CAP NIGHT TO BE BIG OCCASION FOR STUDENTS

Two Thousand Students to Pay Final Tribute to Seniors; Fresh to Lead Grand March.

Next Wednesday night will mark the occasion of another historic cap night on the Michigan State college campus, with Norval E. Tyrrell as general chairman of the ceremonies.

It is being planned to make the night one of the most memorable in the 25 years the college has existed. Irving S. Edwards and Stanley J. Hartwell are assisting Tyrrell in the arrangements of the affair. Edwards will have charge of the fire and celebration proper, together with the movement of the procession and the advertising necessary to promote a real cap night demonstration. Hartwell is delegated to have charge of the erection of the stands, arrangement of the grounds, lights, amplifiers and so forth.

The program itself will be under the chairmanship of George L. Dirks, newly elected president of the student council. President David Stouffer of the senior class and Dirks will be the student speakers, with President Butterfield representing the college.

Students of Michigan State are earnestly asked by President Butterfield not to forsake the campus upon the occasion of one of the greatest events in the careers of our graduates. President Butterfield is joined by Chairman Tyrrell and others in charge of the ceremonies in seeking to instill within the student body a spirit toward the college which will induce them to ignore those students whose plans will attempt to carry the celebration into Lansing, at a moral loss to State. No details are being overlooked to make cap night a night not only for seniors, but for every member as well, and it is hoped that the straight-thinking students will realize this.

SENIOR ENGINEER ENTERS MATRIMONIAL FIELD

Francis S. Brewster and Miss Opal Cook United in Marriage.

The marriage of Francis S. Brewster, senior civil engineer, to Miss Opal Cook of Lansing took place May 21 at the North Lansing Methodist parsonage. Miss Beatrice Johnson and D. W. Seale attended the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewster will make their home with the bride's parents until the close of school when they will make a short wedding trip. After that they will make their home in Saginaw.

DISCUSS PLAN OF FRATERNITY ROW

Fraternities and Sororities Meet With President Butterfield to Discuss Project.

Another step leading to fraternity row was taken when representatives of the various fraternities and sororities met with President Butterfield in the administration building to discuss the project. Mr. Butterfield presided, and several plans, many of which are to be worked out later, were presented to the group. Arrangements meeting with the laying out of the grounds and the plans of the buildings have been made, and suggestions which were made at the Tuesday meeting were the result of careful study on the part of the landscape architect of the college.

Troque street, on the extreme eastern edge of the college property, is the site proposed. According to plans suggested by President Butterfield, fraternities would occupy about three houses would be built on one acre, a minimum of 100 feet being allowed for each frontage. Cost of individual buildings, not including furnishings, would be not more than $25,000 and not more than $50,000. Fraternities would be required to possess 20 per cent of the total, and a promise of securing the remainder before commencement to build.

ELECT HANNAH 1927 EDITOR OF WOLVERINE

Pass With Favor On Adding Publications Costs to College Fees.

Arthur J. Hannah of Grand Rapids is editor of the 1927 Wolverine as a result of the special all-college election held in the Union Memorial building Tuesday afternoon. A number of the class of 1927, and will be the first woman to serve as editor since the paper was made an all-college publication last year.

Two publication committees were passed upon with 1926 and 1926 voters. A committee of five to be added to the fall staff, three for and cover subscriptions to the Wolverine and State News, and the favor of the student body.

The agricultural department voted upon placing the Michigan Agricultural Journal on the same voluntary subscription basis, and a proposed increase carried. In this instance an extra charge in this instance is to be made.

One of the publications committees merely submitted a proposal, and it thought it would be resubmitted at that time.

As a result of the election, also, one year's subscription will be covered by any advance payment in the system in the future. The price will be reduced to 25 cents and the actual cost of the State News will be reduced by 25 cents. This will bring the total subscription fee paid by the student body to 75 cents.

The committee also voted to make the proposal of the agricultural department a condition of the subscription. It was voted that the agricultural department should have the right to cancel its subscription at any time, and it was also voted that the agricultural department should have the right to make the order of the subscription.

LANTERN NIGHT TO START COMMENCEMENT EVENTS

Eighty Girls From Each Class To March In Procession.

The first annual Lantern night which is to be staged Tuesday night, will mark the beginning of commencement activities. A procession of 80 girls from each class, headed by Millicent Clark who will light the first lantern, will start from the old library building, marching up the faculty row and returning to the Forest of Arden where President Butterfield will deliver a short address.

NOMINATE FOR CLASS OFFICERS

1927 Class Officers to Be Named Tuesday Night In Three Classes.

Three underclasses held meetings yesterday to conduct nominations for next year's class officers, and in one instance for eliminations as well.

The junior class nominated seven men for the senior presidency as follows: Don Orner, Paul Engle, Russell Perry, I. S. Edwards, Fred Alderman, Ivan Collett and Kenneth Post. The class president's office will be chosen from a group of four: Elizabeth Woodworth, Hazel Burgo, Dorothy Hunter and Lela McCarty, while those in the race for secretary of the class are Margaret Saunders, Tina Kuehn, Eleanor Rainey and Martha Stein.

Seven men were placed on record for treasurer, as follows: Stanley J. Hartwell, Robert Palmer, Thomas George, Michael Coan, Gerald Jackson, Henry Johnson and Charles Doyle.

The sophomore class, nominated and eliminated down to two for each office at its meeting yesterday. The president of next year's junior class and leader of the J. Hop will be either George Martin or James Stone. The other Margaret Matthews or Mary Clark will be vice-president, Leon Green and Walter W. Keller are

WATER CARNIVAL TO REPRESENT NEWSPAPER

Twenty-five Societies Entered In Senior Water Carnival.

Twenty-five societies have entered the annual senior water carnival to be held Thursday, June 10, and will present floats representing the different sections of a newspaper in a competition for cups and prizes that are offered for the most beautiful, the cleverest idea, and the funniest.

The carnival will be featured by races and filling contests besides numerous vaudeville acts staged by some of the well-known entertainers of the State college campus. In the events the first prize will be a cup, the second, merchandise, and the third, ribbons. A duck race set by Gwynne Black and Dick Roach, a Hawaiian number put on by the Independents, a dog dance by Mary Hillier and a Dutch dance by Alice McWood will furnish special entertainment together with a comic stunt with "Schulzen and Lums" comedians, extraordinary, featuring as the "laugh getters" through the crowd.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Eddie Jerne, chairman, Gwin Goodwin, Geneva Church, Verlyn Moore, Annie Laurie Walls, Walter Kidman, Gordon Hagdon, Laverne Whelan and Kenneth VanTassel.

David Stouffer and Millicent Clark, president and vice-president of the senior class will act as king and queen of the spectacular event at which seven large spotlights will be used to give unique lighting effects.

CAVALRY TO GO ON OVERNIGHT HIKE

To Leave 6 A. M. Saturday And Return Sunday Morning.

The Michigan State Cavalry will leave for an overnight hike Saturday morning at 6 A. M. The party will consist of 15 members of the cavalry, including the instructor, and will be accompanied by a pack train. The hike will be made in the region of Put-in-Bay and Lake Erie, and will include a study of glacial grooves and troughs as well as various types of caves.

FIELD GEOLOGY CLASS TO MAKE TRIP TO OHIO

Will Study Quarries In Lower Michigan and Northern Ohio.

The class in field geology will conclude its work for the term with a trip to several quarries in the regions south of Detroit and northern Ohio. This trip will be the last of a series of four in which the class will have covered more than 2,000 miles in field tours during the term, studying geological formations.

The class, which will include from 15 to 20 students, will leave Friday afternoon for Wayne and Monroe counties where quarries will be visited. A complete study is to be made of Rockwood, a sandstone quarry, and Sibley, limestone.

From there the class will go to northern Ohio to study fossil beds in the region of Sylvania.

A side trip will be taken from Detroit to the region of Put-in-Bay and Lake Erie by steamer, to study glacial grooves and troughs as well as various types of caves.

DRAMATICS TO BE WIDER IN SCOPE

Theta Alpha Phi Plans Enlargement of Activities Next Year.

Prof. E. S. King, of the English department, and head of the college dramatics division, has announced that the scope of dramatic presentations at state will be enlarged next year.

It is planned that Theta Alpha Phi national dramatics fraternity of the college, will sponsor a number of amateur plays, to be given at regular intervals, in order that a larger number of students interested may participate. The regular program each term given by the fraternity will be continued on the student program. These plays will have a more important nature than before.

Some of the plays being considered for production are "The Show and the Bound," "Tarnish" and "Bell Boat for Heaven." Burns Mansfield, nationally known dramatic critic, has considered each of these plays in the top notch rank, during the past season.

Debra Whitburn, '27, was elected president of Theta Alpha Phi for the ensuing year. Levon Horton, '28, the president, and Julia King, '27, secretary-treasurer, at the meeting last week.

PI KAPPA DELTA GIVES AWARDS AT BANQUET

Initiate W. H. Wise As Honorary Member; Formally Receive Rufi As Member.

Michigan State debaters received their rewards in recognition of work for the year at a banquet of Pi Kappa Delta given to the college Thursday night in the Union Memorial building. W. H. Wise, of the English department, was initiated as an honorary member, and Rufi, of the education department, was a member of the Kansas state debaters' college, because of his affiliation with the local chapter.

At the banquet, the following made the awards: President, D. C. Eckerman; Secretary, J. E. Green; Treasurer, E. L. Mason; and the following were awarded the following prizes: Florence Albright, Dorothy Johnson, Elizabeth Sibley, Thelma Thelma, Margaret Winters, and Thompson and Elmer Patten.

GROWING IMPORTANCE OF ATHLETICS

Probably no greater opportunity exists for bringing together the college men and the citizenry of the nation on a better basis of understanding than through the medium of inter-sectional athletic contests. There is nothing that creates such widespread interest as a college football game and if these contests between the larger schools of the country can be made inter-sectional occasionally this division of sport can be made to have a much broader influence.

The movement is growing throughout the country and those who are perhaps most interested are the alumni. The New York Alumni Association of Western Conference Universities took a definite step in this direction at their last annual banquet when they passed a resolution to recommend to Western Conference Universities that they schedule inter-sectional football games setting one game each year as standard, the game to be played on the home field alternate years.

Athletics are seldom appreciated in a broad viewpoint of their importance. Aside from the important development of mind and body for those who take part and the general development of loyal school spirit, there is much more to be considered. Charles Faddock, the champion sprinter, has given a great deal of time, thought, and energy toward the development of inter-sectional athletic contests as a medium of bringing about a better understanding between the nations of the world. Having taken part in the Olympic games and traveled over nearly the entire world, he has been in a position to see the importance of such contests.

Public Letter

The Student Council May 28, '26
Michigan State College
East Lansing, Mich.
Sirs:

Inasmuch as there has been considerable said in newspapers not only in Lansing but throughout the state, in regard to the affair of May 24, and realizing from the amount of advice I have received that the student body must have received nearly as much, and thinking that the only way to get to you our position in this matter, I have determined to write you.

We of the Lansing police department take as much pride in the Michigan State college as anyone and we resent the inferences that the college is composed of rowdies and hoodlums. We realize that the enrollment of the Michigan State college is upwards of 2,000 and that there were not more than 300 or 400 down to the city of Lansing on that evening. We also realize and believe that they did not come down either with the advice or consent of the faculty or student body. We have no apologies to make and consider we simply did our duty as police officers, protecting property of the citizens of Lansing, which we will continue to do to the utmost of our ability. At the same time we shall continue to respect the better element of the Michigan State college and its faculty and will boost it at every opportunity.

Hoping this will explain a great many things, some of which you may not have had the proper understanding, I am

Very sincerely yours,

1926 WOLVERINE WORK IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Distribution Almost Finished New Editor Starts 1927 Plans.

Work of the 1926 Wolverine, recently published under the editorship of Norval E. Tyrrell and Eugene Moak, business manager, is almost past history. Distribution has been made with rapid strides, and only a few copies of the book remain for release to subscribers, between the hours of 5 and 7 at the Union building.

Books were ordered for all who signed the emergency yellow slips, and these students are requested to fulfill their promise and secure same as soon as possible.

This year's book, in many respects unlike the college annals of other years, possessed many distinct features, among them the first announcement of the college vote on hero, heroine, and villain. Donald Raymond Haskins was declared the college hero over Harry Swanson, his nearest rival for honors with the fairer sex, while Annie Laurie Ingram Walls was voted heroine of State college. Lawrence Edward Skollenger is acclaimed the villainous desperado of State over John Garver.

Plans for the 1927 Wolverine will

Where two steam locomotives formerly pulled and strained to pull a 360-ton freight train up the steep slope of Maltrata incline, two electric locomotives haul a 660-ton train with power to spare.

Electricity levels the Mountains

In Mexico, romantic land of pretty señoritas and languorous minstrelsy, practical American engineers have harnessed streams so that mountains may be leveled.

The winding thirty-mile Maltrata incline on the road from Vera Cruz to Mexico City is now electrified. Ten electric locomotives replace twenty-three steam engines. The electrics haul twice the tonnage of the steam locomotives—and in half the time, with obvious benefits to traveler, rail-roader, and shipper.

Yet Maltrata is but an example of electrical progress. For electricity is conquering the grades of railroads and of industry alike, the world over.

Impressive, no doubt, but still modest when compared with the possibilities of electricity in years to come. And it remains for college-trained men, with trained capacity for initiative and leadership, to become ambassadors for further electrical conquests in foreign lands.

The General Electric Company required but eighteen months to electrify Maltrata incline—locomotives, power plant, transmission equipment complete. Engineering skill, backed by vast manufacturing facilities, has enabled G-E to serve humanity in many ways.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEE-1.

Ac Theon

Francis Swickey of Detroit was a week-end guest at the house.

The following spent the week-end in their respective homes: D. Flosser, Grand Rapids; G. McLavish and J. Leveram, Detroit; E. H. Wilcox, Flushing; L. W. Sparling and H. Sparling, Bad Axe; and Clyde Beck, Muskegon.

Kappa Delta

Mrs. J. W. Strauss of North Manchester, Ind., was a guest at the house during the week-end.

Mrs. L. Snedcor spent the week-end in Detroit.

Omicron Nu Entertains

The local chapter of Omicron Nu, honorary Home Economics society, entertained the freshmen members of that division at a tea in the tea-room of the Home Economics building Thursday afternoon.

Columbian

The society will hold its annual spring term party at the house Saturday evening, with the music furnished by the Olivet Band.

Those who were away for the week-end were A. B. Barde, K. A. Mace, W. Ayrault, H. E. Hanson, Detroit; J. Zeller, Pontiac; G. Stech, Cleveland; A. D. Kresner, Chicago; W. R. Paddock, Charlevoix; W. F. Sparling, Bad Axe; W. R. Mueller, Long Lake; P. N. Kenyon, Plymouth.

Alpha Phi

The Alpha Phi alumnae commencement party will be held in the new Olds hotel Saturday evening, with music by Maurice Deane orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dunningham will act as patrons.

Miss Marian Wiley, national delegate, arrived Wednesday for a few days' visit. A luncheon will be served in her honor Saturday afternoon.

Trimouira

Five of the society members who play in the military band were in Kalamazoo last week-end to play in a concert.

Phi Kappa Tau

Mr. Bordine of Ann Arbor was entertained at the house over the week-end.

Eclectic

William J. Elseler spent the week-end in Chicago.

Union Literary

The following members spent the week-end at their respective homes: Gerald Reynolds, C. G. G. W. Fisher and C. D. Superiano, Grand Rapids; C. Fredericks, Detroit; C. Cook, O. Hood and W. Ayrault, to Ionia.

WHEN famed men return. And by dancing firelight they relate their stories of old—have a Camel!

For Camel helps all men who rise proudly to rise higher and more jauntily. Camels never harm or tire your taste, no matter how plentifully you smoke them. You'll never find more friendly flavor than you get in Camels.

So this night when those from long ago return to think of the roads that join. As you see in their past your future unfold, then zestfully taste the smoke that's prized by the world's experienced.

Have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No better cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at our price.

NOTRE DAME MEETS STATE IN FINAL HOME GAME OF SEASON, W. S. N. WINS

KUHN TO PITCH AGAINST IRISH TOMORROW; WESTERN STATE SHUTS STATE OUT AT KALAMAZOO.

Coach John Kobs saw his star southpaw twirler, "Lefty" Tolles, let Kalamazoo Normal down with six hits Wednesday at the Celery City, only to lose the final verdict, 7-0. Three of the sextet of blows were along the variety of scratch hits. The State infield contributed five fielding errors besides several plays that were slow in being executed, which permitted the Kazooks to slip over runs through the medium of fast base running.

Western State scored in the initial period when Covington came all the way from second on Fremont's passed ball and continued to count in the second with a pair of markers. Western concluded its scoring in the fourth chapter with a quartet of runs which brought its total to seven.

Three Western double plays killed practically every rally that the State batters began. In the first round Fleser singled and was sacrificed to second, but there he withered when Haskins and Kiebler failed to produce the needed hit. With one away in the second Rowley singled and Zimmerman advanced him to second with a scratch hit. Spiekerman then hit to Johnson in left who doubled Baynes at the midway. With one out in the third, Fleser singled but Fremont drove into a double killing, Covington to Schruppf. Spiekerman singled in the fifth with two away but Tolles rolled out. State started a rally in the ninth when Fleser got a long single to left, but Fremont again hit into a two-ply killing, Righter to Covington to Schruppf.

Western bunched its hits in two innings, collecting three each in the third and fourth. State played errorless ball in the third but made three slipups in the fourth. Western earned two runs off Tolles, the other five being gifts from the State infield.

Fleser led both teams with the stick, getting three safeties out of four times up. Spiekerman made three misplays at the initial sack, with Fremont and Kiebler contributing one each.

State plays its final home game of the season tomorrow at College field, meeting the University of Notre Dame. The Irish usually have an unusually fast outfit and are no exception this year. If State plays the brand of ball against the Catholics Saturday as it played against Western State, the Green and White will be in for a sound drubbing, but on the other hand, if the team shows signs of life and returns to the form it has shown most of the year, a good game will be on the boards.

George Kuhn will draw the assignment, with Harry ... held available if George is unable to go the route.

ST. JOHNS LOOMS STRONG IN MEET

Has Won Several Meets This Year In Stiff Competition; Others Are Also Strong.

With St. Johns and Otsego favored to win the Class B and Class C interscholastic track and field meet, the participants will swing into action today in the preliminary heats and trials in the dashes, hurdles and weight events. The finals will be staged at the stadium tomorrow morning.

St. Johns high school, from previous performances this season, seems to have the edge in doping the winner of the Class B cup. The school placed nine men in the annual Saginaw Valley Athletic association meet in Flint recently and won high honors at Alma college last Saturday in the Central Michigan high school meet.

St. Johns qualified men in the University of Michigan interscholastic two weeks ago, being the only Class B school able to do this besides Holy. Competing with St. Johns will be St. Joseph, winner for Class B honors in the Western State Normal interscholastic meet earlier this season. Niles and Three Rivers placed two and three in this event and are also expected to figure in the counting.

Otsego took the Class C honors at the Western State Normal meet, Breckenridge, which is a Class D school, placed some men in the Class C class. Clark of Breckenridge, a pole vaulter, took the event at the Saginaw Valley meet. Thomas and Vogeli of Bangor and Bell of Berrien Springs are also likely looking vaulters.

The program will be the same as last week with the Class A meet, the preliminaries being run off Friday afternoon with the finals scheduled for Saturday morning.

NAME NEW COACH FOR BASKETBALL

Benjamin F. VanAlstyne Named To Succeed John Kobs As Basketball Coach.

Benjamin Francis VanAlstyne, of Colgate university, has been named to succeed Coach John Kobs as head coach of varsity basketball here next year, according to announcement yesterday from the college athletic office.

Mr. VanAlstyne comes here with high recommendations from George Gauthier, one time Aggie star, and present athletic director, of Ohio Wesleyan.

VanAlstyne was one of the greatest all around prep school athletes of the east at the time he captained for Canisius academy in New York, and later for Ohio Wesleyan. Colgate has been seeking his return as basketball coach, but through the influence of Gauthier he was secured for Michigan State.

When not engaged as freshmen football coach or varsity basketball mentor, the new addition to the staff will serve as spring football assistant to Coach Young, and he will have charge of varsity football scouting tactics.

VanAlstyne was prominent at Colgate in other activities, being a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at the eastern university.

LARGEST INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT ON LOCAL COURTS

STATE FAVORED TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP; WESTERN STATE, LAST YEAR CHAMPIONS, STRONG CONTENDERS.

Seventy-nine tennis players are competing on the Michigan State courts this week-end in the state intercollegiate tennis meet, representing 13 colleges and 36 teams to form the largest tennis tournament ever sponsored by the college.

Each college may enter a maximum of eight men in the singles and four teams in the doubles. Play started Thursday morning and will not be concluded until tomorrow. Western State Normal won the championship last year, with Hart the singles champion. State is conceded a good chance to win this year with Western Normal, Grand Rapids junior college, University of Detroit, and Detroit City college good chances. Other schools to enter teams are Albion, Alma, Ypsilanti, Olivet, Central Normal of Mt. Pleasant, Highland Park junior college, Michigan State fresh, Kalamazoo college and Battle Creek college.

Due to the peculiar number of men entered in the singles, a large number of them were given byes in the first round drawings. The men will play in the order named.
