LET'S MAKE IT BIG

The Spartan football team is facing the hardest schedule that has ever been looked for Michigan State, facing it without the support of the student body—a type of half-hearted backing that is disgusting to an outsider and demoralizing to a team.

We have reached a crisis. Do we want a football team? Are we willing each and every one of us to back our Alma Mater and our team? Or have we degenerated into a group of spineless, wishy-washy, fifth-hand development shells who wonder why the team doesn't make a better showing and are not interested enough to make the team confident there is a student body?

We have the men, we have the coaches, all doing their best in preparation for the trials that are before them. What we lack is that contagious fire of enthusiasm which keeps every man on his feet and turns defeat into victory.

When it is time for the Michigan game, there is always a band of enthusiasts that is inspiring but we lose sight of some very important concepts by allowing this annual event to overshadow the others. You may think that the game Saturday with Kalamazoo is of little consequence but the success of the season may depend upon the first two or three games.

Kalamazoo is the outstanding small team of the state—composed of experienced men with a proven back to back team that is loyal to 35-foot man Kalamazoo has met the challenge head-on this against stronger teams and it is loyalty and zeal that does it. The last time we played them which was six years ago they defeated us 21 to 0. Are we going to sit idly by and do nothing to keep a school of about one-fourth the size of Michigan State sent us down to disgraceful defeat a second time.

The pep meeting Wednesday night was a failure and a disgrace to the student body. The number that attended would have been no credit to the smallest college in the state. And what is more discouraging is the fact that the men at the meeting were outnumbered by the women.

There will be another "pep" Friday night on the eve of the Kalamazoo game and it is the duty of every man and woman of the student body to be there. If we haven't enough spirit and loyalty to be willing to show the team that we are with them, then we are not deserving of the time and effort that is being expended upon us for a college education. College sports is an important and valuable part of your education.

Where are the men who shout school spirit from the rooftops and spend their time throwing freshmen in the river to demonstrate that they have it? Where are the individuals who "crack about defeat"? Where are they when a pep meeting is called and an opportunity to show the team that there is such a thing as school spirit?

Where is the school spirit we were so proud of last spring after we beat Michigan in football. Am half will cry over a victory or crack about a defeat but it takes a man to stand for his school and his team through thick and thin and do his bit in supporting the team. There is no reason why we should not be enthusiastic over victory but let us be more consistent with enthusiasm and loyalty and give a piece of it before a game and during a game.

This matter of support for the team is very little to ask from the average student as compared to what the athlete is giving day after day in time and effort that he may be a credit to the school.

It is easy to say "the team lost" after a defeat, but is there anyone who does not say "we won" after a victory? Let's put the "we" in it every day and at every occasion before the game and during the game and "we" will win.

President Butterfield in commenting upon the need for school spirit says: "We've got the football material, we've got the coaches. What we need now is the student body back of the team. I hope there won't be standing room in the gym Friday night at the mass meeting."

WHAT ABOUT THE FRESH COLED?

The Women's Self-Government association has a problem to work out that requires careful thought. The freshman girls have been unintentionally discriminated against by a combination of new dormitory hours and new library hours.

The librarians cannot give them a book to take out over night at a quarter of nine when there is still an hour and a quarter remaining in which a book may be used in the assigned reading room. There are times, perhaps, when this means a great inconvenience to the girls and the inability to prepare a lesson for the following day.

It is obvious that they cannot be given permission to stay out until 10 o'clock to study in the library if the 8.45 rule is to be maintained. If this were done, they would all suddenly become studious for an alibi. This system was tried once and proved unsatisfactory.

It might be possible to maintain the present dormitory hours and still give them an equal chance if they were allowed sufficient time just before closing time for the library, say ten minutes, to procure a book that might be needed.

pens. Their work is mainly stenographic or else housework. Mr. Biery finds positions for some of them, and the Y. W. C. A. also maintains an employment service for co-eds.

During this same summer period, 317 double rooms and 54 single rooms were listed and engaged through Biery. Most of these were for all college year, although a few were "transient" as when Boys' and Girls' club or Farmers' Day delegations visited the College City.

About 33 apartments, ranging in size from the "one room and kitchenette" upwards to large apartments, were rented out through this service during the month of September.

The class was also practicing in a few new yell by a variety choir leader, which was to be used in the rest of the season's games.

HOLD BIG MASS MEETING ON EVE OF KAZOO GAME

mand as a public speaker in Lansing.

The Swartz Creek Clown Band has been one of the most entertaining groups to appear at mass meetings in the past, will make its first appearance of the season. The college military will also be out in full force to lend its support as it will at the game tomorrow.

Jimmie Hasselman, whose voice over WKAR is known to thousands of fans all over the middle west, will give a short talk at the opening of the meeting. He is well known to the entire student body and is recognized as one of the best radio announcers of football and basketball games in this section of the country.

Marty Rummel, whose injuries sustained last summer have kept him out of the game this year, will be the second speaker. While Rummel has been unable to take an active part, he has been spending a great deal of time in helping the team to prepare for the Kazoo program.

At this point in the program the new coaches will be introduced, followed by a short talk by Coach Young.

Mr. Carlton will be the final speaker on the program. George Dirks, president of the Student Council, will act as chairman and the meeting will close with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Kazoo is hoped to give the Spartans a hard fight and with this game, the really difficult part of the schedule begins. The team is composed of experienced men and they are a stronger aggregation now than the Lake Forest team was when they defeated us last year.

The team needs the support of every member of the student body and faculty at the game Saturday and the big mass meeting has been arranged to put the State rooters in trim for their part of the contest.

A section will be reserved in the stands at the game tomorrow as a cheering section and all freshmen are expected to sit in this section.

When the sun goes down

More than 350,000,000 incandescent lamps, with a combined light of nine billion candlepower, make city streets, stores, and homes brighter than ever before.

In bungalow or mansion, workshop or factory, dormitory or auditorium, there is no excuse for poor illumination. We have cheaper and better lighting in the electric lamp than ever before; for the dollar that bought 1,115 candlepower-hours of light with the carbon-filament lamps of 1886, now buys 16,200 candlepower-hours of light with the MAZDA lamps.

Not only more light, but correctly applied light, is the order of the day. The electric lamp, with its flameless yet highly concentrated light source, lends itself ideally to reflectors, shades, and screens. It is controlled light—safe light. And illumination becomes an exact science.

During college days and in after life, correct lighting must ever be of paramount importance to the college man and woman. Go with the worthy handmaiden of culture and progress.

The General Electric Company is the world's largest manufacturer of incandescent lamps. And behind the G-E MAZDA lamps are vast research laboratories, dedicated to cheaper and better electric illumination, and to the conservation of eyesight.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT MAKES BIG SHIPMENT

The forestry department shipped 8,000 white pines to the Dunbar school near Sault Ste. Marie for planting there and expect to send up 11,000 more this week for field planting on the cut-over land. The department has been collecting white pine seed from the trees in the windbreak along the railroad spur. A few years ago 100 bushels of cones were gathered at the windbreak, which yielded about 100 pounds of seed. The seed is very expensive this year, and unfortunately the crop is not as heavy as in the past.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR NEW BOILER

Power House to Get New Boiler and Stoker Before January.

Announcement came yesterday from officials in charge of the M. S. C. power house to the effect that a contract which calls for the installation of a new boiler, which, with a stoker, will cost between $34,000 and $35,000 dollars, has been awarded the Wicks Boiler company of Saginaw. According to the contract, the boiler will be installed by the second week in December.

The Detroit Stoker company has the contract for the stoker. The two pieces of apparatus together will cost nearly $85,000, and additional equipment, such as adjusters and meters, will bring the total up a few thousand dollars above this. The money was appropriated for the purpose by the last legislature.

With the addition of the new boiler, which will be the largest at the college, there will be five boilers in operation.

Contract for the construction of a new roadway through the campus will be awarded the first of next month. The sealed contracts are to be opened soon after Oct. 1. It is expected that the drive will be completed as far as the gymnasium by winter. The road is to encircle the campus, starting at the main entrance.

Several office changes have taken place on the campus this term. Occupying these rooms are Professors Rufi, Walpole and Grover. The new offices for these faculty men were formerly used by the State News.

Dear "Red":

Just a few lines to let you know that I listened in on the M. S. C. vs. Adrian football game today. It came in fine, clear and loud, no interference to speak of. That announcer is some talker and he would be in a hole of a predicament if he got the lockjaw in the middle of the game, but, anyway, I believe he was the best I ever heard. Keep that announcer in good shape, "Red", don't let him get the tonsillitis or mumps or sore throat, as I want to listen to the football and basketball games this fall and winter.

UNUSUAL NEW COURSE POPULAR AT OPENING

Michigan State Pioneers In Offering Definite Course In Medical Biology.

A new course in medical biology is being offered for the first time this year under the direction of Dr. Ward Gilmer, professor of bacteriology and hygiene.

The training of laboratory workers is a subject which has of late attracted a great deal of attention and comment. At the present time there are few if any definite courses of study of this type offered by the higher institutions of public learning.

Entrance requirements are the equivalent of a good high school education. Excellent material advice may be obtained by consulting a local physician.

The course prepares men and women for positions in hospital laboratories, physicians' and surgeons' clinics, and federal, state and municipal health laboratories. It also fits the specially adapted student for either commercial or research laboratory work requiring a technical knowledge of medical biology in its broadest sense.

A liberal education is also insured since non-medical studies are included and may be elected to a considerable extent.

The idea was submitted to and received the approval of the State Medical Association and soon will be studied by the American Association.

Michigan State is the only public institution of higher learning that offers such a course and this year 12 students are enrolled.

ever heard one over the radio and I sure want to compliment the announcer on the way that he followed the game. It was so clear that I could almost see the men as they tore up and down the field. Personally I do not think that I would have been half as interested if the "mike" had been cranked up in a telephone booth that he told about your using in the past for cheering was half the news. The music from the bands also came in very clearly when he lifted the instrument to the edge of the press box. I was also interested in hearing the pressmen telephoning and telegraphing the news of the game to their papers.

By all means leave him in the open even if he does get a little of the cold, for his enthusiasm, as displayed over the radio, sure ought to keep him warm. With best wishes for a big year for your team, I am

HORNETS DOPED TO GIVE STATE ELEVEN TOUGH GAME SATURDAY

Team That Held Notre Dame Reserves to Scoreless Tie Will Offer Tougher Opposition Than Adrian Did a Week Ago; Few Changes Anticipated In First String of Spartans; Week Spent in Scrimmages.

Opposition of a tough nature is going to be on the menu of the Michigan State college football team Saturday when Kalamazoo college's eleven invades the stadium here for the first game between the teams in a number of years.

The teams will be the second and final "preliminary" tilt for State. State disposed of Adrian last Saturday. Michigan, historic rival of State, will be met at Ann Arbor the following Saturday.

There is an added element of interest to the game Saturday. Prior to coming to Michigan State, Head Coach Ralph Young served as athletic director in the Hornets' late. Championships glory came to Kalamazoo during his seven year stay.

Kazooks Strong

That Kalamazoo is no foe to be belittled, is indicated by the scoreless tie fought with the Notre Dame reserves last Saturday. Scouts report the Kazooks a very good defensive team. State got a dose of defensive play against Adrian. The Kalamazoo outfit is composed entirely of veterans, but one man graduating last season. Several stars of days gone by have returned to school to take the places of the graduates.

As for State's team, no changes in the starting lineup are expected, although an effort to substitute more freely will be made if the score permits. This means that Christenson and Grim will start at the ends. Drew is still out of the game with an injured ankle. Garver and Moeller will probably get the call for the tackle berths. The first newness should wear off and a smoother brand of play be offered in this branch. Hitchings and Ross will undoubtedly be back at guards, although Wenner may get in any time.

Fred Barratt, another sophomore, will start at center. Deacon is slated to call the signals. Fouts' ankle is still far from strong and he will undoubtedly be saved for the Michigan game. Jim McCosh and Boehringer, veteran halfbacks, will be at their old posts, while Paul Smith will serve in the fullback role.

Smith has been the sensation of the team to date and local sport writers predict a great season for the Saginaw youth.

A number of good men will probably crash into the fray before the final whistle blows, but no variety have been the combinations used by Coach Young that no predictions can be made.

Scrimmage against the scrappy freshman team has constituted most of the work of the varsity this week. The team should be on edge as a result.

DEDICATE FIELD BRANCH OF EXPERIMENT STATION

Prof. Chittenden Attends Opening of Forest Service Branch.

Professor Chittenden attended the dedication of the upper peninsula field branch of the Federal Lake States Forest Experiment Station. The new branch is located near Marquette on some land given the government by the Cleveland CBBs company. It was formally accepted by W. B. Greeley, the head of the U. S. Forest Service. The branch will cooperate with the head of the forestry experiment station of the college near the Soo in making studies of forest growth and other matters in the upper peninsula. Cooperation will be of special advantage to both sides, as the federal station is in a hardwood forest, and the college experiment station contains mostly spruce and balsam.

KIDS TO BE ADMITTED FREE AT KALAMAZOO GAME

Saturday has been designated as "Kids' Day" at Michigan State college. All youths not of a high school age will be admitted to the Kalamazoo-Michigan State game free of charge.

Last season several hundred youngsters were on deck for the affair and an even larger crowd is looked for this season.

RUNNERS MAY BE BORN NOT MADE

Athlete May Possess Ability To Shine In Cross Country Sport.

Experts agree that distance running—the art of picking 'em up and laying 'em down—is a thing that many a person can do well without knowing he has the ability. It is not like many other sports, where years of training and experience are necessary before the athlete can take his place with the head-liners.

It is for this reason that Coach Morton Mason would like to see a considerable crowd of candidates reporting daily for cross-country at the college field. The Spartan mentor is faced with an ambitious schedule and has only one veteran and a handful of willing runners out of which to build a team.

Coach Mason points out that cross-country, quite aside from being a sport itself, is the fundamental requisite of distance running. There have been too great runners, he asserts, but want stepped the hill and dale course.

Captain Roy Severance is leading the state cross-country candidates, as is the only man with experience on the team. Henry Wyle, State's great miler, is giving every indication that he will also make a name or, named as a barrier. This is his first season on the team. Others who are working out daily are Erick Waterman, a reserve veteran, and Williams, LaPoint, Hackney, Krall, Sheldon, Maper and Clark, all sophomores.

The novice run, in which only newcomers to the sport can participate, is scheduled for Oct. 5. Caps and medals are given to the winners in this race, as well as in the all-Ohio run, set for Oct. 15. On Oct. 22 comes the first meet, with Notre Dame at South Bend.

Freshmen are also working out under Coach Mason. The yearlings will participate in both the novice and all-Ohio runs and in the state intercollegiate, which will be held at East Lansing on Nov. 13. Leading the freshmen is Brown, formerly of Detroit City College. Last year Brown took third in the state run, crowding the leaders. He is as promising a prospect as has been seen at East Lansing in some time.

The State coach points out that there is still plenty of time in which newcomers can get in shape for the meet. Coach Mason feels that with a larger variety and fresher turn out he will be able to select more promising men for his teams, and also spot the stars who are destined to shine on the sinder path during the coming winter and spring track campaigns.

M. S. C. PLANS TO FIGHT CORN PEST

Extension Department Prepares Program to Relieve Infested Area.

Michigan State college is planning an extensive educational program in the counties of southeastern Michigan where the corn borer infestation has reached the highest degree.

The entomology, farm, engineering and farm crops departments are cooperating with the extension division in putting on demonstrations of methods of clearing up corn stalks by use of newly invented stalk pulverizing machinery and harvesters which cut close to the ground. They plan to reach a large number of the townships in the infested area this fall.

At the present time, county agents of the state are meeting at the Monroe corn borer substation. Many of them are holding meetings at the Monroe corn borer substation and bringing parties of large size to see the work under way directed toward controlling the corn borer. This station is a cooperative one. Michigan State college and the Bureau of Entomology, U. S. D. A., developed the project jointly.

During the past week Professors Roy P. H. and Moseman visited the infested areas in Canada. In some of the southern Ontario areas, corn growing has almost ceased, approximately 10 per cent of a crop being reported in areas where much damage was done last fall. The district of greatest damage is adjacent to the Detroit river.

Infestation in southeastern Michigan has increased from 15 per cent to an average of 30 per cent or more. The occurrence of the corn borer is now noted as far west as Kalamazoo county, Michigan, and as far south as the Ohio valley at Pittsburgh, Pa. Without a doubt, water will figure as a great carrier down the Ohio valley and in the Mississippi valley in the near future.

ORGANIZE NIGHT CLASS IN LIFE PLANNING

Plan Class to Care for Those Whose Classes Conflict At Other Hours Given.

An evening class in life planning will be organized if sufficient applicants are received to warrant the holding of the class. It is expected that the class will be started next week.

This class is to be organized for the benefit of those students whose schedules conflict with the hours at which the present classes in life planning are held.

All students wishing to register in the course should leave their addresses at the "Tip" of the Dean of the college. They will receive notice of the date and hour of the first meeting. Dean John Phelan and Prof. Barnham will conduct the classes in the planning.

57 ENGINEERS ENROLL WITH ADVANCED CREDITS

According to recent reports from the engineering department, 57 students with advanced credits have enrolled in that department this term. Eight have found their way to Michigan State from Michigan normal schools, 14 from state colleges and the university, and 19 from our own ranks. The latter changed from other courses to the engineering department. The balance, nine, are from out of the state and came to M. S. C. through the influence of the high recommendation of this college.

Professor R. E. Marshall of the horticulture department spent the month of September in the employ of the New York Central railroad. His work was the inspection of fruit shipments at various points on the company's lines.

Men's Black Fur Coats

$55

We've just received some of the Glover Northern Pony Fur Coats as shaggy as bear, as soft and silky as seal. They don't "shed," turn color or have any odor EVEN WHEN WET.

This is the kind of coat that you'll see at Yale Bowl, Stagg Field and other big Stadiums at the games this fall.

Get your order in early at this low price. It is a wonderful buy. Come in and try one on, you'll like it.
