STAGE SET FOR WATER CARNIVAL THIS THURSDAY

Events for Show Announced; Vaudeville Acts to Be Featured.

Construction work started Saturday morning on the bleachers and platform for the annual senior water carnival, June 10. The "stage" will actually be realized this year with plenty of room for the actors to strut their stuff, and will be provided with spots and footlights from the New Detroit theater, Detroit.

The first event of the carnival, the men's singles, will be run at 7 o'clock sharp. Entries in this event will report at the judges' stand at 6:45.

The other events will be run as follows: Tilted contest (first round), women's singles, tilted contest (double), mixed doubles, filling contest (first round), women's doubles, men's doubles, filling contest (finals). The starter and judges of these events are J. B. Hasselman, H. C. Fisher and E. E. Hutchins.

B. Black and Dick Roach have a blackface act well in hand for the carnival, while Alice McWood and Mary Hillyer will each have a dance number. A group of Independent are working up a unique number about the atmosphere of Hawaii as a background. The crowd will be kept in good humor throughout the show by the playful antics of "Shady" Lane and "Bill" Schulgen.

The music for the floats and dances will be furnished by the Amphion crooners, who have proven that they have the stuff at many fraternity parties. In addition to all the entertainment, the girls under the direction of Miss Suppe of the athletic department are arranging a special Dutch dance.

CIVIL ENGINEERS DO BENEFICIAL WORK

Thesis Work Done by Seniors Is Direct Value to College.

E. Slaughter, who is to receive his M. S. degree in civil engineering this year, has been experimenting on the disposal of brewery waste. He has found at least one method which is satisfactory in disposing of the waste. This is important at the present time in Michigan because of the recent state law which requires breweries and dairies to render their waste harmless before discharging it into streams or lakes. The work has been carried on in laboratory scale and it is planned to continue the work next year on a commercial scale.

Members of the civil engineers have done thesis work of such a nature as to be a direct benefit to the college. Some of these are as follows: H. L. Bargwell and W. F. Beeman have made a survey and relocation of part of the campus roads. It is planned to proceed with the construction this summer.

H. Dawson and E. J. Peterson have made certain studies of the quantities and possibilities of the water supplying water to the campus.

W. C. Gunn has designed a settling reservoir for the campus water supply.

H. A. Preston and M. K. Wrench have made an exhaustive study over the flow of the Red Cedar river. This data will be of importance when the college decides to extend the scope of its construction to the banks and build a hydraulic job on the banks of the river.

Several other thesis should be of benefit to the individuals or industries of Michigan, such as the study of Michigan mails by W. H. Barbour, a suggestion of Dean Giltner's farm by M. Hartman and L. F. Taylor, the design of a sewage disposal plant for Charlotte by C. A. Kitto and E. A. Jones, also several studies on super-saturated and limonite cement by R. O. Almy Clark, C. A. Giffels and Wilbur VanGieslen.

PROMINENT ALUMNUS TO ENTERTAIN AT REUNION

Joseph B. Cotton, '86, a New York corporation attorney who was formerly prominent in national political circles, has made plans to entertain his class at a dinner at the annual reunion.

Journalism Students Invade Lansing to Publish Capital News

College journalism students invaded Lansing today in a peaceful manner and took over the Capital News for the day in an effort to display their knowledge of theoretical journalism in a practical way.

This is an innovation in the history of the journalism course here. The course has been growing rapidly during the past year under the direction of Prof. A. H. Nelson and the students have shown the result of good training in the capable way they have handled the Lansing paper—both in the line of writing the dope and placing it to good advantage in the makeup. With the added work in journalism which is expected to be added next year and the number of students who have signified their intention of going on with the course this experiment, which Walter Morrow, managing editor of the Capital News, endorses highly, may become an annual event for the "budding young journalists."

Editorials, humor, features, stories—all are the results of hours of pondering over style, books and type-writers and show up the ability of the students along the lines of newspaper work.

Some of the features of the edition are editorials on "Town and Gown."

"The Community Church Idea," and "Training for Citizenship," original humor by members of the staff, and a college page, giving all the recent dope on happenings at Michigan State.

The staff of the paper is as follows: Managing Editor—John F. Brislin.

SPECIAL CONVO. FRIDAY MORNING

Ex-Gov. Osborn to Address Final Student Gathering of Year.

A special convocation will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock, with ex-Governor Chase S. Osborn as the speaker. It was announced yesterday by President Butterfield.

Classes at this hour on Friday will be dismissed, with provision made to hold as many of them as possible at the same hour on Wednesday, which is a blank period for every student.

Michigan's ex-executive will lecture on a topic of vital interest to college students, and one which has stirred college commencement audiences throughout the nation of late. He is returning to this state from his estate, "Pocum Poken in 'Possum Lane" at Paulan, Worth county, Georgia, and on May 31 he delivered the commencement speech at Georgia Wesleyan in Macon, Ga.

Mr. Osborn is a close friend of President Butterfield and the college is fortunate in securing him for this special and final convocation of the year. A life history of him as a platform speaker appears in the April issue of the Century magazine.

ALBION ORCHESTRA HERE FOR CAP NIGHT

Dance Opens at 9:15 in Gym; Co-eds Have Week-End Rules.

Announcement today from the student council contains the fact that the Metropolitan Collegians orchestra of Albion college will synopate for the Cap Night dances, scheduled for tomorrow evening.

The dances will open at about 9:15 o'clock in the gymnasium, following the ceremonies which will commence at 7:30 on the cavalry drill field. Freshmen are to be clad in pajamas and lined up at the rear of the gym, with seniors in caps and gowns arrayed at the front entrance. The freshmen will lead the grand march "bedroom attired."

Co-eds will be granted week-end privileges for tomorrow night, it was announced at Dean Phelan's office today.

APPOINT ASSISTANT IN ENGINEERING DIVISION

Another graduate assistant, Mr. Sabagh, who receives his degree of B. D. from the Ohio State university this spring, has been appointed to the electrical engineering department of Michigan State college. Mr. Sabagh, a Syrian, has studied and taught in St. Louis college, and some time ago wrote a history of Phoenicia in the Arabian language.

Prof. Cory is leaving next week for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he expects to pursue advanced work in electrical engineering, while Prof. Master has made arrangements to join the engineering corps of the Detroit Edison Co. and will report July 1.

FRESHMEN CO-EDS WIN INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

The freshmen girls won the interclass co-ed track meet Saturday morning. Twenty-two contestants took part in the various events. A novelty baseball game followed the meet, the freshmen meeting an unknown team which turned out to be composed of faculty members.

Those receiving the highest attainable score of 15 points were Katherine Merrifield, junior; Jean Sutherland, Maryella Fahrney, Lucile Allen, sophomores; Alice Tange, Fay Gillis, Helen Bishop, Marjorie Torrent, Ruth Tazinke, Lelah Hornink, freshmen. The zoning system of scoring used allowed more than one contestant to take first place, with the result that no one girl was high point scorer.

GRADUATE ASSISTANT RECEIVES SPECIAL AWARD

C. V. Green, Zoology Assistant Receives Money Grant From Eugenics Association.

C. V. Green, graduate assistant in zoology at Michigan State college, has been awarded a grant of money by the National Eugenics Research association for the study of death and birth rates in defective families. Mr. Green graduated last year.

Leaving July 1 for the Eugenics Record office at Cold Springs Harbor, New York, he will spend a large part of the summer in research work under the direction of Dr. H. H. Laughlin and Dr. C. B. Davenport, nationally recognized authorities in the field of eugenics.

Studies have been made at the college of birth and death rates among college graduates and results of the new studies will be compared with the data already compiled.

C. E. West, a senior, will attend the summer school at Cold Springs Harbor for special work in eugenics. The zoology department expects to continue sending at least one well prepared student to this institution each summer. S. C. Whitlock was the man sent last year.

ALUMNI PROGRAM SET FOR JUNE 19

Varsity-Alumni Baseball Game and Alumni Dance On Schedule.

June 19 will be the annual alumni day of Michigan State college. A general alumni luncheon will be served in the ballroom of the Union Memorial building at 12 o'clock with "Jimmy" Hays acting as master of ceremonies. A program has been planned and the luncheon will be followed by the annual business meeting of the association. To facilitate seating arrangements, the luncheon will be served cafeteria style and a 30 minute intermission following the luncheon will be in vogue during which the tables will be cleared from the room to add space for the business part of the gathering.

Election of next year's officers of the association, resolutions, reports, etc., will be taken up at this meeting, and following same will come the formal dedication and unveiling of the bronze memorial tablet now placed in the lobby of the Union. This tablet was given to the college by the Washington, D. C. chapter of the alumni association and is a tribute to the State college graduates who have lost their lives in the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars. Tommy Gunson, well known by the student body, will be the principal dedication speaker.

At 4 o'clock the annual alumni- varsity baseball game will take place at college field. The graduate nine will be under the tutelage of "Brownie" Springer, Lansing high school coach.

The M. S. C. band club, and the E. O. T. C. band are sponsoring a movement to have alumni bandmen present with their instruments for the day. The alumni musicians will play for their team at the game, while the college band will cheer the varsity on to victory. This game should prove a thriller, with the varsity determined to gain revenge for the alleged basketball conspiracy made against State last winter, when the alumni timekeeper deliberately fired the gun to end an overtime period after he had waited equally "overtime" for the alumni to take the lead.

The class of 1876 will hold its 50th anniversary on alumni day. The class of '86 will be tendered a reunion banquet at the Hotel Downey that evening by Joseph Cotton, one of its prominent members, who is at present corporation attorney for New York city.

President Butterfield's class, the class of 1891, will celebrate its 35th anniversary with a special dinner at the Union that evening. Prof. Hedrick is also of that class.

Several other classes are planning reunions, luncheons or dinners for alumni day. Among those which have so signified are '91, '96, '11, '16, '22, '23, '25.

Saturday evening, following the day's program, will come the annual reception of the alumni by President Butterfield. A dance will then be in vogue in the Union ballroom. A band concert will be held at 10 o'clock that morning to start the festivities of the day.

CAP NIGHT TO BE ONE OF PREMIER EVENTS OF YEAR

New Senior President and Leader of Student Body to Be Introduced; Dance Billed.

One of the greatest events of the college year will take place tomorrow evening, the occasion of the annual cap night ceremonies. Norval E. Tyrrell is general chairman of the arrangements, and George L. Dirks, president-elect of the student council, will be chairman of the program. The entire evening program is being arranged to make the night one for not only seniors but for every undergraduate as well.

The occasion will also mark the formal introduction to the student body of the senior class president for next year. He will be chosen at the class election tonight. Likewise it will be the time for the formal succession of Dirks to the presidency of the council, and the culmination of Harry Wakefield's work as the head of that body.

President Butterfield has urged the student body to "think twice" concerning what it means to the college before they foster any plans for invading the city of Lansing, bent upon revenge.

As an added incentive for staying on the campus, the committee has arranged for a dance in the gymnasium to follow the ceremonies on cavalry drill field. This will rev up one of the night's features, the committee announces.

At 7:30 o'clock the seniors will meet in front of the gymnasium with the freshmen collected at the rear of the building, under the direction of an upperclassman, who will explain to them the details of procedure. Fifteen minutes later the military band will make its first appearance.

TO ORGANIZE ANNUAL STAFF ON NEW PLAN

Centralizing of Responsibility To Be Biggest Result of New System.

At a meeting of the board of publications of the college Saturday morning a new plan of organization for the 1927 Wolverine was formulated.

Under the newly adopted plan, four departmental heads will be chosen from the next year's juniors. They will be the assistant editor, feature editor, photography editor and business manager. Each will be responsible to the editor, Arthur J. Hannah, recently elected under the new plan of making the editor-in-chief a senior. Hannah will then be directly responsible to the board of publications, whereas the various student assistants will be responsible directly to their departmental heads, who in turn will be directly under the editor.

All subdivision editors, such as class, organization, and athleticletic editors, will be sophomores, in order that they may be eligible for departmental heads their junior year, and the editorship their senior year.

At The Union

More than 17,000 meals were served in the cafeteria during May.

It is planned that several important improvements will be made in the building during the summer.

Coupons totalling more than 29 books are spent in the building each day.

Student patronage of the beauty parlor has increased so that another operator will be needed in the fall.

Twenty-four parties were scheduled for the ballroom during the spring term.

Use the Union.

LET'S PLAY—AT EAST LANSING

Michigan State students are beginning to realize that the place to celebrate when an occasion arises is not in Lansing but in East Lansing at the college. Lansing as a whole retains a friendly attitude toward the college, cooperates with and supports student organizations, but Lansing citizens do not appreciate some of the things that a crowd of students in a celebrating mood are apt to do. The good judgment and common sense of the average individual is lost in the crowd and the opposition which always occurs serves only to make bad judgment worse.

Opportunity will be offered tomorrow night following the annual cap night ceremonies to journey en masse to Lansing and take the consequences or to remain at the college and celebrate the occasion in a manner that will be a credit to the institution with no regrettable instances to look back upon. It will be, as it always has been, an occasion for a great deal of merry-making on the part of the students, especially for the freshmen who forever cast off the bonds of freshmen rules, and for the other classes as well, for it marks the formal advancement of one year for all classes.

The fact that the students went to Lansing last year on cap night, attempted to break into a theater with a resulting fight with the police, is no excuse for repeating an undesirable performance this year. In view of the recent celebration which was carried to Lansing, it would be utterly folly to try it again.

Lansing has proved to be an expensive territory in which to hold a celebration. The costs of the last one, which will be paid by the student council, amounted to $400. As a result of the last encounter, both sides are apt to hold somewhat of a grudge and the spirit of revenge would play a large part in a similar encounter tomorrow night. This spirit would be entirely out of place and not in keeping with the occasion. The people of Lansing are at present in sympathy with the students but if they were to throw caution to the winds and attempt revenge, that spirit of sympathy would disappear and with it a large part of the cooperation and good feeling between the city and the college.

If the students go to Lansing, another encounter with the police is certain. Whatever the outcome might be, it would be a discredit to the school. It is certain that the police force would not hide and injuries would be more numerous than they were before. Even if the students should succeed in overpowering the police, they and the college would be the losers.

The committee in charge of the cap night program and the college officials have cooperated in furnishing a program for the entire evening which will be wholesome in every way and which will not bring about any disagreeable results. If Lansing citizens wish to watch frolics freshmen perform, they will be willing to come to East Lansing to see it.

We can have more real fun on our own campus. We can bring our Alma Mater into disrepute throughout the country or we can make it an institution of students that are respected throughout the country. Let's play—at East Lansing.

Let's play—at East Lansing.

CAP NIGHT TO BE BIG EVENT OF YEAR

 ance of the evening, playing across the cavalry drill field. A 200-foot circle of automobiles will be arranged under the supervision of state police, and the ceremonies will follow within this superimposed area. The procession will be led by the class of 1926 attired in caps and gowns. The undergraduates will follow, with the freshmen clad in pajamas.

With the procession part of the program culminated, President Harry Wakefield of the student council will address the assemblage, introducing George L. Dirks as the new president of the some 2,000 students of State college. Dirks will then assume the chairmanship for the remainder of the evening, and will formally become head of the student council.

Following this event, President

Kenyon L. Butterfield will address the student body, preceded by another speaker, yet to be selected.

David Stouffer, president of the graduating class, will then ascend the platform and terminate his activity toward the college by turning over the senior banner to the president of next year's class. This will be the formal introduction of the leader of the class of 1927.

Electrical contrivances will put a huge pile of inflammable matter into a state of conflagration, which can be witnessed for miles around. A novelty dance and program will be started, and the seniors will toss their books into the flames, watch them go up in smoke, and then turn away to reflect upon their college days, while the freshmen will follow, with carefree thoughts, to burn their detestable green pots, and only imagine what the future holds for them, just as the seniors recall what it has meant to them.

Fireworks will be intermingled with this portion of the ceremonies and at 9 o'clock the students will proceed toward the gymnasium. Here the freshman class, liberated from their bondage of the past year, will formally become sophomores, and lead the grand march, of what is expected to be the most enthusiastic dance held on the campus in many a day. The erstwhile "fresh," now literally speaking, sophomores, will still be clad in their pajamas as they lead all in the opening of the dance, virtually an "ex-freshman prom."

Midnight will find all of the harmony of nearly 70 years embodied within the closed activities of the college, for that night, providing the earnest requests not to forsake the campus are heeded.

STATE WINS FINAL HOME GAME OF SEASON IN DOWNING IRISH, 5-3

Kuhn Goes Route, Allowing Eleven Hits; Notre Dame Makes Nine Misplays to Help State Cause.

Big George Kuhn, the unconquerable, again emerged to a major victory Saturday afternoon at College field by downing Notre Dame university, 5-3. Although State was out-hit by the Irishmen, 11-4, the South Bend defense cracked at crucial times, committing nine misplays, times, committing nine misplays that blended with six passes and four in the afternoon, allowed the Green and White to push over the winning runs.

State got away to a four run lead in the first inning by bunting three hits, one a triple, with three free tickets to first and a brace of errors. After Fleser struck out, Fremont drew a walk. Zimmerman fled to Parsien but Tolles tripled to the flag pole, Fremont counting. Kiebler singled through second and Tolles scored. Smith threw the ball away when Kiebler attempted to steal second and Moore in turn threw over Pearson's head at third in trying to cut down the State leader. Kiebler scored all the way from first. Rowley walked, stole second and scored when Baynes pushed a single over the keystone. Spiekerman walked but Kuhn struck out for the final demise.

State got one run in the third without obtaining a hit. Kiebler led off by walking. Rowley sacrificed him to second and when McCleary dropped Baynes' fly in right, Rowley went to third. Spiekerman hit to Wilson who threw low to Smith to get Rowley at the plate and he was safe. Baynes went to third on the play. Boston decided that he had had enough and was relieved by Walsh. Kuhn attempted to work the squeeze play but popped to Walsh

GRAND RAPIDS JUNIOR WINS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

State Varsity Places Third With Fresh In Fifth Position.

To Grand Rapids Junior college goes the state intercollegiate tennis honors for the forthcoming year, dethroning Western State Normal which won the cup last year. Grand Rapids scored 37 points for a first place with Kalamazoo Normal second with 27, State third with 21, Detroit City college fourth with 18, State Fresh fifth with 11. Oliver, Highland Park Junior and Central Michigan State Normal tied for sixth with 8 each. Battle Creek college followed with 7, Kalamazoo college 6 and Albion last with one set.

who doubled Baynes at third. Kuhn blanked Notre Dame until the fifth when the Irish got a run through two hits, a base on balls and Kiebler's error. Walsh hit to Kiebler whose throw to Spiekerman was wide. Pearson singled to right, Walsh going to third. Silvers doubled to left, scoring Walsh. Wilson struck out for the first out but Parsien walked, filling the bases. Sullivan hit to Kuhn who got Pearson at the plate and Silvers was doubled when Fremont tossed to Rowley to get him at third.

The Keeganmen scored their last runs in the eighth, bunting three hits for a pair of counters. Smith doubled to start the inning and went to third when Empire Daly called a balk on Kuhn. O'Boyle singled, scoring Smith. Walsh hit into a double play, Kiebler to Baynes to Spiekerman. Pearson lined a twisting drive to left which Tolles reached but dropped, the hitter taking second, from where he scored on Silvers' single. Quinn pinch-hit for Wilson and struck out.

The State infield helped Kuhn out of several holes by completing three fast double plays. Notre Dame pulled two at State's expense. "Lefty" Tolles was sent into left instead of Haskins to face a right handed pitcher and came through with a double and a triple. Parsien robbed him of a certain triple in the fourth by making a great running catch of his line drive.

Walsh, who relieved Boston, pitched no hit ball but errors behind him kept him constantly in the hole. He will probably get the assignment to face State in the Spartans' last scheduled game of the season at South Bend Saturday, with Harry Wakefield opposing him.

SPARTANS PLACE SECOND IN FIRST CENTRAL INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET

Alderman and Tillotson Take Firsts; Grim Meets Equal In Quarter; Van Noppen, Smith and Wylie Gather Points.

With Freddy Alderman and Ivan Tillotson of State leading the way with first places in the Central Intercollegiate conference held at Marquette stadium Saturday the Spartans upset the dope and were second only to the well balanced Notre Dame cinder team, scoring 47 points by placing in every event but the javelin, to Notre Dame's 72 1/2. Marquette was third with 35 1/2 and Butler a poor 4th with an even 10 points.

Alderman won the century, furlong and broad jump and ran as anchor man in the relay team which finished second, due mostly to Alderman's wonderful sprint in the last few yards of his 449. Tillotson won the discus heave over Dilwig, Marquette's all-American end, by heaving the platter 133 ft. 7 3/4 in. on his last try.

Captain Bohm Grim met defeat in the quarter mile for the first time this year when he was nosed out in the last few yards by Phillips of Butler and Coughlin of Notre Dame.

State nearly scored a slam in the two mile, Harper, Belt and Thomas all being close on the heels of Shimek at the tape. VanNoppen got a third in the high hurdles and a second in the low, and Paul Smith took a second in the shot and fourth places in the discus and pole vault. Wylie was barely nosed out of a first place by Judge of Notre Dame in the mile and placed a 4th in the half mile.

This meet is a substitute for the annual Big Ten meet which the four schools which competed Saturday have been accustomed to enter but are now barred because of a new Western Conference ruling. It is planned to make this meet an annual event, holding the 1927 track and field meet at East Lansing, under the auspices of the college. Coach Ralph H. Young of State, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame and Coach Jennings of Marquette are the sponsors of the new movement.
