars of the game. Baynes getting three safeties and Kiebler a single and a double. Spiekerman made several nice stops around first base besides driving in two runs with a timely single.

State plays Armour Tech of Chicago tomorrow afternoon in the next to the last home game of the season. Harry Wakefield who pitched a no hit, no run game against the Illinois last year is again scheduled to face the visitors. He has not worked since the St. Victor game and should be in fine fettle to turn back the invaders tomorrow. State goes to Kalamazoo Wednesday, June 2, for a re-against any trouble of a physical or business nature.

The protest takes the position that the fact that a man is required to take military training hinders and deters him in his pursuit of other knowledge. It states that those who wish to become lawyers or doctors are not required to have this sort of training in the schools which they attend and that there is no valid reason why those who come to this school because of the peculiar type of training which it affords should be compelled to take a subject which the protest says is against the conscience of many of them.

In reply to this Mr. Watkins states that it has been his observation that the most persistent objectors to this type of training are those who need it most—the stoop-shouldered, pale-faced individuals who would actually benefit by it.

In conclusion, Mr. Watkins stated that he will use his influence and his vote to prevent favorable action being taken on the protest.

Mr. Watkins takes the stand that the churches should cooperate with the military forces in the promotion of peace, stating that it has never come to his notice that any officer of the army has ever advocated war except as a means of defense for our homes, our women and children and even our country.

The governor emphasized the fact that if one were so busy only the ego in public life, he would do well not to waste any time in attempting to serve the government. He pictured the self-sacrificing spirit of Lincoln as an example to be followed in the service of the people.

Other speakers on the program were James Hasselman, President Butterfield, L. Whitney Watkins, Lieutenant Governor George Welsh, and Mayor Doughty of Lansing.
