

ALUMNI FETED IN BIG HOMECOMING DEMONSTRATION

Over 600 Former Students Flock to Alma Mater in Glorious Homecoming.

DEAN KEDZIE HONORED

Alumni Breakfast, Luncheon and Meeting Held; Two Grid Games; Nine Parties.

By Bob McInnis

Welcomed with decorations and fraternity receptions, about 600 alumni returned to the scenes of their undergraduate days to celebrate Homecoming last week-end.

Saturday morning the Y. W. C. A. served the visitors with a waffle breakfast at the People's church. A crowd, larger than expected, turned out to enjoy this hospitality.

One of the main events of the day took place at 11 o'clock when the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the $600,000 chemistry building was held.

This year there will be a demonstration in the downtown streets last term in attempt of this kind.

TO SHOW WORKS OF OLD MASTERS

BAD BAND MEN BOTH NICE FAIR CO-EDS

By Bill Muller

Strains of horn and drum on the air again, and the streets of East Lansing resound to the echoes of military music.

The club is initiating four new members: a cornet, a trombone, drums, and a clarinet.

The initiation is proceeding after much the same schedule as last year.

This year there will be a demonstration in the downtown streets last term in attempt of this kind.

TO SHOW WORKS OF OLD MASTERS

Art Department Sponsors Exhibit of Reproductions of Great Masters.

Announcement comes from Prof. Arnold G. Scheide, head of the art department to the effect that from Nov. 12 to 23 an exhibition of reproductions in colors of paintings by the great masters will be given.

The exhibit will be open to the general public from 10 to 5 o'clock afternoons daily including Sunday and from 9 to 12 on Saturday mornings.

Paintings will be on display from five schools of painting: the Italian, the Flemish, the Spanish, the French, and the English.

The complete list of the display is as follows:

- Italian School: Angelico, Fra. The Annunciation; Caravaggio, Late. Player, de Forli; Melozzo, Archangel Gabriel; da Vinci, Mona Lisa; Lippi, Filippo; The Holy Family; Moroni, The Tailor; Raphael, Madonna Lella Colonna; Raphael, Madonna Strozzi; Titian, Madonna of the Cherries; Titian, Flora.

- Flemish School: Don. Gerard. The Herring Seller; Johnson, Cornelius. John Milton; Rembrandt, A Girl Trying on Earrings; Rubens, The Painter's Sons; VanRuyssdael, The Chase; Vermeer, Young Jacob at the Virginals.

- Spanish School: Velasquez, Infanta Margarita Teresa.

- French School: Fragonard, The Fair Haired Boy; LeBrun, Virgins; Marie Antoinette; Nattier, Madam Sophie.

- English School: Gainsborough, The Hon. Mrs. Graham; J. Hoppner, Sackville Children; Reynolds, The Age of Innocence; Reynolds, Connest Spencer; Romney, Mrs. Robinson as Perdita.

Short Course Men To Meet Wednesday

The short course office reports a total enrollment of 41 members this year.

The short course club, which is formed annually, holds its first meeting for election of officers in room 402, Ag hall, on Wednesday, Nov. 10.

COMBINE OF FRAT PLEDGES BECOMES NEW UNIT HERE

Every Fraternity Is Thought to Be In Support of Latest Organization.

OPPOSITION SUBSIDED

Combining of All Pledges Has Gradually Met Favor; Eclectics Originate Plan.

By Russell M. Daane

An inter-fraternity pledgeism association has been organized to promote fellowship between the pledges of all the fraternities on the campus.

The idea of organizing into a body of this kind was strongly opposed by some fraternities because of the belief that practically all of the members would be needed in performing individual duties for their own fraternities.

The I. P. A. is the first association of its kind ever organized on the campus of Michigan State college.

The first activity promoted by the combined pledges was a swimming meet, which took place last week.

Among the activities now being discussed by the group are a book league, the championship of which could be run off in three weeks, through the process of team elimination rather than by shocks, as in the manner of the inter-fraternity run-off.

Will Hold Court Tourney

During the ensuing winter a basketball tournament seems already to have met approval and if possible to have a large enough number of teams the tourney will no doubt be staged.

Merle Valentine, vice pledge, is special director of the association.

Atheists Hold Next Meeting

The organization sees a great benefit to the cause if every pledge group will send representatives to the meetings.

The credit for the establishment of the idea on this campus goes to the Eclectic society, which sponsored plans for an unbiased unit to promote the best interests of every fraternity here.

Frosh Writer Bemoans Scarcity of Features

A story, a story, my kingdom for a story! There's one, Where? "Just around the corner," replies Mr. Meritless Editor.

Any way, how can one write features when people and things just won't be featureistic? Why doesn't some man bite a dog? Every "Hints for Feature Writers" book suggests that that would make a good story, but it just isn't being done that way.

It was really disappointing that no ghosts or witches appeared over last week-end.

Practicality and sobriety largely are apparently furnishing interesting revelations quite worthy of the effort of a feature writer.

Honor Dean

DEAN FRANK S. KEDZIE

In honor of both Dean Frank S. Kedzie and his father, Dr. J. C. Kedzie, the new chemistry building will be named in the Kedzie Chemical Laboratory.

From 1888 to 1894, Dr. Kedzie conducted a series of experiments in growing sugar beets in southern Michigan.

Dr. Kedzie began his long career at what was then Michigan Agricultural college in 1883 as one of the first professors of chemistry and first head of the department.

Dean Frank Kedzie came to this vicinity at the age of 6 years, and has spent practically his entire life here at East Lansing.

OFFER LECTURES ON INTERNATIONALISM

Rev. Edwin W. Bishop to Give Series of Five Lectures at People's Church.

A series of five lectures on Christian Internationalism will be given by the Rev. Edwin W. Bishop, of Lansing, in the student parlors of the People's church, at 7:30 on Tuesday evenings.

These lectures are sponsored by the committee on the school of religion of the Michigan State college and the People's church cooperating, and are directed toward the educational and religious benefit of the students of the college.

President Dirks Calls Important Meeting Tonight to Consider Committee Plans

Another step in the progress of Michigan State will be undertaken tonight when the Student Council meets to consider plans to be submitted by a committee on expansion of the membership of the council.

According to word received yesterday, the committee composed of President George Dirks and Stanley Harbord of the council, is formulating plans which will increase the present elective membership of six men to one of ten representatives.

The growth of the college, and the development of various organizations on the campus is taken to be the logical reason for a desire to expand the student council, thereby giving more representation to the ever increasing student body.

The nature of the additional members, or the group, which they will represent, will not be divulged until after action is taken tonight.

At present Michigan State has a student council composed of six elective members, three being seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore.

R. O. T. C. Route is Through East Lansing; Mayor Baker to Review Troops.

Led by the first and second bands, and all volunteering ex-service men from the campus, from East Lansing and from surrounding small towns, the route of the college R. O. T. C. will parade the streets of East Lansing on Armistice day.

The course of the parade will be along Grand River up Oak Hill, and down from the front of the city hall by Mayor Baker and college officials.

As has been the custom in previous years, this event is to be sponsored and led by the American Legion, however, control of the affair on the 11th will be under the East Lansing post, and not the downtown post as formerly.

Classes Meet Thursday

Classes meet as usual in spite of the convocation report circulated that it would be an all-college holiday.

WANTED INDIVIDUALITY

In an article asserting the viewpoint of the Episcopal church, Charles W. Woods recently declared that the youth of today must be provided with a conscience. He branded the younger generation as "moralless gamblers" who are "getting too much fun per sin."

What the youth of today lacks is individuality, not a conscience. Lying in an age when the smoke of countless factories and the demands of big business are exacting their greatest tolls from the individual qualities of the human race, and packing them into compact, productive means, youth as well as old age is losing the color of individuality. Today, old age as well as youth has been warped and twisted into a conglomerate mass adhering to an equal number of fantastic privileges of the present age.

Today is not an age of "revel of youth" as is so often asserted. The youth of today is so often asserted. The well-worn groove and furrows along the usual frenzied race, madly endeavoring to keep pace with contemporaries. Modern educational institutions are fashioning men and women from a pattern. The rough edges of personality and individual distinction are smoothed off in the whirl of college life today.

The youth is too readily aware of his surroundings, too sensitive to the fashioning and manners of his companions. Refreshing corners into the charmed circles are taken up by the veritable merry-go-round of affairs and whirled into the whirl of the typical college man.

Rather than an individual without a conscience, the modern youth is minus superhuman courage. Whether a man's personal inclinations lean toward corn whiskey or pink tea, an assertion is unlikely from the victim of modern ways. He may have his own personal convictions on the issue, but to assert them is a breach of current day methods. Inherent characteristics are cast to the winds in the face of collegiate frivolity. Many a college student suffers from a burning conscience and a sensitive soul, only to defeat his conscience finally to satisfy the demands of exulting companions.

The problem of modern civilization and of modern educational institutions is to battle fads, lines, custom and the hundreds of things

The president's picture has appeared in the paper at least three times since school started seven weeks ago. It says nothing of the many times he has appeared on the platform before the student body.

Campus Forum

Yes! A great many students are too shy with their ideas. Many classes are dull that would not be so if the students talked a little more and the professor a little less.

Many times the student who is willing to contribute voluntarily finds himself rapidly ignored by the professor. There is little in that to get his mind punched into the student's effort. Frequently the conscientious volunteer finds he is making himself conspicuous for his silence. He comes to feel that the other students in the class are bored by his efforts. No student WANTS to be boring. I think that the greatest cause for inactivity lies in the fact that the student is rather continually talked at by his instructor, whereas he goes. As a matter of self preservation, he must at all times be ready to absorb knowledge as a damp sponge absorbs water. And before he can do this he must be squeezed a little before the absorbing stops and digestion begins. It is hard to get ready to "send" while you are "receiving." Viewing from the absorbing end, I believe these devices help.

Remembering that repetition is effective in teaching, a call for volunteers on questions that the class is sure to be able to answer builds up confidence. When a worthwhile question is answered voluntarily, the answer may be correct but misunderstood or inaudible to many in the class. If the instructor repeats or summarizes the answer it encourages volunteering. An endless discourse is a wonderful anesthetic. It is easiest to keep mentally and physically awake when one has something to do. The instructor is an artist who can keep a class active while he talks.

I am sure that very often inattention is due not to wilful indolence.

Would you know the president of your own college if you saw him? This may seem like a rather ridiculous question, but one of the freshmen traveling on bus a few days ago was picked up by a car in which President Butterfield was riding and failed to recognize him. The driver of the car asked the potential gentleman a green question: if he recognized the gentleman with him. The youth took a long look and replied, "Yes, you're Dean Kester." No official statement has been given as to whether the joke was on President Butterfield or Dean Kester. What we are wondering is how anyone could ever reach the point of a joke who makes such apparent good use of his powers of observation.

No other cigarette ever had so many millions of friends

WHEREVER you travel, by sea or by land, in places of work or palaces of pleasure, you find the friends of Camel. And since the art of increasing life's comfort through smoking was discovered, no other cigarette ever made and kept so many friends.

Why does Camel lead the world? Because only the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are bought for Camels. Because Camel is given a blending that, regardless of price, can be found in no other cigarette. Because the world's largest tobacco organization spares neither cost nor effort to make Camel the utmost in cigarettes.

Camel rewards its friends with never-ending peace and satisfaction. Through the day and into the night, it's simply impossible to smoke enough Camels to tire the taste. We invite you to answer, now, the world's most popular smoke invitation—Have a Camel!

The Social Whirl

Edited by Dorothy Shoemith

Social activities of every form were in evidence during the past week-end due to Homecoming with its round of parties, open houses, smokers, teas, and football games.

Eight of the fraternities celebrated the event by holding their fall Phi Deltas at the Lansing Country club. Danes were sponsored by the Phi Omegas and Epsilon Omegas in their fraternity homes, while the Tri-Omicrons held sway in the Little Theatre. Ag hall was the scene of the Alpha Gamma Rho party while the Hermians danced in the Armory.

Delphia

The first annual pig roast, which was served in star party style, was held at the house Saturday evening. Alumni present at the affair were Arthur Boyer and George Dobbin, Jackson, H. C. Cooper, C. G. Alder and R. H. Morrish, Lansing; A. C. Schoolmaster, Milford; C. J. Overmeyer, Boston, Mass.; Fred Humeson, Sparta; William Tichenor, Vicksburg; George Brown, Coldwater; C. H. Blatchford, Brighton; Donald Stark, Marshall; M. C. Hudell, H. Waterbury and William Cutler, ppnt; Ben Dobbin, Greenville; H. Woods Denton and C. R. Gotton, Lansing; Roy Pennington, East Lansing, and Wayne Sutton, Moreau.

Honorary members present were Prof. Plant, Messrs. E. A. Gee, H. Coaling and W. W. Dight.

Ruth Baldwin and Lynn Wolfinger spent the week-end at the house.

Theta

A prize in the form of brass candlesticks was won by the society for selling the most tags for the women's lounge fund of the Union.

Among the alumni who spent the week-end at the house were Florence Banchorn, Mary Welch and Alice Hayes, Detroit; Helen Barrett, Coopersville; Helen Marie Jones, Monroe; and Mrs. Isabel Bauer (nee Janet Maynard), Saginaw.

Lois Blankenship of Detroit was a week-end guest of Mary Ella Fahmy.

College Residence

Charlotte Curtis spent the week-end in Edinboro.

Lois Benjamin has moved to the Kappa Delta house.

Jean Stedman and Lois McRivley, Battle Creek, were guests of Marion Saxon over the week-end.

At Home

The following alumni were guests at the house and attended the fall term party: Horace Thomas, Dudley Ditchard, Cyrus Field, Harry Barrows and Kenneth Crane.

Miss Grimes, Awar

Helen Grimes, head of the physical education department of women, left Sunday for Des Moines, Iowa, where she was called because of the death of her father.

Kappa Delta

Alumni who spent the week-end at the house included Imogene Carlisle, Greenville; Freda Gilmore, Dowagiac; Evelyn Paul, Chicago; and Bernice Mitchell, Perry.

The society fall term party will be held in the Union Saturday, Nov. 17.

Herman

Celebrating the tenth anniversary of the Herman society, the fall term informal was staged in the Armory Saturday night and was attended by 60 couples, many of whom were alumni. The fraternity colors of orange and black with ferns, comprised the decorations, while music was furnished by the Michigan state Collegians. Enjoying the affair as patrons were Ed and Mrs. T. J. Sherburne and Prof. and Mrs. E. S. King. During intermission an open house was held at the fraternity home.

Alumni who were guests at the house for the week-end were:

J. H. Baynes, W. E. Norberg, L. A. Carter, C. J. McDonald, T. Miller, H. Hunter, D. D. Wilson, W. Wilson, R. Patten, W. Patenge, R. Barron, H. E. Johnson, A. Downer, M. Waldorf, M. Waring, S. Vaughn, F. Mans, M. Draper, A. Tobey, F. W. More, H. J. Zorman, B. J. Gustafson, S. Wolfe, R. Spencer and H. Hansen.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Forty-five couples attended the annual fall term party in Ag hall Saturday evening at which Satterley's orchestra furnished the music. Professor and Mrs. Horner and Profes-

Co-ed Edna Says:

Some people certainly are idiots—myself included. They do the most inexcusable things, and then blame it on the other fellow. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could have a world where everybody took all the blame for everything he did, and nobody ever did such fool things as most of us do? And, gee, wouldn't we get tired of the other people!

Well, the alumni are gone. We gave them a warm welcome, a good game, and nice weather. What more could anybody expect of a school? In some cases, we even gave them our beds and slept on davenport, and window seats. I think the ones that did that were the ones who also also gave our guests the warmest godspeed.

Hospitality is all right in its place. But most of us draw the line when it comes to sleeping on a hard board.

But we'll get it all back sometime. After I graduate, I'm going to come back here every single chance I get and I'm certainly going to get even! Walt and see.

But, honestly, I'm awfully glad they came. In most cases they left their trunks and suitcases that much richer for their coming—which is really our main object in life anyway.

You see, I'm getting to be a cynic. Just when you think you are "biting the bullet," along comes a big fat and luscious son of your pedastay. And then you turn your back on the world and become a prouch. It's the approved thing.

Ray Thayer, Carl Moore, Intel Miller, French Miller, Phillip Wagner, Dennis Strong, Ralph Hinkley, Donald Strong, Ray Thomas and George DeLack, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Bissinger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. P. Groshock, Mr. and Mrs. W. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. M. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. G. Julian.

Patrons for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. G. Julian, Capt. and Mrs. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tower and Prof. O. Mason.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Verlyen Moore, Dorothy M. Wood, Emma Dorothy Leland and Marjorie Davis were at the house for Homecoming.

A tea was given at the chapter house Saturday in honor of the Soror and Theta alumni.

Collingwood

Guests of the house over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dimmers, Hillsdale; Louise Turner, Chicago; Verna Aiswyn, Detroit; Ruth Hunt, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gibson and Pauline Riggle, Grand Rapids; Mrs. A. N. Richards, Mt. Clemens.

Bobby Burns spent Saturday in Ann Arbor, Abbie Stiff in Howell, Pamela Loft in Coldwater and Biddy Gibson in Ann Arbor.

Upsilon

Guests of the house over the week-end were Claude Playter and William Comstock, Grand Rapids; Lemarr Wood, Detroit; Kenneth Harris and Ripper, Flint; Clifford Conrad, Berrien Springs; and Max Hood, Benton Harbor.

Columbian

Homecoming guests at the house were Harry Wakefield and Donald Jacques, Monroe; Phelps Vogelsang, Grand Rapids; William Pangborn, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ritchie, and Dick Padlock, all of Detroit; J. R. Winger, Plymouth; J. C. Cash, Manistee; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haeberorn, Benton Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Daley, Coldwater; Dick George, Flint; Stanley Kruener, Laramie, Wyo.; and Judge Nibbert, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Women's Building

The annual fall term party will be held in the ballroom Nov. 13.

Delta Sigma Phi

George Benson of Niagara Falls visited the house over the week-end.

Phycan

A fall term alumni party was held Saturday evening at the Women's club house in Lansing with about 35 girls acting as hosts to the active and pledges of the fraternity. Nearly 60 couples were present. Music was furnished by the Meadowbrook Country Club orchestra of Jackson. Dean and Mrs. Wren Gilmer, Prof. and Mrs. C. B. Doble and Prof. O'Neal Mason were the patrons.

Among the alumni at the house over Homecoming were: Garrett Arnold, Pontiac; Leigh Smith, Birmingham; Roy Aker, Clarkston;

Don Ovaft, Midland; Ralph and Al Christensen, Escanaba; J. C. Horgeon, Milford; Floyd Hazel, South Haven; Walter Ewald, Detroit; and W. G. Knickerbocker, Grand Rapids.

The pledges of the fraternity will be hosts to the actives at a smoker tomorrow evening.

R. E. Potts of Three Oaks and Judge Anderson of Poy Poy were guests of their sons over the week-end.

Clarke Day Medill of Midland was the guest Friday and Saturday of his brother.

Resists Corrosion

THIS picture, taken in the salt marshes near Kearny, N. J., shows two lines of 30-inch Cast Iron Pipe replacing pipe made of other material. The alternate exposure to the action of salt water and air is a severe test.

While the pipe shown in the picture is subjected to unusual corrosive influences, all underground pipe must be able to withstand corrosion to a greater or less degree. Cast Iron Pipe has this quality. It does not depend on its coating to resist rust; the material itself is rust-resisting. The first Cast Iron Pipe ever laid in service today at Versailles, France, after two hundred and sixty years' service.

STATE POINTS FOR GAME WITH HASKELL INDIANS HERE NOV. 20

Centre Fracas Shows Increased Power at Tackles But Defense Against Air Attack is Weak; Red Men Bring Team That Has Not Tasted Dregs of Defeat This Season; Good Line Needed to Halt Line Smashing Type of Offense.

By Dale B. Stafford
Fresh from a win over Centre, Michigan State college's football team began preparation Monday for the Haskell game Nov. 20. For the first time since Sept. 24 the team has a full schedule. Indications are that the time afforded the coaches will be needed if the Haskell scalp is to be torn from the red men.

Air Defense Weak
The eleven did not look so good on breaking up the air game though both of Centre's touchdowns resulted from forward passes.

FERRIS CRUSHED 33-0 BY STRONG STATE FRESHMEN

Work of Yearlings Revelation to Fans; Backfield Tears Institute Line to Bits.

Showing a concerted offense that could not be denied, the Michigan State college freshmen ran over Ferris Institute 33 to 0 in a game in the stadium Saturday morning.

More than 1,000 spectators witnessed the fray. At the time was the outcome of the affair in doubt, the yearlings being masters of the situation throughout.

The freshmen showed ability to gain through about every offensive medium known. Line smashers, off tackle plays, end runs and forward passes were used directly.

Subs Finish Game
A team of second string freshmen played most of the last period and held the Ferris team at bay. Before the game here the Big Rapids eleven had made an enviable record, whipping both Mt. Pleasant Normal and Olivet. A close game was lost to Ypsilanti Normal. The impressive victory here marks the freshmen as superior to anything the M. I. A. offers.

The showing of the entire freshman eleven was a revelation. The work of the backfield was made great only by the showing of the line. Time after time Schan, Leonard and Turner, husky line smashers, hit the Ferris forward wall for five or ten yards. Leonard was also good for long gains around the end.

Lewis Outstanding End
Dorine, who piloted the freshmen eleven, ran the team well. His great open field running was of the type that made Grange famous. Morse, Lansing youth who took Pinniger's games of the Lawrence, Kan., outfit having been scouted by Spartan coaches.

Indiana Good Scorers
So far this season the Indians have run rough shod over every foe. Last Saturday Loyola university's veteran team succumbed before the sweeping Haskell offense 36 to 6. The increased strength of the Indiana is shown when it is stated that Loyola outscored them last season.

Loyola won its game Saturday without the services of its pair of great tacklers. "Tiny" Roebuck, 265 pounder who stands six feet five, was out with a broken foot, while Tom Stridham, leader of the team, was called to his home in Oklahoma by the untimely death of his father.

McLain Nielsen
Some method must be evolved for State to halt Haskell's great line-smashing game. The attack is centered about Miles McLain and George Levi. The former, an Irish Indian, is far ahead of any player in the land in scoring. His record, this year may stand for many years to come.

Lack of a 200 pound fullback will be the biggest handicap to State. The game Haskell plays will require a heavy running back to halt it.

CO-ED BOWLING TO GET UNDERWAY THIS WEEK

The interclass teams for bowling have been announced by Ruth Elford, W. A. A. bowling manager. The senior team consists of Mary Mixer, Beatrice Beck, Hazel Burge, Ruth Norton, H. Hurdick, Ferno Suterland, Elizabeth Henderson, and Martha Stein. Members of the junior team are Ellen Clements, Ruth Simpson, Dorothy Hartman, Elsie Pangborn, Marian Greene, Elva Bowen, Emma Hyde and Ruth Baxton. Sophomores making the team are Margaret Hubbard, Faye Gilie, place shortly after the start of the game, played remarkably well.

Leads were the outstanding end on the ball. Small ranged close behind but did not quite show the defensive ability of Lewis. Doyle and Jordan played well at tackle, and C. Smith and L. Smith at guards. Carpenter, work at center also pleased many.

Leonard was the high point man with two touchdowns and two points after. Turner followed closely on his heels with two touchdowns.

MODERN CO-ED ON PLAYGROUND OF BOTH SEXES

Michigan State can boast that it has a place where both men and women can indulge in the game where the click of ivory balls is an outstanding feature.

The Olympic Recreation club, under the College Manor, is a place where both men and women students bowl, play straight rail, and pocket billiards. The management has arranged a schedule allowing the ladies certain hours for the use of tables and alleys. If the men do not follow the custom, usually thought to take place in a billiard club, namely "cussing" and other profane practice, he may secure permission to while away the time over his favorite green table during this same period. The motto of the club is an exclusive place for exclusive people and judging by all appearances, it is that.

With our fair co-eds coming into their own on the bowling alleys, the men will have to keep up their artistic pace, if they are to maintain superiority in knocking down the maples. The high score turned in this year by a co-ed is 177, while the records reveal that more than a dozen girls have an average around 145. This is even above the average score of the average men bowlers.

S. A. Marcus of Bay City, better known as "Steve," is proprietor of this establishment, which is fast becoming the recreation center for both sexes. He reports many girls are becoming adept as cue artists.

Irene Austin, Agnes Baynes, Ruby Newman, Carolyn Parry, Leilah Horning, and Beatrice Comstock. Only two freshmen co-eds were fortunate enough to be made members of the team, and they are R. Hubbard and Shirley Mixer.

The tournament will be held in the Olympic Recreation parlors between 5 and 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

INTER-COLLEGE CROSS COUNTRY COMES SATURDAY

Several Strong Teams to Be Entered in Annual Event; Fresh Enter for State.

By Ted Smits

Plans are now virtually complete for the annual state intercollegiate cross country run which will be held Saturday over the Spartan course in which all state colleges, excepting the varsity teams of the University and State, will compete. Last year the run was capped by Ypsilanti Normal, headed by the brilliant Leroy Potter, who set a new course record of 26:26. This year matters may be different, with three Ypsi stars, including Potter, missing from the normal team. Kalamazoo college and Western State normal both have good teams, and Detroit City college and Ypsilanti are bound to be contenders.

Coach Morton Mason's freshmen squad has those men that have every chance of being near the front in Saturday's run. They are Loren Orrs of Detroit City college, and Roberts and Rowden. Brown looks as a good bet to win the run, since he appears much faster this year. If the freshmen can find two other men who can be in any sort of a scoring position, the yearlings will be able to humiliate several state teams.

The Michigan State reserves will also compete in the run. Last year the reserves gave Ypsi a close race, but although this year's varsity is stronger than the 1935 team, the reserves lack well-balanced strength. Brown, who last year took a third in the state run while wearing the colt. The varsity and Marquette university will stage a dual run Saturday over the local course.

STUDENT COUNCIL EXPANSION SEEN

It has been felt for some time that an expansion was needed to make the council commensurate with the growth and development of the school. Larger institutions in the country have a council, which bears members representing the athletic association proper, its working unit, the varsity club, and divisional members, according to the number of students enrolled in respective schools of the college.

Spectators and visiting runners will be able to see a few of the leading cross country runners of the middle west in action in the varsity run. State has a trio of sturdy athletes in Captain Severance, Wylie and Waterman, and Marquette has two outstanding stars in Captain Shimko and Pillegrer. For the last two years State has defeated Marquette in cross country and this year's meet promises to be thrilling.

It is seen here that with the addition of a liberal arts curriculum, a business administration school, a school of medical biology, and a tentative school of physical education, that the student opinion is more diversified than when this institution was primarily an agricultural one. In those days student opinion was somewhat uniform, but with these developments in curricula, and the general expansion at hand, a different council plan is foreseen as a need.
